Sec. 7. This act shall be liberally construed to the end that the purposes hereof may be made effective. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional.

Sec. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such emergency:

The peace, safety and welfare of citizens of this State are dependent upon immediate relief from the payment of principal or installments thereof due upon such assessments, taxes, and bonds, by reason of the fact that the present economic crisis has made the owners of property upon which such lien falls unable to pay the principal due thereon. The property, as a result of the depression, has neither a reasonable existing sale value, nor does it at present furnish satisfactory or reliable security for raising funds for the payment of these bonds. If this act does not take effect immediately, these persons may lose their homes as a result of proceedings arising out of the nonpayment of these sums, the burden of their support and maintenance will have to be assumed by the State or by local taxation, to the great injury of the State or local government of this State. When a moratorium is declared upon such payments, it would be grossly inequitable and would cause financial ruin to guarantors not to extend to them similar relief. It is therefore necessary that the temporary relief given by this act be immediately extended and this act should therefore take effect immediately."

If, at such election, a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the dissolution of such fire district, then the board of supervisors shall enter a finding to that effect upon its minutes and thereafter, the said district shall be deemed to be dissolved.

Whenever the commissioner shall suspend or revoke a license issued to a licensee pursuant to this act, he shall forthwith file with the Division of Corporations a written order to that effect and his findings with reference thereto containing the causes and the reason supporting the suspension or revocation, and forthwith serve upon or mail to the licensee a copy thereof at his last known address.

Sec. 9. A new paragraph is hereby added to section 16 of said act, to read as follows:

The commissioner may, whenever in his opinion any person is violating or is about to violate any provisions of this act or any rule or regulation established pursuant to the authority of this act, order such person in writing to desist and refrain from such violation. Whenever the commissioner shall believe from evidence satisfactory to him that any person has violated or is about to violate any of the provisions of this act, or any order, license, permit, decision, demand or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, the commissioner may bring an action in the name of the people of the State of California in the superior court of the State of California against such person to enjoin such person from continuing such violation or engaging therein or doing any act or acts in furtherance thereof. In said action an order or judgment may be entered awarding such preliminary or final injunction as may be proper.

Sec. 10. Section 17 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 17. The commissioner shall without previous notice make an examination of the affairs, business, and records of each licensee at least once each year, and may make such an examination oftener if the commissioner has received any complaint or complaints against the licensee to be examined, or if the commissioner has reason to believe that such licensee is violating any of the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations established thereunder by the commissioner.

If any such examination discloses that the licensee examined has violated any of the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations established thereunder by the commissioner, the commissioner may charge and collect for any such examination, the actual amount of salary or other compensation paid to the person or persons making such examination, plus the actual amount of expenses reasonably incurred in connection therewith. If the cost of any such examination is not paid by the licensee within thirty (30) days after receipt from the commissioner of a statement of such cost, together with a statement showing the violation disclosed by such examination, the commissioner may maintain an action for the recovery thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 11. Section 18 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. Any personal property broker licensed under this act may charge, contract for, collect and receive on any loan of five hundred dollars ($500) or less, or on the first five hundred dollars ($500) of any loan in excess of that amount, such charges as may be agreed upon in writing between the parties as compensation for the use of the amount borrowed and as compensation for services rendered by the personal property broker or any other person in connection with the loan and incident to transacting the business of making loans of the type contemplated by this act. The amount of charges agreed upon shall be in full compensation for services rendered and or costs and expenses incurred in taking the application, in ascertaining and establishing the identity of the applicant, in investigating the character, reputation, employment, financial responsibility, credit rating and other circumstances of the applicant and any co-makers or endorsers, in inspecting, listing and appraising any security offered, in examining the title thereto and searching public records for liens and encumbrances thereon, in preparing the note and the other instruments in connection with the loan, in receiving, receipting for, crediting, allocating and recording payments thereon and keeping all records pertaining thereto; and in full compensation for all other services incident to transacting the business of making loans of the type contemplated by this act, and for losses on loans not collected. Such agreed charges may be included in the amount of the note. A schedule of approximately equal installment payments may be agreed upon, but the maximum charges agreed upon shall not exceed an amount computed at the rate of three per cent (3%) per month on that part of the unpaid balance of the loan up to and including three hundred dollars ($300), and two and one-half per cent (2½%) per month on that part of such unpaid balance in excess of three hundred dollars ($300) and up to and including five hundred dollars ($500). For the purpose of computing maximum charges permitted hereunder, a month shall be any period of thirty (30) consecutive days, and in computing such charges for a fraction of a month, each elapsed day shall be considered as one-thirtieth (1/30) of a month. No charge of any kind shall be collected or received unless a loan is made. No husband and wife or any other borrower or borrowers shall be induced or permitted to split up or divide any loan or loans or to become obligated under more than one contract of loan at the same time if the effect of so doing will result in higher charges than would otherwise be permitted under this section. No broker shall collect or receive at any time from or at the expense of any borrower as brokerage or otherwise on or in connection with any loan, any amount or consideration which when combined with that paid or to be paid to the lender by or at the expense of the borrower, will make the total cost of the loan to the borrower more than the maximum charges permitted under this section. If any licensee shall collect or receive any charges in excess of those permitted by this section, the contract of loan shall be void and no person shall have any right to collect or receive any principal or charges whatsoever thereon; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to deny any licensee the right to charge the statutory fees of any public officer for acknowledging, filing, recording and releasing in any public office any instrument securing the loan or in connection therewith, insurance premiums on agreed hazards in connection with the loan, and expenses (including attorney's fees and costs) incurred after default in the payment of any amount due or after the breach of any agreement between the borrower and the licensee.

Relative to memorializing the President and Congress to increase the payments for old age assistance and aid to the blind made by the Federal Government to the several States under the provisions of the Social Security Act.

WHEREAS, The present contributions made by the Federal Government to the State of California are inadequate to permit the State of California to increase the allowance for old age assistance and aid to the blind to $50 a month; and

WHEREAS, The people of the State of California believe that $50 a month is a reasonable amount to permit the aged and the blind to maintain suitable and respectable standards of living; and

WHEREAS, An increase in the allowance to the aged and to the blind to $50 a month would, without increased assistance from the Federal Government, constitute a destructive financial burden to the countries of the State of California, and, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly. That the President and Congress of the United States are hereby respectfully urged to enact as quickly as possible such suitable legislation as will provide that the Federal Government shall pay to each State of the United States an amount equal to at least one-half of the total amount of the payments made by that State for aid to the aged and to the blind, not counting so much of such expenditure with respect to any individual for any month as exceeds $10, and as it further.

Resolved. That the President and Congress are respectfully urged to understand and appreciate the seriousness of a condition which is peculiar to only two States in the United States whereby great numbers of aged people are coming to California because of that provision in the Social Security Act which makes them eligible for a pension after only five years residence, a condition which will before long seriously affect the financial condition of California unless the Federal Government recognizes that this is a Federal and not a State obligation and makes such increases in its allowances to California as are necessary to meet this obligation, and be it further

Resolved. That the Governor of the State of California is hereby requested to transmit copies of this resolution to the President and Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and member of the House of Representatives from California in the Congress of the United States; and that such Senators and Representatives from California are hereby respectfully urged to support such legislation.

WHEREAS, It has been estimated that noxious weeds are costing the United States $3,000,000,000 every year; and

WHEREAS, Little organized effort has been made to control such noxious weeds; and

WHEREAS, A definite effort made in the State of Idaho to check such weeds has clearly demonstrated that the work can be successfully accomplished; and

WHEREAS, There was introduced in the House of Representatives by D. Worth Clark of Idaho, a bill known as H. R. 4009, which has as its purpose enabling each State to furnish financial assistance as far as practicable for the control and eradication of noxious weeds within such States and the appropriation of $50,000,000 by the Federal Government to aid in such work; and

WHEREAS, H. R. 4009 is general in its application and is well designed to accomplish the purposes desired; and

WHEREAS, Not only will the eradication of noxious weeds in the State of California and other States of the Union bring inestimable benefit to agriculture, and as a result to all citizens of this State and other States at large, but it will in addition result in the employment of numerous men who are now unemployed and thereby hasten economic recovery; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of California, jointly. That the President and the Congress of the United States are respectfully urged to enact legislation proposed by Bill H. R. 4009, and that Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, is also urged to expedite consideration favorable to said bill; and be it further

SEC. 2. A new part is hereby added to Division V of the School Code to be known as Part V, and to read as follows:

PART V—RETIREMENT OF EMPLOYEES BY SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

5.1100. In any school district in which the employees of the district are not entitled to the benefits of a pension or retirement system maintained by a city, city and county, or county in which said district, or a part thereof, is located, the governing board of such district shall have power, in its discretion, to submit to the qualified electors of such district, and upon petition signed by not less than ten per cent (10%) of such qualified electors, such governing board shall submit, to said qualified electors of the district, the proposition of establishing a plan for a district retirement salary under the provisions of this article, to be paid by the district to all teachers fulfilling the requirements of said plan in the public schools of such district, and to such other employees of the district as the said governing board may determine, or, in the case of a petition, such other employees as may be specified in such petition, who may be retired under such plan as provided in this part, and to provide, out of funds of the district, a portion of the cost thereunder, including expenses incident to the administration of the plan, subject, however, to the provisions of this Part V. The word "teachers" as used in this Part V shall mean and be construed to mean all employees of school districts in positions requiring certification qualifications.

5.1101. The proposition of establishing such plan may be submitted to the electors of the district at any general or special election called and held in such district, and governing bodies of school districts desiring to submit such proposition to the electors of their respective districts are authorized to call and hold such elections.

If the governing board calling such an election is the governing board of more than one school district and calls elections in two or more districts to submit to the electors of the respective districts, on the same day, in the same territory, or in territory which is in part the same, the question whether a district retirement plan shall be established in such respective districts, such elections may be consolidated by order of such governing board. Within the territory affected by such order of consolidation, the election precinct polling places, and voting booths, shall, in every case, be the same; there shall be only one set of election officers in each such precinct; the proposition to be voted upon within the respective districts may be set forth on one ticket or ballot; all proceedings had in the premises shall be recorded in one set of election papers; and such election shall be held in all respects as though there were only one election.

Such election or elections may be consolidated with any other election under the provision of an act entitled, "An act to permit the consolidation of elections and to provide a procedure therefor," approved June 11, 1913, as amended.

The election shall be called by posting notices, signed by a majority of the governing board of the district, in at least three public places in the district, or, if more than one district is affected, then in at least three public places in each of the districts affected, not less than ten days before the election. If there is a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, or districts, notice must be published in such a newspaper at least once, and at least ten days prior to the election.

In all respects not otherwise specified herein, the election shall be called and held, the returns thereof canvassed and the result announced in the manner provided by law for the holding of elections for the purpose of authorizing bonds of such school district or districts, so far as the provisions of such laws are applicable.

There shall be printed on the ballots to be used at such election the proposition: "Shall the governing board of (here insert the name of the district or districts under the control of the board submitting the proposition) school district (or districts) be authorized to establish a plan for a district retirement salary for the teachers and such other employees of such district (or districts) as such governing board may determine". To the right of such proposition shall be printed the words "Yes" and "No" with voting squares.

If, at such election, a majority of the voters voting on such proposition cast their ballots in favor of the proposition, such governing board shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to establish a district retirement salary for the teachers and for such other employees of the district as may be determined.

If a majority of such voters voting on the proposition cast their votes in the negative, such governing board shall not actually such proposition until within a period of six months after the date of such election.

5.1102. Every teacher and every other employee of any school district for which such plan for district retirement shall be adopted as herein provided, who is employed by such district at the time of the adoption of such plan, and who is not entitled to be subject to the benefits of such district retirement plan, shall be entitled to the benefits and subject to the burdens of such retirement plan. Every teacher employed in the public schools of the district after the passage of the provisions of this part by the governing board of the district, and such other employees as the boards may determine, shall be subject to the benefits and burdens of this part.

5.1103. That such plan shall not be adopted or established until the governing board, after such inquiry and hearing as it may direct, shall find that the prospective contributions of said teachers and other employees and the benefits provided by the said plan, are substantially in accordance with the more recent generally prevailing rates of such contributions in public institutions which have established pensionment systems, and that such plan is in accordance with sound business practice and with recognized actuarial methods.

That such plan may provide that the retirement salary shall be a predetermined monthly sum, or that all benefits under the retirement feature of the plan shall be based upon the monthly salary for each year of future active service in the district earned by said employee up to the date of retirement and upon the average monthly salary earned by the teacher or other eligible employee during the year immediately preceding the adoption of said plan and the number of years of past active service of said employee in the district, and subject to such provisions as may be made in said plan for minimum benefits, but no employee with less than ten years' service in the district prior to normal retirement age shall receive the benefit of any such minimum; provided, however, that in no instance shall such retirement benefits be based upon or allowed for any amount of salary in excess of the sum of $500 per month.

That such governing board, after the adoption of such plan, shall at regular intervals, each not exceeding a period of five years, secure a general survey and actuarial report of said plan, and said board shall from time to time amend said plan in such manner as may be found to be advisable to meet changed conditions, or, as in the light of experience, may be considered necessary.

A plan under which, as a part thereof, the district establishing the plan agrees to pay to employees who may become entitled to retirement salaries within a specified period, not exceeding fifteen years, after the establishment of such plan, a specified sum or sums, which, during the life expectancy of such employees, will be approximately equal, in the aggregate, to the aggregate difference, during such life expectancy, between the maximum salary paid to employees in the respective class or classes of the retiring employees, and the salaries paid to beginning employees in such class or classes, shall be construed to comply with the requirements of this section.

For the purpose of providing funds which may be necessary to make the payments required by any such district retirement plan, district taxes shall be levied and collected annually by such respective districts at the same time and in the same manner as other district taxes are levied and collected. Such tax shall be in addition to any other district tax now or hereafter authorized by law, and shall not be considered in fixing maximum rates of tax for school district purposes.

5.1104. Every district retirement plan adopted pursuant to the provisions hereof, shall provide that only those teachers and other employees who have served as teachers or employees of the district for at least 20 years of full time service immediately preceding such retirement, including all years so served prior to July 1, 1937, and who shall have reached a minimum age specified in such district retirement plan, which age shall be not less than 60 years, shall be entitled to a district retirement salary; provided that such plan may provide for the retirement of teachers or other employees on account of disability after 15 years of service immediately prior to the retirement, the proportion of the disability retirement salary to the full retirement salary to be specified in the plan. Anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding, absence from service by reason of a leave of absence granted by the governing board of the district shall not be construed to interrupt the years of continuous service required by this section or by any district retirement plan adopted pursuant to the provisions hereof. Provided, that time of service may be counted in the aggregate and fractions of years amounting to whole years may be counted as whole years when payments by the teacher or other employee have been made for all of the time so counted.

5.1105. The governing boards of the districts shall in all cases determine the teachers and other employees who are entitled to retirement salaries, as provided in this part, and make and keep a list, which said list of such teachers and other employees shall be known as the retired list. For the purpose of making such retired list the boards may make testimony and examine witnesses under oath which said oath may be administered by any member of the board.

5.1106. The governing boards of the school districts shall have power to make all necessary and proper rules and regulations in aid or furtherance of the provisions of this part and in order to carry out and administer such provisions. A majority of the governing board of the district shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business under this part.

5.1107. All incidental expenses, including actual and necessary clerical or other help, incurred in carrying out the provisions of this part shall be paid out of the said fund at the same time and in the same manner as other expenditures are paid from district funds; but the members of the said governing boards shall discharge the powers, duties, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction conferred or imposed upon said governing board under this part without extra or additional compensation.

5.1108. The governing board of a district establishing such retirement plan, shall, as a part of the plan, provide for the administration of the funds and the payment of retirement salaries by a "District Retirement Board" to be composed of not less than three nor more than seven members, who shall serve without compensation, and upon which retirement board the governing board of the district shall be represented and the teachers and any other employees of the district subject to the plan shall be represented in proportion to the respective numbers of such teachers and other employees covered by the plan, by representatives chosen by such teachers and other employees by secret ballot. All members of such retirement board shall serve for such terms as may be specified by the governing board in establishing the plan.

5.1109. The governing board of any district establishing such a plan must transfer, at least once each year, to the district retirement board established in such plan all sums in the district retirement fund, after paying incidental expenses, and thereafter said district retirement board shall have charge and control of such funds and of the payment of all retirement salaries and annuities payable therefrom. Said district retirement board shall have power to invest such funds in the manner in which funds under the control of the public school teacher's retirement salary fund board, established by Part IV of this code, or any successor to said board, may be invested.

5.1110. The retirement salaries provided for in this act shall be in addition to any other retirement salaries received by any teacher under Part IV of this division or as may be otherwise provided by law.

5.1111. The retirement salaries provided for in this act, for all employees other than teachers, shall be in addition to any other retirement salaries that may be provided by law.

Sec. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and it is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety that this law shall go into immediate effect, and therefore this act shall become effective immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: The School Code was amended by the Legislature at its 1935 session to permit governing boards of school districts to discharge teachers who have reached the age of 65 years, which amendment will become effective September 1, 1937. Many boards of education desire to take advantage of the provisions of said amendment, and to avoid the hardships which will follow the discharge of many teachers aged 65 years or more and to avoid the possibility of placing such teachers and their families and dependents on relief rolls of their respective counties, such boards desire to establish district retirement plans for their employees, as authorized herein. This act requires that the establishment of such plan be submitted to the vote of the people of the school district, and many municipal and school district elections are to be held during the months of April and May, 1937, at which such propositions can be submitted to the voters of the respective districts, at a large saving to the taxpayers of the respective districts."

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California, at its fifty-second regular session commencing on the fourth day of January, 1937, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that the Constitution of said State be amended by amending sections 2 and 34 of Article IV thereof, to read as follows:

First—Section 2 of Article IV is hereby amended, to read as follows:

Sec. 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall be biennial unless the Governor shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature, by proclamation, in extraordinary session. All sessions, other than extraordinary, shall commence at noon, on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the adjournment of its members. No bill shall be introduced in either house after 40 days after the commencement of each session without the consent of three-fifths of the members thereof nor shall more than two bills be introduced by any one member after 40 days after the commencement of each session.

Second—Section 34 of Article IV is hereby amended, to read as follows:

Sec. 34. The Governor shall, within the first 30 days of each regular session of the Legislature submit to the Legislature, with an explanatory message, a budget containing a complete plan and itemized statement of all proposed expenditures of the State provided by existing law or recommended by him, and of all its institutions, departments, boards, bureaus, commissions, officers, employees and other agencies, and of all estimated revenues, for each fiscal year of the ensuing biennial period; together with a comparison, as to each item of revenues and expenditures, with the actual revenues and expenditures for the first fiscal year of the existing biennial period and the actual and estimated revenues and expenditures for the second fiscal year thereof. If the proposed expenditures for the ensuing biennial period shall exceed the estimated revenues therefor, the Governor shall recommend the sources from which the additional revenue shall be provided.

The Governor, and also the Governor-elect, shall have the power to require any institution, department, board, bureau, commission, officer, employee or other agency to furnish him with any information which he may deem necessary in connection with the budget or to assist him in its preparation.

The budget shall be accompanied by an appropriation bill covering the proposed expenditures, to be known as the Budget Bill. The Budget Bill shall be referred immediately into each house of the Legislature by the respective chairmen of the committees having to do with appropriations, and shall be subject to all the provisions of section 15 of this article. The Governor may at any time amend or supplement the budget and propose amendments to the Budget Bill before or after its enactment, and each such amendment shall be referred in each house to the committee to which the Budget Bill was originally referred. Until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted, neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor, or appropriations for the salaries, mileage and expenses of the Senate and Assembly. No bill making an appropriation of money, except the Budget Bill, shall contain more than one item of appropriation, and that for one single and certain purpose to be therein expressed.

In any appropriation bill passed by the Legislature, the Governor may reduce or eliminate any one or more items of appropriations of money while approving other portions of the bill, whereupon the effect of such action and the further procedure shall be as provided in section 16 of this article. Section 29 of this article is hereby repealed. In case of conflict between this section and any other portion of this Constitution, the provisions of this section shall govern, except that any item of appropriation in the Budget Act, other than for the usual current expenses of the State, shall be subject to the referendum. The Legislature shall enact all laws, necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this section, and may enact additional provisions not inconsistent herewith.

WHEREAS, Material of great interest to the members of the Legislature is contained in this report and is deserving of frequent reference; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That pages 1 to 11, inclusive, of said report dealing with matters of general concern affecting the revenue system, and pages 29 and 30 thereof concerning certain tables comparing revenues and expenditures and summarizing the revenues handled by the board, be printed in the Senate Daily Journal for this day.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Williams, adopted.

Report.

In pursuance to the above resolution, the following excerpts from the Biennial Report for 1935-1936 of the State Board of Equalization were ordered printed in the Journal:

MATTERS OF GENERAL CONCERN AFFECTING THE REVENUE SYSTEM.

Present Tax Structure Sound.

Changes in the revenue system, made largely upon recommendation of the State Board of Equalization, have combined with better economic conditions to give California a sound tax structure.

This improvement is to be noted especially in State financing, kept the close relationship between the central and local governments makes it possible for us that the entire fiscal structure is sounder than it has been in several years.

If present sources of revenue are left undisturbed and if public expenditures are kept reasonably in check, there should be a substantial surplus in the State treasury within the next two years.

Proposed Changes Require Scrutiny.

Numerous measures will be urged at the present legislative session, proposing amendment or repeal of existing tax laws, or enactment of new revenue statutes. A regard for the public interest requires careful examination of these proposals.

Thorough comprehension of basic facts is essential to the effective solution of any human problem. This is particularly true in the field of taxation, where haphazard experimentation is apt to be fraught with disastrous results.

Until we can assure ourselves that a new tax law is really a better one, we shall be much better off without its enactment. No sound and lasting basis for effective revenue measures until we know what the effect will be on the functions of government.

Unwise Changes Disturb Business.

Under modern conditions, the public has come to expect a great deal of government, and all business is oriented accordingly. Political and State functions are reflected immediately in unsettled commercial conditions. Tinkering with tax laws has an unwholesome effect not only on the Government but on private business as well.

Report Gives Essential Facts.

Realizing this, the State Board of Equalization has endeavored to present in the following biennial report data setting forth in general the activities of the past two years, particularly from the standpoint of the general operation of the present revenue laws.

During the biennium the board has developed steadily as the central taxing unit of the State Government. As an indication of this increased activity, combined with the substantial gain in revenues resulting from improved economic conditions, reports of the various divisions show a gain of more than $117,000,000 in revenue assessments for the 1934-1936 biennium, as compared with the previous two-year period.

Revenues Register Substantial Gains.

For the eighty-sixth fiscal year (July 1, 1934, to June 30, 1935), revenues assessed by the board amounted to $143,873,795 21. Of this amount, $2,763,761 65 or 1.92 per cent, was expended for costs of administration. For the eighty-seventh fiscal year (July 1, 1935, to June 30, 1936), the total revenues assessed amounted to $172,879,325 31, of which $3,095,159 99 was spent for administration, or 1.79 per cent of the assessments.

Revenues and expenditures under the jurisdiction of the board for the biennium included:

Revenues	Percentages:
	Administrative expenses to total expense	Revenues

Indicative of the general upward trend in returns from taxes administered by the board, the records show that collections under the retail sales tax amounted to $60,538,150.53 during the eighty-sixth fiscal year and, with the addition of the use tax, jumped to $73,044,256.01 in the eighty-seventh fiscal year. The present forecast is an annual income in excess of $80,000,000 from this single source of revenue.

Sales Tax Meets Costs of Education.

This estimated income is approximately the amount required for the State's outlay for the support of common schools and for the maintenance of the University of California, the State colleges and other State establishments for public education.

This form of tax now has become a well-established part of the revenue system, not only in this State but also in a substantial number of other states. The fact that the per capita yield, after making due allowances for differences in per capita income and for exemptions, is higher in this State than in any other jurisdiction, is evidence of efficient administration.

Field Work Brings Results.

The high yield and effective administration have been largely the results of the organization of a program of field audits and investigations. It is essential that this phase of the work be further developed. The funds heretofore appropriated have been insufficient to provide the staff of auditors required by the large number of taxpayers and great volume of work. A relatively small increase in staff would produce additional revenues many times its cost and would permit more effective administration of these tax acts.

Further Sales Tax Exemptions Unwise.

Exemption of food products, through the 1935 amendment, has done much to remove such irritation as the buying public may have felt because of the sales tax. Those, who by reason of limited resources, have been required to spend a relatively large share of their income for food doubtless have found this exemption of appreciable benefit.

Other exemptions will be advocated during the current legislative session. The wisdom of allowing them is subject to serious question. Individually many of the proposals may appear to have merit, but their enactment would tend to impair materially the effectiveness of the tax.

If the sales tax is to continue as a successful revenue measure, it must be kept on as broad a base as possible. Its principal value as a source of public fund is the universality of its application. Extending to practically all retail sales of personal property, it is producing a large amount of revenue at a low rate. This can continue only so long as the base of the tax is left undisturbed.

One additional exemption will undoubtedly lead to another. Soon others will follow, supported by the argument that they are fully as meritorious as those allowed previously. Exemptions, reasonable enough when considered individually, will form a vicious cycle destroying the usefulness of the measure, and will plunge the State back into the "tax crisis" from which it was rescued through the adoption of the Sales Tax Act.

Use Tax Protects Local Merchants.

The Use Tax Act has accomplished its purpose of placing California retailers on equal terms with their out-of-State competitors. Adopted in 1935 upon recommendation of this board, the act applies only to the use of property which has not been reached under the sales tax. It imposes the same rate on the sales price of the property as would have been collected from the retailer had the sales tax been applicable.

Thus, the device of buying property out of California to avoid paying the sales tax is no longer effective. An equivalent use tax must be paid. Local merchants are not deprived of any business because of a tax advantage accruing to their out-of-State competitors.

More than $2,500,000 has accrued directly from the use tax during the year and a half since the law has been in force. But, as above indicated, much more revenue is attributable to the use tax. Trade, which otherwise might have been diverted from California retailers, has been retained here and has swelled sales tax collections substantially. Moreover, since the tax rates are identical and but one report is used for both sales and use tax payments, taxpayers frequently make no distinction between the gross receipts subject to the different taxes. Much "sales tax" revenue is doubtless, strictly speaking, collected under the use tax law.

Change in Use Tax Unwise.

Changes will be advocated in the use tax. The Legislature will be told that the law is of doubtful validity or that it is productive of hardships in certain instances.

After reviewing the entire problem, and obtaining competent legal advice, the board is convinced that the California Use Tax Act will avoid successfully the pitfalls of unconstitutionality besetting any measure dealing with goods which have moved in interstate or foreign commerce. The act has been drawn to conform to the United States Supreme Court decisions holding similar laws constitutional and, if left undisturbed, should be able to withstand the assaults of those who seek to have it declared invalid.

Inevitable harm may result if there is any tinkering with the use tax at this stage of developments. No court has held the use tax unconstitutional, and legal advisers say that, in its present form, the law should be upheld by the United States Supreme Court, under a ruling consistent with recent decisions. There is every thing to gain and nothing to lose in retaining this law upon the statute books without substantial amendment.

Gross Income Tax Inadequate.

Repeal of the sales tax and the use tax, as well as the net income tax, has been urged. In replacement, a gross income tax is proposed. Nothing in the experience of any other State, compared with what has transpired in California, lends support to such a change.

Estimated revenues from the sales and use taxes alone during the next biennium are in excess of $183,000,000. Income tax revenues for the same period have been estimated at $33,000,000, making a total of more than $216,000,000.

Advocates of the change cite the success of the gross income tax in Indiana. In that State, with a population approximately half that of California, the tax on gross income yields less than $17,000,000 per year, yet the rates are as high as are feasible, and apply to foodstuffs exempt from tax here.

Comparison on basis of population would indicate a yield of $25,000,000 annually from a similar tax in California. Making allowance for trade farmers might increase this to $50,000,000, although there is no assurance of such a yield. There would be, at most, a biennial revenue of $100,000,000 from the gross income tax to replace $216,000,000. A deficit of more than $100,000,000 would result.

This brief review of the situation should serve to caution those interested in the solvency of government of the undesirability of scrapping our present tax laws in order to substitute a gross income tax. Moreover, administrative economy would be greatly increased, because instead of limiting our income to some 180,000 retailers as we now do, the number of individual taxpayers would be multiplied many times. The tax yield would be cut in half, but the expense of administration would be doubled.

Other Tax Yields Increased.

Gratifying results have been obtained by the board from other tax increases, as well, entrusted to our administration. During the past biennium the yield from the motor vehicle fuel tax has jumped from $39,022,103 for the year ended June 30, 1935, to $46,847,585 for the second half of the two-year period, with allowance for difference in rates. No other State approaches our yield from gasoline taxes in proportion to the number of vehicles licensed for operation.

Motor vehicle transportation license tax yields have also shown marked gain. In the first year of the biennium the 3 per cent gross receipts tax on motor vehicle operators was $1,128,650. This increased to $2,011,477 for the year ended June 30, 1936. Part of the gain is attributable to extension of the tax to out-of-state operators taxed prior to January 1, 1935, under a different law, but, nevertheless, California has established an enviable record for the amount of tax obtained. No State with a comparable statute has found it as productive of revenue.

Liquor Tax Revenues Gain.

During the first half of the biennial period covered by this report, the only special excise tax applicable to alcoholic beverages was the tax at 2 cents per gallon on beer and wine. This amounted to $1,573,537 for the year ended June 30, 1935. With the addition of the excise tax at 80 cents per gallon on distilled spirits, the revenue from liquor taxes rose to $9,228,225 in the following year, making a total of $10,801,762 for the biennium. At the conclusion of the first year's experience with respect to the distilled spirits excise, it was found that 9,166,237 gallons had been taxed. This means that California collected a tax on 1,482 gallons of distilled spirits for every inhabitant of the State. The nearest approach to this figure is that for Illinois, where 1.07 gallons were taxed per capita.

California's distilled spirits tax collections are so much greater than those of any other State, in proportion to population, that the comparison points to the definite conclusion that we have had the most effective administration of the tax.

Liquor Licenses Bring More Fees.

Liquor license fees collected during the first half of the biennium amounted to $3,725,261 and, during the following year, increased to $4,464,714, making a total of $8,189,975 for the two year period. A substantial part of this gain was due to changes, effective July 1, 1935, in the amounts of fees and dates of payment, but some of the additional revenue is attributable to a greater number of licenses.

The board does not regard increased revenue as a prime objective in liquor license administration. Consequently, in the absence of upward adjustment of fees, further substantial gains from this source are not anticipated.

Inasmuch as this report is concerned with revenue matters, no attempt will be made here to discuss the social problems involved in the sale of alcoholic beverages. It may be observed, however, that any design to augment revenues by increasing the number of places at which such beverages may be obtained is subject to serious criticism.

New Utility Assessments Included.

For the first time in the history of the State, his report includes schedules of ad valorem assessments made by the board, covering approximately one-seventh of the taxable wealth in California. Most of this property is owned by public utilities (railroads, car and express companies, gas and electric companies, telephone and telegraph companies); but intercounty pipe lines and ditches, regardless of the character of ownership, are also assessed by the board. In pursuance of a constitutional amendment (Article XIII, section 14) adopted in 1933, the first valuations were made in 1935. Upon undertaking this work, the board found itself faced with three major problems:

- (1) Valuation of the various utility companies, pipe line or ditch systems as a whole;
- (2) Segregation of the value of the component items of property in the several taxing jurisdictions; and
- (3) Equalization of these assessments with those made by local assessors so that common tax rates might be applied equitably.

Utility System Valuation Essential.

From the very nature of their business, public utilities hold in single ownership vast properties of varied types located in numerous taxing jurisdictions. This circumstance was doubtless the underlying factor responsible for the constitutional provision that such holdings should be centrally assessed, even though taxed in the same manner as other property.

Recognizing the need for finding the system value of a utility in order to determine the worth of the component parts, the board has had valuation studies made with respect to each utility as a whole. Similar studies had been completed earlier for the purposes of comparing gross receipts tax burdens on utility property and ad valorem tax burdens on common property, under the system of separation of sources prevailing prior to amendment of the Constitution in 1933.

Thus, although much work of an exacting nature was involved, this task did not present an unfamiliar problem. Access was had to the earlier studies, which were brought down to date, and the board was enabled to find system values for the taxpayers whose properties it must assess.

Apportionment of System Value Difficult.

The second problem was mechanically a much greater task than the first. Aside from the difficulty of determining to what extent each of the properties contributed to the value of the system containing it, the board was compelled to ascertain the exact location of these properties, assigning each to the proper taxing jurisdiction.

Even under most favorable conditions, apportioning for taxation a seventh of the wealth in the State, comprised in the system values of about 400 companies, many with far flung activities, would present a serious problem. Under the conditions actually existing, the task was appalling.

Almost Five Thousand Tax Districts in State.

In addition to 58 counties and 281 cities, there are in California 2,820 elementary school districts, 315 high school and junior college districts, and 1,496 special districts of various kinds, making a total of 4,970 distinct taxing entities. Despite occasional consolidations, the number is increasing and soon will exceed 5,000.

An unfortunate feature of these districts, aside from the fact that they are so numerous, is that one does not necessarily leave off where another begins. On the contrary, they overlap in a most irregular manner. Occasionally, a single piece of property will be included in as many as twelve districts, each with distinct power to tax. Instances of seven or eight districts overlapping are not at all uncommon; four or five are the rule.

State Has 11,862 Different Tax Rates.

To meet this situation, the board has devised a system whereby the State is divided into "code areas" each including a geographical unit in which all the property is subject to a common group of taxes. There are 11,862 such areas in California. This is merely another way of saying that there are almost 12,000 different tax rates applicable to property within the State.

By indicating on the assessment rolls which we prepare, the "code area" for each parcel assessed, we have simplified the task of apportionment, but the fact remains that there are too many separate taxing jurisdictions. Only in the City and County of San Francisco is but one "code area" found. At the other extreme, there are 4,882 "code areas" in the county of Los Angeles alone.

Legislation tending to reduce the number of taxing jurisdictions would be of benefit not only to taxpayers but to those engaged in tax administration. From the taxpayer's standpoint, eight or ten tax rates, each determined independently and applying to a single piece of property, offer a serious threat. From the administrator's standpoint, this divided responsibility leads to misunderstanding and makes efficiency difficult to attain.

Values Equalized Throughout State.

When the State Board of Equalization was created in 1879, its principal constitutional function was the equalization of assessed values between the counties. At that time the State, in common with the counties, derived its principal support from ad valorem taxes. The State rate applied to the values determined by county assessors.

Equalization between individual assessments within counties was left to local boards, but, after this function was performed, the assessment level for one county might vary considerably in comparison with that in another. An unequal distribution of the State tax load would result, hence, the necessity for a State Board of Equalization.

In 1911, however, State ad valorem taxes were abolished with the inauguration of the system of separation of counties whereby capital, utility and other property was taxed exclusively for State purposes. The need for equalization between counties ceased, and for 25 years the function lost its practical significance.

State ad valorem taxes have never been resumed, but now that the utility property is assessed by the board and entered on local tax rolls, the necessity for equalization on a state-wide basis has returned. During the interval of a quarter of century, large discrepancies in assessing standards and practices had developed among the local assessors.

Extensive studies were made to determine the level of assessment of property valued by county assessors, and, after public hearings, the board entered on the revision of assessment rolls of 34 counties, through percentage adjustments of 1935 valuations as follows:

County	Percentage	County	Percentage
Alpine	- 10	San Bernardino	+ 50
Butte	+ 10	San Joaquin	+ 16
Contra Costa	+ 27	San Mateo	+ 85
Del Norte	+ 10	Santa Barbara	+ 15

Orange	+ 35	Yolo	+ 10
Plumas	- 10	Yuba	+ 5
Riverside	+ 50

- indicates decrease

+ indicates increase

No change was made in the assessment rolls of those counties not listed.

Following further studies and hearings, the board found it necessary in 1936 to equalize three county tax rolls by increasing the assessments as follows:

County	Percentage
Fresno	20
Tehama	10

In those cities which have separate assessors for purposes of municipal taxation, special studies were made to determine the variation between the level of county and city assessments, and, after public hearings, orders were made to adjust accordingly the level of public utility assessments for municipal taxation. The details of this work appear in schedules appended to this report.

Change Has Benefited Taxpayer.

Definite benefit to taxpayers generally may be found from the revision of the California tax system following adoption of the 1933 constitutional amendment. Not only has the State taken over school costs amounting to some $40,000,000 annually, financing these from the proceeds of the sales tax instead of from county ad valorem levies, but there has been returned to local tax rolls utility property assessed at approximately $900,000,000. Annual ad valorem taxes on this utility property amount to $30,000,000. This means that tax burdens of at least $70,000,000 per year have been removed from common property owners. Moreover, the new law has resulted in greater uniformity in assessments and assessment practices.

Local Tax Officials of Great Help.

The board is most grateful to county assessors and other tax officials throughout the State for their splendid cooperation during the biennium. Without their generous assistance, much that has been accomplished for the betterment of the revenue system could not have been achieved. The people of California are most fortunate in the intelligent devotion to public service which characterizes the work of their local tax officials.

Expenditure Limitation of Proven Value.

After four years' experience with expenditure limitation, the wisdom of its adoption in 1933 is demonstrated. When relief to the property taxpayer was planned through transfer of school costs and return of utility property to the local tax base, it was recognized that, as the burden of local taxes became less oppressive, the pressure to increase expenditures would grow.

In the absence of complete data as to actual needs of each of the local units of government, the expenditures for the fiscal year 1932-33 were taken as a starting point. The basic plan contemplates that an annual increase not exceeding 5 per cent should suffice to meet the need for additional expenditures.

During the past biennium there have been fewer instances of expenditures in excess of the limitation than were noted in the preceding two years. In many cases the occasion for exceeding the limit arose from cooperation with the Federal Government in public works projects. Now that local authorities have become accustomed to the limitation, the tendency to exceed it seems to have decreased.

Removal of any restraint would be followed inevitably by substantially greater expenditures and higher taxes. There is unremitting pressure on local taxing authorities by many well organized groups to spend more money out of the public treasury. These advocates of projects requiring appropriations are so intent on the benefits to be derived that they give little thought to the ultimate effect on the taxpayer. Frequently, there is no organized opposition and the funds are spent.

If, on the other hand, the taxing authorities can point to a limitation which can not be exceeded save in case of real emergency, much can be accomplished to combat this tendency to spend first and think later.

Limitation Methods Need Revision.

Unless the Legislature enacts new laws on the subject, there will be no expenditure limitation after June 30, 1937. Although the acts passed in 1933 and 1935 have been of definite value, it is to be hoped that 1937 may bring some improvement in this type of legislation.

Continuance of the limitation on a percentage basis, without adequate facilities for a review of all budgets, may be expected to result in a large number of automatic increases to the maximum allowable. Always safeguarding democratic control of government, some provision could be made for more effective review of proposed expenditures of public funds.

State Tax Administration Efficient.

As already shown, California taxes, administered by the State Board of Equalization, yield more revenue than is realized relatively in any other State in the Union. This productivity of tax laws is achieved at comparatively low cost.

The ratio of total revenues to total administrative expense as shown in the table on page 29 of this report is 1.8497 per cent. When liquor licenses are eliminated from revenues, and liquor regulation from expenditures, thus confining consideration to actual tax administration, the percentage drops to 1.4—a record among tax commissions throughout the country.

Low administrative cost has not been achieved, however, at the price of efficiency. The revenues produced show conclusively that our tax assessment and administration have been exceptionally effective. The board finds itself indebted in no small degree to an efficient staff whose cooperation has made these results possible.

BUREAU OF PRINTING, SUPERVISOR OF DOCUMENTS,
SACRAMENTO, March 30, 1937.

Hon. Joseph A. Beck, Secretary, Fifty-second California Senate, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. BECK: In accordance with provisions of section 695, of the Political Code, the State Printer, on June 10, 1935, transmitted with his account, a surplus of $638.48, for deposit in the legislative printing fund for the account of the California Senate.

Subsequently business has been transacted for the Legislature and copy of our account for publications and funds accrued in sales thereof, is attached hereto. Our books and accounts have been examined by the Division of Budgets and Accounts, whose auditors find a deferred liability of $582.45, which will be paid following our collection and shown in our next accounting.

Our issuance, in 1935 and 1936, to subscriber clients in legislative bill service derived sufficient funds to meet all expenses of labor, inclosure and transmittal with a surplus over and above same of $1,312.98, which was divided equally between the Assembly and Senate. The proportionate share credited to the Senate is shown above.

Conforming with requests from committees in the Fifty-second Legislature, the State Printer has installed modern equipment to improve service in the Legislative Bill Room. An account of expenditures is conveyed herewith and we are anticipating adoption of a resolution which will confirm them.

Thanking you for your cooperation and assistance in expediting business connected with the Fifty-second Legislature and assuring you that we shall endeavor to convey business-like operation in service for the Fifty-second Legislature, I am

Very truly yours,

ROBERT A. GARDINER, Bureau of Printing.

School Code section 2.2102 comprising a part of the unified school district law enacted in 1935 (Statutes 1935, Chapter 773. School Code sections 2.2009-2.2160) provides that probationary employees having three years or more service in a district having an average daily attendance of less than $50 and which merged into a unified school district having an average daily attendance of $50 or more shall become permanent employees of the unified school district upon serving therein for one year and being reelected for the succeeding school year. A number of teachers employed in certain unified school districts resulting from the merger of districts with an average daily attendance of less than $50 will lose their positions at the close of the current school year because of the operation of School Code section 2.2102. The enactment of this act as an urgency measure prior to the close of the school year will enable such teachers to continue in the employ of the districts in which they are now employed.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate, Sacramento, California:

3817. In all cases where real estate has been sold, or may hereafter be sold to the State for delinquent taxes and the State has not disposed of the same, the person whose estate has been or may hereafter be sold, his heirs, executors, administrators or other successors in interest shall, at any time after the same has been sold to the State and before the State shall have disposed of the same, have the right to redeem such real estate by paying to the county treasurer of the county wherein the real estate may be situated, the amount of taxes, penalties for delinquency and costs due thereon at the time of such sale; and also all taxes that were a lien upon said real property at the time said taxes became delinquent; and also all unpaid taxes of every description assessed against the property for each year since the same, as shown on the delinquent assessment rolls in the then permanent custody of the county auditor; or, if not so assessed, then upon the value of the property as assessed in the year nearest the time of such redemption, and also all costs and expenses of such redemption, and penalties as follows, to wit:

Eight per cent per annum, if redeemed within five years from July first of the year of sale; if not redeemed within five years from July first of the year of sale, eight per cent per annum for a period of five years and at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month thereafter to the time of redemption. The penalty shall be computed from July first of the year of sale upon the amount of taxes delinquent at the time of sale, and upon the amount of each year's taxes in like manner, reckoning from the first day of July of the year when the property would have been sold for the taxes of that year, if there had been no previous sale.

The county auditor shall, on the application of the person desiring to redeem, make an estimate of the amount to be paid, and shall give him triplicate certificates of the amount, specifying the several amounts thereof, which certificates the redemptioner shall deliver to the county treasurer, together with the money, and the county treasurer shall give triplicate receipts, written or indorsed upon said certificates, one to the redemptioner, and two to the county auditor, who shall deliver one of the said receipts to the State Controller.

null and void, and all right, title and interest acquired by virtue of the tax sale, shall cease and determine.

The county treasurer shall settle for the moneys received as for other State and county moneys.

The State Controller shall, upon request of the auditor, issue a receipt which may be recorded in the recorder's office of the county in which said real estate is situated, in the book of deeds, and the record thereof shall have the same effect as that of a deed of reconveyance of the interest conveyed by such deed or certificate of sale.

This act shall also apply to State lands sold by the State when the full amount of the purchase price has not been paid to the State therefor, after the deed to the State, provided for in section 3785 has been filed with the Surveyor General; provided, however, that one of the receipts showing the redemption of such land shall be delivered to the Surveyor General who shall issue his receipt to the redemptioner; and provided further, that no certificates of redemption shall be issued by the county auditor until he has first ascertained from the Surveyor General that the land has not been disposed of by the State.

SEC. 12. Section 3817a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3817a. In all cases where real estate has been sold, or may hereafter be sold to the State for delinquent taxes pursuant to the provisions of section 3771 of this code and where the person whose estate has been or may hereafter be sold, his heirs, executors, administrators or other successors in interest shall, contemporaneously or prior to the payments hereinafter provided, also pay the current State and county taxes due on said property for the fiscal year during which such payment shall be made, such person, his heirs, legal representatives or other successors in interest, shall at any time after the same has been sold to the State pursuant to the provisions of section 3771 of this code and prior to the sale at auction provided for in section 3771a of this code have the right to extend the period during which such real estate may be redeemed and to postpone the date of sale by auction as provided by section 3771a of this code and the execution of the deed to the State as provided by section 3785 of this code, for additional periods of one year each, by paying to the county treasurer of the county wherein said real estate may be situated the following amounts for the following periods, respectively: (1) for extending the period of redemption for the first period of one year, by paying to the county treasurer a sum of money equal to the amount of the taxes, penalties for delinquency and costs thereon for which said real estate was originally sold to the State together with a sum equal to penalties on the aggregate amount of said taxes at the rate of 8 per cent per annum; (2) for extending the period of redemption for each additional year thereafter, by paying to the county treasurer a sum of money equal to the taxes, penalties for delinquency and costs thereon for each of the second, third, fourth and fifth years of delinquency, respectively and consecutively, together with a sum equal to the penalties on the aggregate amount of said taxes at the rate of 8 per cent per annum; provided, however, that if any of the payments, as hereinabove in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section provided, shall be made on or after the first day of July of any year and the State and county taxes on said property for the fiscal year next preceding such payment have not theretofore been paid, then such person must contemporaneously with the payments hereinabove provided also pay the said State and county taxes for the fiscal year next preceding such payment together with the penalties and costs due thereon.

The county auditor shall, upon request, issue his certificate in triplicate showing the amounts necessary to be paid as hereinabove provided, one copy of said certificate shall be delivered to the person making such payment and upon payment being made a receipt shall be indorsed upon said certificate by the county treasurer evidencing payments as compensation for the use and occupancy of said real estate and to be applied as a credit if, when and as redemption is made, as in this subdivision hereinafter provided. The county treasurer shall deposit all payments so made to the same fund in which moneys received upon redemption are deposited.

The county auditor shall keep accurate records of all payments made hereunder in a book kept for that purpose, said records to show the name of the person making said payments, the amount or amounts paid, the certificate number, if any, and the year or years of delinquency together with a description of the property.

Such payments shall not be deemed a redemption of such real estate nor affect the right, title, or interest in the State thereto, but shall postpone, for the period or periods aforesaid, the time when said real estate shall be deemed to or may be disposed of by the State and the moneys so paid shall be deemed and considered as compensation for the use and occupancy of said real estate; provided, however, that if redemption shall thereafter be made pursuant to the provisions of section 3817 of the Political Code, the amounts so paid to extend said periods of redemption and to postpone the sale provided for by section 3771a of this code and the execution of the deed provided for in section 3785 of this code, together with interest thereon at the rate of 7 per cent per annum computed from the dates of said respective payments to the date of redemption, shall be credited on the amounts to be paid for such redemption.

Sec. 13. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the emergency are as follows: Due to the widespread depression, many taxpayers have been unable to pay their taxes and to redeem their property from sale to the State for delinquency. By permitting redemption without penalties, many taxpayers will be enabled to resume their property, restore the same to the tax rolls, and thereby add resources for the support and maintenance of government. It is also necessary in order to reduce much of this property which does not at the present time appear on the assessment rolls that it be assessed according to present day values. If this is not done immediately taxpayers whose property does not now appear on the assessment rolls will be unable to take advantage of the rights granted by this act.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 17.

Relative to memorializing the President and Congress of the United States to permit the Transcontinental and Western Air Lines, Inc., to enter San Francisco.

WHEREAS, The Transcontinental and Western Air Lines, Inc., applied for permission to institute and maintain passenger and express schedules between Albuquerque, New Mexico, and San Francisco, California; and

WHEREAS, By a decision on February 8, 1937, this application was denied by the Interstate Commerce Commission; and

WHEREAS, The decision states that the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Air Mail Act of 1934 can not authorize an air mail carrier to institute off-line passenger and express service which would in any way compete with similar service available upon another air mail route and that the proposed San Francisco-Albuquerque service would be competitive with similar service on air mail routes of other carriers; and

WHEREAS, The Air Mail Act of 1934 as so construed denies to the San Francisco Bay region logical and proper expansion of two air routes connecting it with other areas and cities of the United States while at the same time those provisions permit such service to other Pacific Coast cities; and

WHEREAS, As a result of this decision the Air Mail Act of 1934 permits the San Francisco Bay region service by only one air line, namely, the United Air Lines; and

WHEREAS, The United Air Lines maintains only one transcontinental route which is practically a straight line from San Francisco and Oakland to New York via Salt Lake City, Cheyenne and Chicago, causing any passenger who wishes to reach a city off this straight line to be routed either southerly via Los Angeles or northerly via Seattle, or to make a connection at some point along the eastern route with another air line, all of which alternatives necessitate broken schedules and loss of time; and

WHEREAS, It appears that the present law denies to the San Francisco Bay region the right of direct mail, express and passenger service to Kansas City and other cities of the South Central West; and

WHEREAS, The establishment of such a direct service would be of great value both to the San Francisco Bay area and to these cities in providing a faster interchange of commerce and mail between nationally important centers; and

WHEREAS, In direct contrast to the situation in the San Francisco Bay region the city of Los Angeles is served by six air lines, of which three are directly competitive on parallel routes terminating eventually in New York; and

WHEREAS, There are only three transcontinental schedules daily in and out of San Francisco and Oakland on their one air line as against 12 transcontinental schedules daily in and out of Los Angeles; and

WHEREAS, In the dissenting opinion of four of the commissioners in the above mentioned decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission there is excellent expression of the discriminatory phases of the Air Mail Act; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California, jointly. That the Legislature of the State of California respectfully urges and memorializes the President and the Congress of the United States to take such steps as are proper to have the law amended to permit logical and nondiscriminatory expansion of air mail, passenger, express and freight service to and from the city of San Francisco and the city of Oakland, major seaports of the United States; and be it further

Resolved. That certified copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate of the State of California to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission and to all the Senators and Representatives from California in the United States Congress.

(b) No lease, contract, or agreement for the removal and extraction of oil, gas and other hydrocarbons from the tidelands, overflowed and submerged lands of the State shall hereafter be made, except as provided in this act, and any such lease, contract or agreement shall be subject only to the provisions hereof.

(c) Whenever the Director of Finance has reason to believe that oil, gas or other hydrocarbons are being lost or are about to become lost from within and beneath any tidelands, overflowed and submerged lands in the manner described in subsection (a) of this section, he shall forthwith, with the approval of the Governor, publish notice in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and one newspaper published in the City and County of San Francisco describing such lands and declaring his intention to proceed with respect thereto as in this act provided.

He shall thereafter promptly proceed in the manner provided herein for the extraction and recovery of the oil, gas and other hydrocarbons within and beneath the lands so described.

(d) The Legislature hereby declares that loss of oil, gas and other hydrocarbons is occurring or is about to occur on the lands described in section 2 hereof, and the Director of Finance shall, as to such lands, proceed forthwith in the manner provided in this act as if notice thereof had been published or provided in subsection (c) of this section."

IN RE: ADMINISTRATION OF STATE SALES TAX ACT.

DEAR GOVERNOR: PURSUANT to our conversation held in your local office two or three weeks ago in regard to the problem confronting the State, and also the creditors, relative to delinquent sales taxes, I submit herewith a statement of our solution of the problem.

You will recall that I directed your attention to the fact that the State is suffering considerable loss in its income by reason of delinquent sales taxes where the merchant who is delinquent has become insolvent and gone into bankruptcy, or made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. This situation applies particularly to the larger centers such as Los Angeles and San Francisco. I think you will agree with me that to permit this situation to continue is unfair to the State.

is unfair to the other merchants who are paying their taxes, and it is an undue burden to the creditors who are extending credit and whose merchandise is being used to pay the delinquent sales taxes, and the creditors are left holding the parcel-garbage.

The situation in this respect has become so disturbing to the members of the Board of Trade, the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association, the San Francisco Wholesale Board of Trade, and the San Francisco Credit Men's Association, and other credit organizations throughout the State, to remove the existing situation, and effect the following solution:

(1) That the State Board of Equalization put into effect a procedure similar to that of the State of Ohio, requiring that during 1936 be furnished in addition and delivered to the customer at the time of the sale. (This can be done under our existing Sales Tax Act without the necessity of any amendment.)

(2) That the Sales Tax Act be amended so that anyone who fails to comply in making it at least a misdemeanor punishable by fine and a jail sentence of not to exceed six months for any merchant so failing to comply in paying his sales tax.

The organizations to which I have referred have given careful thought to this problem, and believe that the foregoing suggestions are a reasonable part of the existing trouble in connection with the collection of the sales tax. In this connection, they have written to two of the larger department stores in Ohio, inquiring as to the success of the method of issuing stamps, and very favorable replies have been received from these large department stores.

To give you some idea of the losses that are being suffered by the State, and also even greater losses by the creditors on account of delinquent sales tax, we attach hereto the following:

(1) A list of some of the assignments made to the Los Angeles Wholesale Board of Trade for the benefit of creditors, where the department stores are particularly large in proportion to the amount of the assets, and where in some instances the State suffered substantial losses, and in all instances the creditors suffered substantial losses. (This list does not include losses on trading stamps where the delinquent sales tax has been sent out in all proportion to the revenues.)

(2) Copy of a letter from Mr. Grant H. Wren, attorney for the San Francisco Board of Trade, listing a few of the assignments and bankruptcies in San Francisco in which the State suffered substantial losses on account of delinquent sales tax.

(3) A photostatic copy of a letter from H. & S. Paine Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, a large department store in that city, with reference to the method employed in that State of requiring the purchase of sales tax stamps.

(4) A photostatic copy of a letter from the Halle Bros. Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, a large department store in that city, with reference to the method employed in that State of requiring the purchase of sales tax stamps.

We feel that this problem is of sufficient importance to merit your careful consideration, and we know that if these problems can be solved by you that you will receive the warm commendation of the membership of not only the organizations referred to above, but of all credit interests throughout the State of California.

Thanking you in advance for the consideration which I know this matter will receive at your hand, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

(Signed)

FRANK C. WELLER

Craig and Weller, Attorneys at Law,111 West Seventh Street, Los Angeles, California.

Attention: Mr. Frank C. Weller.

DEAR MR. WELLER: With further reference to my letter of March 16th, Mr. Alexander of the accounting department has made a list of the following cases in which the State Board of Equalization has suffered severe losses by reason of the fact that their sales tax was allowed to accumulate over an extended period:

Herberts, Inc. (Bankruptcy) total loss of tax amounting to.....$4,955 26

Tahiti, Inc. (Bankruptcy) probably total loss in tax amounting to 462 25

Hanford's Waldorf (Assignment)—

Amount of tax.....$592 39

Paid on account.....466 54

Loss .....125 85

Grover's Cafeteria (Assignment)—

Tax claim .....$714 52

Loss, approximately .....300 00

Landucci & Mattucci—

Tax claim .....$1,137 62

Paid on account.....764 64

Loss .....372 98

Total loss in above cases .....$6,216 34

These are merely some of the outstanding cases. Of course, there are many others in our records in which the sales tax has not been paid or else has only been partially paid, by reason of the fact that it had been allowed to accumulate over a long period before the liquidation. At the time of the liquidation, as you know, an audit is made and all of this back tax is presented as a claim. It often develops that this claim consumes the entire assets of the estate, excluding even the payment of labor claims, and that even then there are not sufficient assets to meet the account in full. Of course, in bankruptcy cases the labor claims are given priority and that accounts for the large loss listed in the first case above referred to.

Trusting this information will be of some assistance to you, I am

Yours very truly,

GRANT H. WREN.

Mr. J. E. Alexander, Walker's, Inc.,Fifth and Broadway, Los Angeles, California.

DEAR MR. ALEXANDER: In connection with the sales tax in the State of Ohio all retail merchants, as well as other distributors buy sales tax stamps in various denominations from the tax commission who of course have various agencies widely located throughout the State of Ohio. The rate of the tax is as follows: One cent tax on sales from 10 cents to 40 cents inclusive; 2 cent tax on sales from 41 cents to 70 cents inclusive; 3 cent tax on sales from 71 cents to $1 inclusive. There is no tax on sales less than 10 cents. You can see that the rate based on the foregoing figures is approximately a 3 per cent sales tax.

On each sales check (customers copy) a stamp is affixed for the amount of the tax on the purchase. These stamps are kept in various denominations in each department in specially designed containers for this purpose. In a large department, we have from three to ten containers in order that it will facilitate the service rendered by sales people.

Under the Ohio law any merchant who fails to charge the sales tax, or assumes it themselves, are subject to a very severe penalty if discovered by the Tax Commission. We have had a few instances of this kind. There is no question that the necessity to purchase sales tax stamps in advance of their use has created some hardship on small merchants who have inadequate financial reserves. But if it wasn't handled in this manner, we would have the same situation as you have in California.

Upon the inauguration of the Ohio sales tax it seemed an almost unsurmountable problem to handle the detail necessary in its execution. But after two or three weeks we had all the major difficulties solved and today we are practically unconscious of its nuisance.

It is our opinion and I believe it is the opinion of all retail merchants in the State of Ohio that our form of sales tax is the most desirable of any. If there are any other facts that you should discuss with them, feel free to write us again.

Sincerely yours,

THE H. & S. POOLE COMPANY

Mr. J. E. Alexander, Walker's, Inc.,

Fifth and Broadway, Los Angeles, California

DEAR MR. ALEXANDER: I am sorry that my attention to some important legal matters did not permit an immediate reply to your letter. As I am not familiar with the method of assessing the State sales tax in California, I can say little of the practice in that State.

In Ohio the method of assessing the tax, as well as the measures are considered is as described in the third article of that letter. The system required the purchase of vending machines or receptacles for the stamps, especially designed for this purpose. These are considered unnecessary but must not be without give the advantage of holding in the machine under locked pressure, the value a portion of the tax stamp. Secondly, it is not necessary to have an accurate tallying of unused stamps and a record of the number of sales tax collected for each day, so that at the end of the month or at any period, you can ascertain for yourselves not only that the tax is being collected for its full due by the customers, but that the salespeople are conscientiously canceling and mutilating each stamp before giving to the customer.

The law requires that the amount reported to the State is paid out of the net taxable sales, although the commission states, and justly so, that the amount should be in excess of 3 per cent. The system in Ohio is not as simple as the system in Ohio the vendor, to reimburse him for the advancing of the money and the clerical work involved in the collection of the tax, is given a discount of 3 per cent on the portion of the net taxable sales. Unquestionably under this system the State has a great advantage in not having to pay the money unless the tax is collected from the consumer.

Political movements are constantly on foot to eliminate both House or State from the taxable sales. While the State of Ohio, having its House and State governments, because the consumer is not able to pay the tax, it is not possible.

Properly administered and passed by the Tax Commission, there is no question that from the point of view of the State and of the retailer or other vendors, all vendors are on a basis of equality. While we are certain that a privilege tax would eliminate a lot of retail bookkeeping and clerical work, the system that the use of the privilege tax stamps as described in this letter is possible for the vendor to receive all of the sales tax from the consumer, which we understand from reliable sources is not the case with other systems.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to write me.

Very truly yours,

THE HALL BROS. CO.
JAY IGLAUER, Vice President and Treasurer

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD
WASHINGTON, April 2, 1937

Hon. George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor, State of California

State Capital, Sacramento, California

RE: ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 23

MY DEAR GOVERNOR: I have for attention and reply a letter dated March 24, 1937, from the Honorable James G. Stewart, Chief Clerk of the California Legislature, transmitting Assembly Joint Resolution No. 23 which requests us to advise the Legislature of the State of California whether or not, in our opinion, the adoption of legislation in the State abolishing this money judgments would have a tendency to hamper, curtail, make difficult, or prevent the granting of loans to citizens of the State. I am directed by the board to make this reply.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board supervises the operation of the twelve Federal home loan banks, whose members have a very substantial proportion of the money for the financing of other homes in California and throughout the United States, holding at present more than $7,000,000,000 invested in such mortgages. These members are currently lending several hundred million dollars a year to home owners, chiefly in the form of long-term, monthly amortized mortgages. Home Owners' Loan Corporation, under the direction of the board, lends approximately $3,000,000,000 in small home mortgages, amortized over a 15-year period. This board was established by Federal statute not only for the specific purposes referred to above and others, but also for the broad purpose of encouraging sound and economical home financing. It is therefore very much interested in the question which you submit.

In our opinion, no mortgagees in the collection of the mortgage debt, should receive, by any means, more than the amount of the mortgage debt, with legitimate accumulations, advances and costs. We are advised that the laws of the State of California provide for the sale of property in the event of foreclosure of a mortgage at not less than its fair value as found by the court, and it follows that a deficiency judgment can not be introduced for more than any balance of the debt after crediting the amount of such fair value on the debt. We believe that this basis, adopted by your State about two years ago, is fair and reasonable to all concerned.

Any law which arbitrarily prohibits any deficiency judgment on any mortgage foreclosure case we believe to be unsound. We believe it to be good public policy to encourage lending institutions to assist bona fide home seekers, by lending them up to a very high percentage of the current value at the time of the making of the loan and to make such loans repayable over a long period of years so that monthly or other periodical payments may be within the family budget. It is important that no law be passed which will discourage bona fide lending on this basis, as it is important to encourage and assist families of small means to acquire home ownership. Such loans are very frequently made in very large reliance upon the good character of the family engaging in home purchase. To prohibit absolutely any deficiency judgment has the effect of minimizing the value of good character because it compels the lending institution to look solely to the security and its value. This results in the lending institution's offering to lend a smaller percentage of value in the first place, and, in the second place, insisting upon repayment terms so that if property values change over the years it will be sure to be protected.

To encourage high-percentage lending, especially on small homes, and to encourage long-term, amortized loans requiring small periodical payments is to assist the small home owners and to encourage home ownership. To do anything which restricts the amount of loan which the lender can afford to provide or which tends to suggest short-term loans, which small families can not meet from their family budgets, tends to make it impossible for families of small means to enter into home purchase or to carry through their contracts for home purchase.

We therefore believe that such deficiency judgment legislation as you refer to is unwise public policy, puts obstacles in the way of the family desiring to acquire a home, and should be avoided. We believe that legislation such as you passed two years ago, which prohibits a deficiency judgment for more than the difference between the debt and the value of the property foreclosed upon, largely, if not completely, eliminates the evil from which we have suffered in years past of inequitable and unconscionable excess judgments.

We might point out further that frequently banks and others holding open note debts or debts in the form of accounts, take a mortgage or deed of trust as partial security only but are thus enabled to continue an extension of credit which they otherwise would not be able to do. In such cases, if such creditors cut themselves off from their claim against the debtor in personam by taking a mortgage, the creditor would frequently be compelled to sue his claim to judgment and take an execution in the first instance, which would be a lien upon all real estate and other property of the debtor.

The deficiency judgment evil consisted of the wrong which resulted from auction block sales on a bid representing not fair value at all but a mere nominal amount and the taking of a deficiency judgment for the remainder of the debt after the mortgagee had taken the property for such nominal value. This situation is avoided by the law now on the books in California requiring that full credit for the full, fair value of the property be given at the foreclosure sale and the deficiency judgment be taken only for the remainder. Under your present law, Federal agencies, State agencies and private lenders may continue to lend high percentage of value in California and make their loans over long terms on the most favorable basis, and we hope that this situation will not be disturbed.

Assuring you of our desire to cooperate with you at all times, I am,

Very truly yours,

HORACE RUSSELL, General Counsel.

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the Legislature of the State of California at its fifty-second regular session commencing on the fourth day of January, 1937, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of the said Legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section 22 of Article XX of the Constitution of said State, relating to the legal rate of interest, be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 22. The rate of interest upon the loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action, or on accounts after demand or judgment rendered in any court of the State shall be 5 per cent per annum, but the Legislature may from time to time change such rate in its discretion. It shall be competent for the parties to any loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action to contract in writing for a rate of interest not exceeding 10 per cent per annum.

No person, association, copartnership or corporation shall by charging any fee, bonus, commission, discount or other compensation receive from a borrower more than 10 per cent per annum upon any loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action.

However, none of the above restrictions shall apply to any building and loan association as defined in and which is operated under that certain act known as the "Building and Loan Association Act," approved May 5, 1931, as amended, or to any corporation incorporated in the manner prescribed in and operating under that certain act entitled "An act defining industrial loan companies, providing for their incorporation, powers and supervision," approved May 18, 1917, as amended, or any corporation incorporated in the manner prescribed in and operating under that certain act entitled "An act defining credit unions, providing for their incorporation, powers, management and supervision," approved March 31, 1927, as amended or any duly licensed pawnbroker or personal property broker, or any bank as defined in and operating under that certain act known as the "Bank Act," approved March 1, 1909, as amended, or any bank created and operating under and pursuant to any laws of this State or of the United States of America or any nonprofit cooperative association organized under Chapter 4 of Division VI of the Agricultural Code in loaning or advancing money in connection with any activity mentioned in said title or any corporation, association, syndicate, joint stock company, or partnership engaged exclusively in the business of marketing agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, dairy, live stock, poultry and bee products on a cooperative nonprofit basis in loaning or advancing money to the members thereof or in connection with any such business or any corporation securing money or credit from any Federal intermediate credit bank, organized and existing pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress entitled "Agricultural Credits Act of 1923," as amended in loaning or advancing credit so secured, nor shall any such charge of any said exempted classes of persons be considered in any action or for any purpose as increasing or affecting or as connected with the rate of interest hereinbefore fixed. The Legislature may from time to time prescribe the maximum rate per annum of, or provide for the supervision, or the filing of a schedule of, or in any manner fix, regulate or limit, the fees, bonus, commissions, discounts or other compensation which all or any of the said exempted classes of persons may charge or receive from a borrower in connection with any loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed as repealing or superseding any law passed by the Legislature in force at the effective date of this act, as the same may then exist or may thereafter be amended, relating to the rate of interest upon a loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action, or on accounts after demand.

Report.

The following report of Referee and Findings of Fact in the Matter of the Application of Thomas J. Mooney for a Writ of Habeas Corpus was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Criminal No. 3898.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

In the Matter of the Application of THOMAS J. MOONEY for a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Report of Referee and Findings of Fact.

A. E. SHAW,

260 California Street, San Francisco, Referee.

Report of Referee and Findings of Fact.

Pursuant to an order of the Supreme Court made and entered August 5, 1935, appointing the undersigned a referee in the above entitled matter and under a commission issued upon said order empowering said referee, upon such days and at such places as he should appoint, to take the testimony of witnesses and to cause the said testimony and proceedings to be taken in shorthand and transcribe into typewriting and certified by said referee to the Supreme Court, the referee caused the said testimony and the proceedings before him to be taken by a reporter in shorthand and transcribed into typewriting at the times and places as set forth in said transcript, and has certified the same as set forth in said reporter's transcript, consisting of 13,416 pages and bound in twenty volumes, which are filed herewith.

Pursuant to the further order of said court duly made and entered on August 5, 1936, directing said referee to prepare and file findings of fact based upon said testimony and proceedings as set forth in said reporter's transcript, the referee submits the following report and findings of fact:

I.

The following questions were by said order submitted to the referee as the legal and proper issues involved in the above entitled matter.

(1) Did any witness who testified against Thomas J. Mooney in the trial which led to his conviction on the charge for which he is now deprived of his liberty, commit perjury as defined in section 118 of the Penal Code of the State of California,—that is, did such witness testify to any material matter which he knew to be false?

(2) In the event that such witness or witnesses did commit perjury as so defined, did the representatives of the State of California, the district attorney or any of his deputies or assistants cause or suffer such testimony to be introduced, knowing that such testimony as given was perjured?

(3) Did the district attorney, or any of his staff charged with the prosecution of Thomas J. Mooney, deliberately, wilfully, knowingly or at all suppress or prevent the introduction of any evidence which, had it been given, would have been favorable to the defense of said Thomas J. Mooney?

II.

The petitioner was convicted on the charge for which he was being tried by the verdict of the jury and the judgment of the trial court, and such verdict and judgment against him are conclusive in this proceeding, and all presumptions of law must be considered as supporting such verdict and judgment. Said petitioner is not in this proceeding on trial as to his guilt or innocence of the charge on which he was tried. For the foregoing reasons, all of the evidence offered by the petitioner for the purpose of showing his innocence of the crime charged is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial. The burden is upon the petitioner to prove by a preponderance of competent, relevant and material evidence the allegations of his petition.

III.

Much evidence was offered on behalf of petitioner directed to a charge that the petitioner was convicted as a result of a "frame-up" on the part of the district attorney, his deputies and other officers of the State and the City and County of San Francisco. The petitioner offered evidence touching the methods and propriety of such methods used in identifying the petitioner. Petitioner's claim of a "frame-up" and also his claims as to the methods used in identifying him were made during his trial and were necessarily before the jury which, by its verdict, foreclosed such claims. In this proceeding, therefore, it must be held as conclusive against petitioner, and evidence offered in support of such claims is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, but whether this is so or not the petitioner has failed to establish his claims by a preponderance of credible, competent or material or relevant evidence. Where incompetent, immaterial or irrelevant testimony appears in the reporter's transcript after objection thereon had been sustained, such testimony was then offered in lieu of a tender of evidence, and upon motion, said jury testimony, as and when given, has been struck out of the record.

III.

On his trial petitioner's testimony on direct examination was limited to his activities on July 22, 1916, and thereby open examination as to his activities prior to that day was prevented. In the proceeding, therefore, testimony offered by petitioner as to such activities is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

IV.

The referee finds that the testimony of the petitioner and of the witness Billings was thoroughly discredited by reason of the fact that each of them had been convicted of a felony, and also by reason of their interest in the outcome of these proceedings. The referee further finds that the evidence at Washington, N. C., Nockels, Mrs. Rena Mooney and Mrs. Harnsberger is unimpaired by reason of that intense interest in the outcome of these proceedings.

V.

The referee finds that the testimony of John MacDonald given upon the trial of the petitioner was true, that said MacDonald willfully said or suggested, and at a time when neither the petitioner nor Billings had been introduced with the case, with which they were afterwards charged, pictures and the photographs of each of them, which, with a number of other photographs, were introduced as MacDonald at that time, and the said MacDonald was affected by the partial, biased bias, or suggestion or inducement of any kind, that at time of said introduction, the ability or inability of said MacDonald to give a correct description of each picture or to testify as to how they were, or either of them, was, desired, because a matter of little or no importance.

VI.

Thereafter, MacDonald testified truthfully as to the proceedings which he had observed at Street and Market Streets, in the City of San Francisco, on July 22, 1916, that on that day he saw two men on Street Street. One of them carried a suitcase and placed it on the sidewalk at the point of the explosion. After placing the suitcase this man named another who stopped from a vehicle on the corner. They conversed for a few moments, looked at the Ferry clock, and disappeared in the street. Some time after they left he went down Market Street toward the Ferry and stopped in front of the Alameda Cafe. While there the explosion occurred. Some women passing mentioned the explosion and that a number of people were killed and others injured. This information was given him when he asked them what had referred to when speaking about the explosion. He then went around the corner to a restaurant and told Johnson, who was in charge of the restaurant, what he had seen. He told substantially the same story to four or five other persons and was advised to report to the United States Marshal. This was done by him on Monday, July 24. That night he went to a dancing school. Golf showed him pictures of dynamite and cartridges. Without hesitation he picked out the picture of Billings. He passed up a picture of Mooney, and he looked like the other man, but this other man did not have a mustache. When the man in the picture did have a mustache. Golf then placed his finger over the mustache in the picture and MacDonald immediately said that that was the other man seen by him. At that time Golf did not know that either Billings or Mooney was suspected and he did not in any manner suggest or attempt to suggest that they were wanted in connection with the crime. MacDonald's identification was made freely, voluntarily, positively and without any suggestion whatsoever.

He testified at the trial of petitioner freely, and without suggestion or inducement on the part of any representative of the State. After testifying in this and certain other cases he remained in California for some time. As late as January 11, 1921, he wrote a letter to Captain Matheson in which he reaffirmed the testimony given by him at petitioner's trial.

There is no direct evidence as to what caused him to make the affidavit of February 7, 1921, and thereafter to attempt to repudiate the testimony as given by him. It is not difficult to infer the cause of such change.

MacDonald testified truthfully at the trial of petitioner, but if he did not, there is no evidence to justify the claim that the representatives of the State at any of them had any knowledge or suspicion that he had committed perjury.

In this proceeding the witness MacDonald, called as a witness for petitioner, spent days in attempting to repudiate his said testimony. Leaving aside the manner of the direct examination of this witness and the interruptions of the cross-examination, the witness perjured himself, with two exceptions, one was that he had actually seen two men as testified to by him, but claimed that the said two men were not Mooney and Billings, nevertheless, when on cross-examination he was asked to describe the two men that he did see, he described Mooney and Billings, but attempted the next day, after giving such testimony, to repudiate the same.

VII.

The petitioner put in evidence the testimony of Frank C. Oxman given upon petitioner's trial, and thereafter undertook by a series of questions and offers of proof to impeach the said Oxman. Oxman being dead, the said testimony having been offered by petitioner, the referee ruled that counsel would be limited in the attempt to discredit the said witness by the well known rules of law governing impeachment; that evidence as to his good or bad reputation was incompetent and immaterial. Petitioner could not claim that the witness had made any statements which could be construed into surprise, and therefore the only competent or relevant testimony would be limited to a production of witnesses who could show as a matter of fact that Oxman was not present in San Francisco on July 22, 1916, at or about the time of the explosion. The testimony offered of the witness Wood, of the Kansas City affidavit, of the character witnesses from Durkee, Oregon, as well as the alleged attempt of Oxman to produce corroborating testimony when acting as a witness for the O. W. R. & N., was incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial; that the only direct evidence which contradicts the testimony of the witness Oxman is the evidence given by E. K. Hatcher and his wife.

The evidence in this proceeding shows that Mrs. Hatcher in her testimony is governed by her husband's testimony.

VIII.

The testimony of Hatcher is discredited by a number of facts. In the first place, claiming that Oxman was at his residence in Woodland, or immediately on his way to a train for San Francisco at the time of said explosion, he concealed that knowledge, if it was a fact, and on frequent occasions stated that Oxman had left Woodland on the 9.13 train in the morning, which would get him to San Francisco shortly after twelve o'clock noon. Hatcher and his wife each signed affidavits wholly supporting the claim of Oxman as to when he arrived in San Francisco. It is true they claimed not to have read the affidavits and not to have sworn to them, which is a fact as to the swearing to them, but the evidence in this case shows that they did read the affidavits and that the reason they were not sworn to is because it was a Saturday afternoon and no notary was available. Further than this, Hatcher testified that Oxman was in Woodland only once during the year 1916, and that was the occasion of his being there on the twenty-second of July of that year. Nevertheless, Hatcher admits that on one occasion in 1916 he rode with Oxman to the train in the hotel bus. His testimony is further discredited by his statement that at or about six o'clock p.m., he received a telephone message from Oxman in San Francisco stating that he had made an appointment to see the representative of Miller & Lux on the following Monday. The time schedule shows he could not have arrived in San Francisco had he left Woodland in the afternoon as claimed by Hatcher until at least 6.30 p.m., so that it would be entirely impossible for him to have telephoned to Hatcher at six o'clock.

If further appears that Hatcher made no statement as to what he claims was his knowledge of the actions of Oxman on that day until some three years later, when he attempted to borrow some considerable sum of money from Oxman, who refused to let him have it, thereby greatly incensing Hatcher.

It also appears that some person, presumably acting on behalf of petitioner, attempted to bribe Hatcher to testify as he ultimately did, although at the time he refused to consider the offer.

IX.

For these reasons the referee finds that it has not been proven that Oxman was not in San Francisco at the time of the explosion as testified to by him, but if, in fact, his said testimony was false, there is no evidence to show that the district attorney, his assistants or any representative of the State or the county had any knowledge of such perjury, or any reason to believe that his testimony was perjured.

X.

An investigation concerning him made by the district attorney showed that he was known to a number of business men in San Francisco who apparently thought very highly of him.

Further than this, a letter from Hatcher to Nichols clearly shows that no representative of the State of California would have any reason to doubt Oxman's evidence.

Oxman first told his story on July 28, 1916. He was corroborated as to seeing the jitney bus on Market Street shortly before or after the parade started at The Embarcadero by several disinterested witnesses, and the testimony shows that at least two jitneys passed south on Stewart to Mission Street at or about the time as testified by him. No matter how many officers testified they did not see an automobile at about the time testified to, it does not overcome the testimony of disinterested witnesses who did see it.

At that time he took the license number of the jitney which he saw. His memorandum of this number was later produced.

XII.

The so-called Rigall letters do not in themselves show any attempt to suborn perjury, nor do they in any way tend to charge the State of California or the representatives of the State of California with any attempt to use Rigall as a witness. The evidence on behalf of petitioner as to Oxniam does not establish perjury by a preponderance of such evidence. The testimony of Rigall is entitled to no credit whatever. There is nothing, however, in any testimony given which tends to base a claim that the representatives of the State of California, or any of them, knew that Oxniam's testimony was perjured.

XIII.

Mellie and Sadie Edeau testified to seeing the petitioner at 721 Market Street at or about 1:20 or 1:30 p.m. on the day of the explosion. They also testified to seeing Mrs. Mooney there and also Billings and Weisberg, that the witness and a jitney bus parked in front of 721 Market Street, and that two men and Weisberg drove off in his jitney toward the Ferry Building, and that the witness that other words identified as Mooney, Billings and Mrs. Mooney walked away toward the corner of Third and Market Streets. A vicious and violent attempt was made by parties representing the petitioner to force these women to repudiate their testimony. Nevertheless, they have never rehabilitated it.

XIV.

Draper Hand was called as a witness for perjury. His evidence was rejected and discredited by other evidence in the record and is not entitled to any credit.

XV.

The testimony of Chief of Police Peterson and William H. Smith, police officer of Oakland, is thoroughly discredited by reason of their refusal to admit an attempt was made to force these women to repudiate the testimony which they had given at the Billings trial. The Edeaus have never, so far as the record shows, repudiated such testimony.

XVI.

The evidence of disinterested witnesses shows that Billings was at 721 Market Street at or about the time he was placed there as seen by the Edeaus. The testimony so given has never been successfully shown any of means, but appears at 721 Market Street completely substantiates his claim of seeing and describing all of his evidence.

XVII.

In this proceeding there has been no contradiction over the claim made by petitioner that he and his wife and other members of his family were on the roof of the Eilers Building as early as two o'clock p.m. on the evening second day of July, 1916.

XVIII.

The witness Frank C. Oxniam, who testified against Thomas J. Mooney in the trial which led to his conviction on the charge for which he is now deprived his liberty, did not commit perjury as defined in section 118 of the Penal Code of the State of California, nor was his testimony shown by a preponderance of the evidence to be false or perjured testimony.

XIX.

The witness John MacDonald, who testified against Thomas J. Mooney in the said trial, did not commit perjury as defined in section 118 of the Penal Code of the State of California, in that he did not give false or perjured evidence from the trial of said petitioner.

XX.

It is not shown by a preponderance of the evidence that either the witness Mellie Edeau or the witness Sadie Edeau committed perjury as herebefore defined, or gave false or perjured testimony in the trial which led to petitioner's conviction.

XXI.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California, charged with the prosecution of said petitioner, including the district attorney, his deputies and assistants, or either or any of them, caused or influenced the testimony of Frank C. Oxniam to be introduced knowing that such testimony as given was perjured or false.

XXII.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California, or either or any of them, had reasonable or any means of knowledge, or should have known that said testimony was false or perjured, if it were such.

XXIII.

It is not true that their alleged lack of knowledge was due to negligence or neglect of duty, or a wilful avoidance of knowledge.

XXIV.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California charged with the prosecution of the petitioner, including the district attorney, his deputies and assistants, or either or any of them, caused or suffered the testimony of John MacDonald to be introduced knowing that such testimony as given was perjured or false, if it were such.

XXV.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California had reasonable or any means of knowledge, or should have known such testimony was perjured or false, if it were such.

XXVI.

It is not true that their alleged lack of knowledge was due to negligence or neglect of duty, or wilful avoidance of knowledge.

XXVII.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California charged with the prosecution of the petitioner, including the district attorney, his deputies and assistants, or either or any of them, caused or suffered the testimony of Melbie Edeau to be introduced knowing that such testimony as given was perjured, if it were such.

XXVIII.

It is not true that the district attorney or any of his assistants, or representatives of the State of California, caused or suffered the testimony of Melbie Edeau to be introduced knowing that such testimony as given was false, if it were such.

XXIX.

It is not true that said representatives had reasonable or any means of knowledge of should have known such testimony was perjured and false, if it were such, or that their lack of knowledge was due to negligence or neglect of duty or wilful avoidance of knowledge.

XXX.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California charged with the prosecution of the petitioner, including the district attorney, his deputies and assistants, or either or any of them, caused or suffered the testimony of Sadie Edeau to be introduced knowing that such testimony as given was perjured or false, if it were such.

XXXI.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California, or either or any of them, had reasonable or any means of knowledge, or should have known said testimony was perjured and false, if it were such, and it is not true that if said representatives of the State of California did not know that said testimony was perjured or false, their lack of knowledge was due to negligence or neglect of duty, or wilful avoidance of knowledge.

XXXII.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California charged with the prosecution of the petitioner herein, including the district attorney, his deputies and assistants, or either or any of them, deliberately or otherwise, or at all, wilfully or knowingly or otherwise or at all, suppressed or prevented the introduction of evidence which, had it been given, would have been favorable to the defense of the petitioner.

XXXIII.

It is not true that said representatives of the State of California charged with the prosecution of the petitioner, including the district attorney, his deputies and assistants, or either or any of them, deliberately or wilfully or knowingly or otherwise or at all suppressed or prevented the introduction of evidence which, had it been given, would have prevented the conviction of said petitioner.

XXXIV.

It is not true that the State of California has acknowledged that the testimony of the witnesses Frank C. Oxman or John MacDonald or Melbie Edeau or Sadie Edeau was perjured, or that by reason of the use of said testimony the petitioner has been wrongfully convicted. It is true that certain witnesses have undertaken to give their opinions that the said testimony of the said witnesses was false or perjured testimony, but said opinions are incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

XXXV.

The referee finds that petitioner has failed to establish by a preponderance of the evidence or by any evidence which is itself competent or credible that any witness who testified on behalf of the prosecution in the case which resulted in the petitioner's present conviction and detention committed perjury or testified to anything which said witness did not believe to be true as a result of his or her own knowledge and observation.

XXXVI.

That petitioner has failed to establish by a preponderance of the evidence, or by any evidence which is itself competent or probable, that Charles Fickert or Edward Cunha or any other person connected with the prosecution of petitioner knowingly offered or produced against petitioner in the trial which resulted in his recent conviction and detention any testimony or evidence which the said Charles Fickert or the said Edward Cunha, or the said other persons connected with the prosecution of petitioner, knew to be false or did not believe to be true.

XXXVII.

That the petitioner has failed to establish by a preponderance of the evidence, or by any evidence which is itself competent or probable, that Charles Fickert or Edward Cunha or any other person connected with the prosecution of petitioner willfully or deliberately or at all concealed or suppressed any evidence which, had it been produced, would have been favorable to petitioner.

XXXVIII.

That it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that Charles Fickert and Edward Cunha and other persons connected with the prosecution of petitioner had reason to believe and did believe that the evidence produced against petitioner was honest and truthful evidence, and that the said Charles Fickert and the said Cunha and such other persons had reason to believe and did believe that petitioner was guilty of the offense charged against him, and of which he now stands convicted.

XXXIX.

That it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that petitioner had a fair and impartial trial, and that he was not denied any right or privilege constitutionally or granted to him by the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California, or by any statute of the United States or of the State of California.

XL.

That it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that petitioner was not the victim of a "frameup", nor was he convicted as a result of such "frameup" nor of any kind on the part of the district attorney or any of his associates, or on the part of any person representing the State of California.

XLI.

There is filed herewith petitioner's proposed findings of fact and evidence in support thereof, and also respondent's analysis of the evidence and proposed findings of fact, and the referee finds that respondent's analysis of the evidence is true and correct.

Dated, San Francisco, January 25, 1937.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. SHAW, Referee.

By Senator McGovern:—

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 29, by Assemblyman Kuehl and others, celebrates former Governor Hiram W. Johnson upon the anniversary of the twentieth anniversary of his service as United States Senator from California. There is a resolution that applies to every one of all political needs, human, more important, Hiram W. Johnson personates the highest ideal of California in his splendid record of public service.

Senator Johnson is a native of this State. His father served as a member of this Legislature. At an early age Senator Johnson attended a law office in the private practice of the law in his native city of San Francisco, and in the great metropolis of San Francisco of which he is now a resident. When an oppressive people demanded democracy, swift action against those business officials who had become their enemies or others who defied the great power of government, Hiram W. Johnson fought the people's fight in the legal battle to secure a stronger State. His distinguished service as a special prosecutor in the San Francisco graft prosecution following the fire of 1906 proved his worth to a State and his ability as a lawyer.

Against overwhelming odds and in defiance of great power he stood a sturdy political ring from power and national prominence to preserve justice.

When the great political revolution began in California in 1910 the Democratic son of the West led the fight to reclaim our State Government from the entrenched powers of privilege. As the leader of a fight to secure a progressive, popular government, he was elected Governor of this State in 1910. He was a Governor worthy of the name. Today his administration remains before us as the most forward commonwealth in modern history. Legislation enacted by Governor Johnson and enacted under his leadership is the forerunner of our modern history of social justice in this State. Our constitution was born from the necessity of special privilege seeking interest and selfishness in the hands of the instrumentality of Governor Johnson. Let us hope that California will continue to remain where he left it when duty called him to a greater service in the Nation's capital.

Many times has the name of Hiram W. Johnson been submitted to the electorate of California and many times have we again elected him additional for different opportunities to serve by increasing popularity.

Twice elected Governor of his native State, once officially approved for Vice President of the United States by the voters of the Commonwealth, once nominated for the Presidency of the Nation by the voters of the Republican party of this State, and four consecutive times elected Senator in the United States by those of us who know him best and love him best, Hiram W. Johnson is without question the favorite son of California and the national political leader.

It is with pleasure that we learn that our distinguished Senator is again enjoying the benefits of a restored health and that he is now again discharging the duties of his high office with his old time vigor and independence.

All California salutes Hiram W. Johnson. We applaud his splendid record of unexampled public service and we renew our faith in the great American man. In every battle, on all fronts, he has always kept the faith of the people of California.

By Senator Slater:—

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate:

I am very happy to second the adoption of the resolution by which the Legislature of the State of California extends its congratulations to United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson on the attainment of his twentieth year in the United States Senate, a sentiment in which I am sure the State of his birth heartily joins as token of the wonderful service he has rendered his own State and the Nation at large.

I am pleasantly reminded when Senator Johnson made his successful campaign for Governor of California in 1910. I also made my first campaign in which I was elected a member of the Legislature of the State of California. I have always been grateful that I was enabled to participate in the progressive and outstanding legislation which Senator Johnson championed as Governor of this State, pausing to mention with great appreciation what I consider one of the greatest humanitarian laws providing workmen's compensation, the Public Utilities Commission, the Water Commission and the other laws which have lived on and have been very helpful in the promotion of human welfare and the betterment of conditions.

In a few words, the story of Senator Johnson's public career embracing so much of merit and distinguished accomplishment, can not be told. It is a record of which California is justly proud. It is worthy of congratulation. We are certainly all very happy Senator Johnson's health has so greatly improved and that he is now able to again enter vigorously into his big duties.

Just a bit of color. The old campaign days are recalled today as we forward our good wishes to Hiram W. Johnson. To him was attributed that saying of impressiveness: "A Man Must Eat!" Even though he once told me this immortal slogan was really placed in his mouth by a newspaper writer, nevertheless the words are in harmony with so many of the old time utterances of this distinguished citizen that we say it was Hiram Johnson who declared "A Man Must Eat!" He certainly has done his utmost in promoting legislation from time to time in accordance with the suggestion that bodily sustenance is absolutely essential to promote physical endurance, contentment and accompanying happiness. The old slogan holds good today.

We all hope Senator Johnson will be spared for many years to come to continue a career so wondrously marked with worthwhile service.

Report on Carquinez Toll Bridge—Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3.

April 5, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the State Legislature of California, Session of 1937.

Pursuant to the provisions of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, filed with the Secretary of State January 20, 1937 (Chapter 14, Statutes 1937), which provides for a survey and investigation by the California Toll Bridge Authority concerning the feasibility and practicability of the acquisition by the State or the Authority of the Carquinez Toll Bridge extending across Carquinez Straits, near Crockett, California, we have the honor to transmit to you the results of such survey and investigation in the accompanying report.

Respectfully submitted,

CALIFORNIA TOLL BRIDGE AUTHORITY.

By EARL LEE KELLY, Secretary.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

SACRAMENTO, March 4, 1937.

To the Members of the California Toll Bridge Authority, Sacramento, California.

GENTLEMEN: I am herewith transmitting the report of the State Division of Highways, on its survey and investigation of the toll bridge across Carquinez Straits.

This information was authorized and directed by the California Toll Bridge Authority, on January 28, 1937.

Sincerely yours,

EARL LEE KELLY,

Director of Public Works.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

SACRAMENTO, March 4, 1937.

Mr. Earl Lee Kelly, Director of Public Works, Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: There is herewith submitted a report covering investigation of the toll bridge across Carquinez Straits.

This report is in compliance with the direction of the California Toll Bridge Authority, under date of January 28, 1937.

Yours very truly,

C. H. PURCELL,

State Highway Engineer.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, copy attached, directs that the California Toll Bridge Authority make a survey and investigation of the toll bridge across Carquinez Straits to obtain specified information. At a meeting of the Toll Bridge Authority on January 28, 1937, a motion was passed requesting that the Division of Highways, Department of Public Works, prepare a report in accordance with the resolution.

The resolution directs that the survey and investigation be made with a view to the feasibility and practicability of its acquisition as of October 1, 1937, and as of July 1, 1938, either by purchase or condemnation by the State or California Toll Bridge Authority, and that it shall comprehend the following items:

(1) "the appraisal of the value of the structure in case of its acquisition."

The value of the structure in this case is the value of its earning power during the remaining life of its franchise.

(2) "the amount of compensation to the owner which . . . should be paid on the basis of the value of this structure and the length of time which the franchise has yet to run."

The present value of its estimated future earnings capitalized at 8 per cent, which rate of interest is considered commensurate with the security of the investment, is as follows:

$7,556,800 as of October 1, 1937.

$7,225,700 as of July 1, 1938.

(3) "the feasibility of providing funds for such acquisition by issuing and selling revenue bonds."

The provision of funds by issuing and selling revenue bonds undoubtedly is feasible, the rate of interest which they would have to bear being uncertain. In our judgment revenue bonds can be sold bearing a 4 per cent rate of interest, but we have no assurance that they can be sold at a lower rate of interest.

(4) "the rate of tolls by it estimated as necessary to collect pending the retirement of such revenue bonds."

If the bridge is purchased as of the dates specified, and is financed by revenue bonds bearing 4 per cent interest, amortized during the remaining life of the franchise, the following average toll rates will be sufficient to retire the investment:

Date of purchase October 1, 1937, average toll . . . . . $0 68

Date of purchase July 1, 1938, average toll . . . . . 0 67

(5) "the reduction, if any, in the rate of tolls which may be effected immediately upon the acquisition of said toll bridge."

Since the present average toll rate is 89 cents, the saving in average toll rate if purchased as of October 1, 1937, would be 21 cents, and 22 cents if purchased as of July 1, 1938.

The resolution also requests the following information:

(a) "Itemized tables of the annual amounts estimated as necessary to retire such revenue bonds over a 20-year period together with interest computed thereon computed at 3 per cent, and with interest computed at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent."

For the estimated purchase price of \$7,556,800 the annual cost of operation up to March, 1948, plus amortization and interest at 3 per cent is \$692,000, and \$715,700 for interest at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

For the estimated purchase price of \$7,225,700 the annual cost of operation up to March, 1948, plus amortization and interest at 3 per cent is \$669,700 and \$692,400 for interest at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. The costs will be reduced by \$84,000 after March, 1948, when payment of taxes to the counties will terminate.

(b) "Itemized tables of the traffic over said bridge for the years 1932 to 1936, inclusive, showing by years the amount of different classes of traffic and the receipts from each class at the present toll rates together with an estimate of the amount of annual traffic over said bridge at the present rate of tolls, from the first of January, 1937, to the expiration of the franchise on said bridge."

Two attached tables furnish the above requested information.

(c) "Itemized tables, by years, showing the estimated cost of the operation and maintenance of said bridge and of the estimated cost of collecting tolls thereon for a period of 20 years, together with a report upon the propriety and feasibility of paying such maintenance, operation and toll collection costs from the gas tax fund."

The estimated cost of operation is itemized as follows:

Item	Carquinez Bridge
Office salaries -----	$ 5,000 00
Toll collection -----	26,000 00
Attorneys fees -----	1,000 00
Power, light, phone -----	3,500 00
Supplies -----	4,500 00
Insurance -----	25,000 00
Maintenance -----	24,000 00
Miscellaneous -----	2,000 00
County taxes to March, 1948 -----	76,000 00
 Total -----	 $167,000 00
Contingencies, 10 per cent -----	17,000 00
	<hr/> $184,000 00

Funds secured from the gas tax are not sufficient to provide for necessary highway expenditures, therefore it is thought neither proper nor feasible to expend gas tax money for operation of the Carquinez Bridge.

(d) "a report upon the effect the lowering of tolls upon said bridge may have with respect to the volume of traffic which may be expected to use the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge."

Of the total number of cars crossing the Carquinez Bridge in a day, during 1936, approximately 1,170 had San Francisco for their destination, which is some 6 or 7 per cent of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge traffic.

A decrease in tolls on the Carquinez Bridge would naturally increase its traffic. On the other hand, the completion of the Golden Gate Bridge will divert a certain amount of the San Francisco traffic. The combined effect of the above makes it impracticable to estimate the resulting effect upon the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge with any degree of certainty.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

SACRAMENTO, March 29, 1937.

California Toll Bridge Authority, Governor's Office.

Sacramento, California.

GENTLEMEN: Because of widespread interest among members of the California Legislature and the public generally in discussions concerning proposals that the State purchase and operate the Carquinez Bridge as a part of the State highway system, I submit the following based on studies made by the engineers of the Department of Public Works:

The market price of the Carquinez Bridge stock has varied between 82 cents and 90 cents during the past week or two which would make the value of the 3,719,593 shares at say 88 cents equal to $3,273,000. On January 1, 1938, there will be $3,600,000 par value of bonds remaining for which the call price is 102½, which will require an expenditure of $3,690,000. The market value of bonds and stocks may therefore be taken as $6,963,000 less such excess of actual current assets over liabilities as the company may possess at that time.

Since about 90 per cent of the net revenue from operations is contributed by the Carquinez Bridge, its present market value may be said to be 90 per cent of the above figure, or approximately $6,200,000. It is also estimated that the approximate cost of a new bridge built by the State in the same general location as the existing toll bridge would be $5,800,000.

If the Carquinez Bridge could be purchased for $6,200,000, and assuming that its operation and maintenance will be paid for from gas tax funds, a comparatively low toll would result which should correspondingly increase traffic over what it is at the present time. The increase in traffic may be expected to come from the following sources:

Diversion of passenger traffic now using the trains because of the fact that the train fare is at present less than one-half the cost of traveling by auto and paying the existing tolls.

Diversion of auto and truck traffic now using other routes.

Increased holiday traffic including pleasure traffic which desires to go by one route and return by another.

Increased local traffic between Vallejo and Crockett, Oleum, Rodeo, etc. This factor is hardest to estimate on account of the uncertainties connected with it, and yet it is likely to have the greatest influence on the future traffic over the bridge.

If it is assumed that there will be an immediate increase of 15 per cent in traffic over the figures used in obtaining the estimated future earnings during the life of the toll bridge franchise, and that such increase will double itself by the end of a 20-year period due to the above local development, the average toll which will be necessary for a purchase price of $6,200,000 will be about 21 cents, embracing all motor vehicles. At this rate, it would be possible to charge as low as 15 cents per passenger automobile, which rate would remain in effect during the 20-year period of bond liquidation after which, as in the case of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, the Carquinez span would be toll free.

In arriving at this figure, it has been assumed that 20-year revenue bonds can be obtained bearing  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest, but a change of  $\frac{1}{2}$  per cent in the interest rate will make less than 1 cent difference in the average tolls. A change in the purchase price from \$6,000,000 to \$7,000,000 would likewise only make a difference of about 4 cents in the average toll rate.

Sincerely yours,

EARL LEE KELLY,
Director of Public Works.

Communication.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,

STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, April 6, 1937.

To the Secretary and Members of the State Senate.

GENTLEMEN: I am herewith transmitting my Minority Report as a member of the California Toll Bridge Authority, on the feasibility of the State acquisition of the Carquinez Bridge.

This report was authorized by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE J. HATFIELD,

Lieutenant Governor and Member of the California Toll Bridge Authority.

I. Reasons for a Minority Report.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, adopted in the Senate January 15, 1937, and in the Assembly, January 18, 1937, directs that the California Toll Bridge Authority make a survey and investigation of the toll bridge across Carquinez Straits and to prepare a report of such investigation and survey and to deliver it to the Secretary of the Senate prior to the reconvening of the Legislature after its constitutional recess.

The survey and investigation was for the following purposes:

1. To determine the feasibility and practicability of the acquisition of said toll bridge by purchase or condemnation by the State.
2. To obtain specified information as set forth in said resolution.

On January 28, 1937, the California Toll Bridge Authority by appropriate resolutions authorized and directed the State Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works to prepare the report requested.

On March 4, 1937, the Director of Public Works transmitted to the California Toll Bridge Authority a report prepared by the Division of Highways pursuant to the directions of the California Toll Bridge Authority, which report has heretofore been released to the press. This report is now before the California Toll Bridge Authority for action.

I have refused and do now refuse to give my approval to the report and to transmit it to the State Senate as the report authorized and requested by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3 above referred and instead submit this report.

My action in this regard is predicated upon the fact that while the report prepared by the Department of Public Works purports to furnish the specified information requested by said resolution, it utterly fails to advise as to the feasibility or practicability of the acquisition of the Carquinez Bridge by the State. Furthermore, in my opinion, the specified information furnished is so meager and apparently intentionally so selected as to fail to disclose the facts of the matter and to discourage any attempt to lower the excessive rates of tolls now charged which builds an effective barrier to traffic between the Sacramento Valley and the Bay Area.

II. The Problem Presented.

A. HISTORY OF THE CARQUINEZ BRIDGE.

The Carquinez Bridge was constructed by private capital pursuant to the authority of Ordinance No. 171 of the board of supervisors of Contra Costa County, which said ordinance was adopted February 5, 1923, and became effective 30 days from and after its passage, to wit: March 3, 1923.

This ordinance granted a franchise to the Rodeo Vallejo Ferry Company, a corporation, to erect, construct and maintain a toll bridge and take tolls thereon across the straits of Carquinez between Contra Costa County and Solano County, California. The right to take tolls was specified to be for the term of 25 years from and after the effective date of the ordinance. In other words, the right to take tolls will expire March 7, 1948, at which time the bridge automatically passes into public ownership.

The ordinance further provided: "It is further ordered that the rate of tolls which may be collected for crossing said bridge shall be as fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, and that in the event said Railroad Commission shall fail to fix such tolls, then it is hereby further ordered that the rate of tolls which may be collected for crossing said bridge shall be" as fixed in said ordinance.

B. THE PRESENT STATUTES DO NOT CONFER AUTHORITY UPON THE RAILROAD COMMISSION TO REGULATE THE RATES OF TOLLS TO BE CHARGED UPON THE CARQUINEZ BRIDGE. HOWEVER, SUCH POWER MAY BE GRANTED BY THE LEGISLATURE.

Despite the fact that the ordinance granting the franchise provided that the rate of tolls shall be as fixed by the Railroad Commission, I am advised by the Legislative Counsel of the State of California in a written opinion that the Carquinez Toll Bridge is not at the present time subject to regulation by the Railroad Commission of California because of the failure of the State Legislature to enact laws so providing.

Section 22, of Article XII, of the Constitution of the State of California creates a Railroad Commission and gives it the power to regulate railroads and transportation companies, followed by this provision:

"No provision in this Constitution shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the Legislature to confer upon the Railroad Commission additional powers of the same kind or different from those conferred herein which are not inconsistent with the powers conferred upon the Railroad Commission in this Constitution, and the authority of the Legislature to confer such additional powers is expressly declared to be plenary and unlimited by any provision of this Constitution."

Section 23 of Article XII declares that every private corporation and every individual or association of individuals engaged in certain specified activities is declared to be a public utility, subject to control and regulation by the Railroad Commission, and continues:

"and every class of private corporations, individuals, or associations of individuals hereafter declared by the Legislature to be public utilities shall likewise be subject to such control and regulation. The Railroad Commission shall have and exercise such power and jurisdiction to supervise and regulate public utilities in the State of California, and to fix the rates to be charged for commodities furnished, or services rendered by public utilities as shall be conferred upon it by the Legislature, and the right of the Legislature, to confer powers upon the Railroad Commission respecting public utilities is hereby declared to be plenary and to be unlimited by any provision of this Constitution."

Neither section 23 of Article XII nor the Public Utilities Act seems broad enough to include a toll bridge. However, in view of the provisions in both sections 22 and 23 there is no doubt that the State Legislature has a constitutional authority to declare toll bridges as a public utility and to give the Railroad Commission power and jurisdiction over such toll bridges and to fix the rates to be charged thereon.

C. RESULTS OF PRIVATE OPERATIONS.

At a meeting of the California Toll Bridge Authority, held on March 19, 1936, in answer to my inquiry, engineers of the Division of Highways advised the Bridge Authority that the Carquinez Bridge cost approximately $7,000,000 to build with an additional $500,000 for promotional expense or some $7,500,000 in all.

Tabulated returns of actual income from traffic over the bridge are as follows:

Year	Number across	Trucks	Buses	Other	Expenses	Income gross
1927 (Opened May 21, 1927)	696,520	20,645	11,050	4,875	2,438,872	$607,910.00
1928	1,384,156	44,432	36,777	6,862	2,438,872	1,084,870.00
1929	1,186,394	36,145	21,812	32,254	2,438,872	1,084,870.00
1930	1,291,006	65,065	23,714	12,794	2,438,872	1,113,729.78
1931	1,246,461	72,772	24,411	15,664	2,438,872	1,113,729.78
1932	966,814	86,678	17,938	11,576	2,438,872	975,911.00
1933	966,679	92,769	19,320	11,436	2,438,872	975,911.00
1934	924,637	109,312	22,002	12,476	2,438,872	975,911.00
1935	995,199	124,745	25,455	16,447	2,438,872	1,000,223.00
1936	1,283,951	131,531	33,077	18,436	2,438,872	1,000,223.00

In short, from May 21, 1927, the date of the opening of the Carquinez Bridge, until December 31, 1936, inclusive, or in nine years, seven months and ten days, the operators of the bridge collected from the public a grand total of $10,269,729.

The operating expenses for the same period have been detailed by the Department of Public Works at my request in a computation sheet attached hereto as "Exhibit A," pages 13 to 15. They total $2,633,307.

Deducting the operating expenses of $2,633,307 from the gross receipts of $10,269,729, gives a net operating profit of $7,636,422, in nine years, seven months and ten days.

The Division of Highways estimates the gross revenue and operating expenses from January 1, 1937, to the date of the expiration of the franchise, March 7, 1948, as follows:

	Gross revenues	Operating expenses	Net revenue
1937	$1,280,900 00	$240,600 00	$1,040,300 00
1938	1,310,100 00	241,100 00	1,068,900 00
1939	1,338,100 00	241,800 00	1,096,300 00
1940	1,373,600 00	242,500 00	1,131,100 00
1941	1,391,100 00	242,800 00	1,148,300 00
1942	1,415,700 00	243,300 00	1,172,400 00
1943	1,439,100 00	243,800 00	1,195,300 00
1944	1,461,800 00	244,200 00	1,217,600 00
1945	1,482,900 00	244,700 00	1,238,200 00
1946	1,503,400 00	245,000 00	1,258,400 00
1947	1,522,600 00	245,500 00	1,277,100 00
1948	256,800 00	40,900 00	215,900 00
Totals	$15,776,100 00	$2,716,200 00	$13,059,900 00

In other words, from a bridge that cost $7,000,000 to build plus a promotional expense of $500,000 the private operators will take from the public in tolls, $26,045,829, or a net operating profit of $20,696,222 during the life of the franchise unless something is done to prevent.

But even these figures do not present the complete picture of private ownership and management of the Carquinez Bridge. A study of "Carquinez Bridge Operating Account—May 21, 1927, to December 31, 1936" prepared at my request by the Department of Public Works and attached hereto and marked "Exhibit A" furnishes much enlightening information.

In the nine years, seven months and ten days covered by this account—i.e. from the opening of the bridge until December 1, 1936—there was earned and paid in bond interest the sum of $3,043,611.

During the same period there was charged off as amortization of the cost of the bridge the sum of $2,455,330.

During the same period there was charged off as amortization of bond discount and expense the sum of $539,704. This item was to cover the cost of financing.

When all of these items were deducted from gross revenues as well as operating expenses, maintenance, insurance and taxes during the same period, there was earned and available for dividends the sum of $1,694,010.

In considering these figures it must be kept in mind that included in operating expenses, during this period, is the sum of $607,482 for head office expense and the sum of $160,256 for publicity expense. These two items are largely made up of executive salaries, attorneys fees, legal expenses and publicity that would almost entirely be eliminated under public ownership and operation for reasons hereinafter discussed.

D. COST OF NEW BRIDGE.

At the meeting of the California Toll Bridge Authority held on March 19, 1937, in answer to my inquiry, engineers of the Division of Highways roughly estimated that a new bridge across the Carquinez Straits would cost approximately $5,800,000. The Toll Bridge Authority at that meeting passed a resolution calling upon the Attorney General for an opinion as to whether or not the Toll Bridge Authority would have the power to erect and maintain another toll bridge across Carquinez Straits in competition with the present one erected and operated by private capital. The opinion of the Attorney General has not yet been received.

E. SUGGESTED REMEDIES TO EFFECT LOWERING OF TOLLS.

To effect a lowering of the fares charged to cross Carquinez Straits, several remedies suggested themselves:

1. The Railroad Commission of the State of California could be empowered to regulate the rates over toll bridge privately operated. Senators Roy Nelson and John McCall have introduced a bill in the present Legislature to accomplish this purpose. It is known as Senate Bill No. 24 and is now pending in the Senate on the third reading file.
2. The California Toll Bridge Authority could erect a competing bridge across Carquinez Straits.
3. The California Toll Bridge Authority could purchase or condemn the present bridge.

The California Toll Bridge Authority has the power to condemn the Carquinez Bridge. The California Toll Bridge Authority Act, Statutes of 1929, Chapter 763, page 1489; Deering Act, 956, provides in part as follows:

"Whenever the Department of Public Works determines that it is advisable or necessary to acquire either through eminent domain proceedings or otherwise any existing privately owned toll bridge or bridges * * *. The director of said department shall submit its recommendation to that effect to the California Toll Bridge Authority, together with preliminary estimates of the cost of such acquisition * * * and an estimate of the amount required to be raised for such purpose by the issuance of revenue bonds, and a statement of the probable amount of money, property, materials or labor to be contributed from other sources in aid of such acquisition * * *.

If a majority of the members of the California Toll Bridge Authority concur in the recommendation of the Department of Public Works the said California Toll Bridge Authority shall adopt a resolution declaring that public interest and necessity require the acquisition of any such toll bridge * * * and authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds, for the purpose of obtaining funds in an amount not in excess of that estimated to be required for such acquisition * * *."

Section 9 of the act, as amended in 1935, reads in part as follows:

The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and take, in fee or otherwise, as the California Toll Bridge Authority may determine, in the name of the State of California bridge * * *, whether publicly or privately owned and whether or not already devoted to a public use or purpose, * * *, under the provisions of the Constitution and laws of this State relating to eminent domain proceedings.

Such department shall not have power to commence any such proceedings in eminent domain unless and until the California Toll Bridge Authority shall first have passed a resolution declaring that public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction or completion by the State acting through the said Department of Public Works of any such bridges * * *.

Such resolution shall be conclusive evidence (a) of the public necessity of such acquisition, construction or completion; (b) that such property and said franchises, * * * are, and that the acquisition of the fee or other interest therein is necessary therefor and, (c) that such proposed acquisition, * * * is planned or located in a manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury. * * *

In eminent domain proceedings to acquire property for any of the purposes of this act, any toll bridge * * * appropriated or dedicated to a public use or purpose by any person, * * * may be condemned and taken, and the acquisition and use thereof as herein provided for the same public use or purpose to which such property has been so appropriated or dedicated, or for any other public use or purpose, shall be deemed a superior and permanent right and necessity, and a more necessary use and purpose than the public use or purpose to which such property has already been appropriated or dedicated. It shall not be necessary in any eminent domain proceedings hereunder to plead or prove any act or proceedings preliminary or prior to the adoption of the resolution hereinbefore referred to describing and property sought to be taken and directing such proceedings.

These provisions appear to be ample to authorize the California Toll Bridge Authority to acquire the Carquinez Toll Bridge by proceedings in eminent domain.

4. The board of supervisors of Contra Costa County in the absence of power in the Railroad Commission, has certain powers in the regulation of rates over the Carquinez Bridge.

Section 2845 of the Political Code provides that "the board of supervisors granting authority to construct a toll bridge * * * must at the same time: * * * Fix the rate of tolls which may be collected * * * which may raise annually an income not exceeding 15 per cent on the actual cost of the construction or erection of the bridge * * * and such additional income as will provide for the annual cost of operation, maintenance, amortization and taxes

Section 2846 of the Political Code provides "• • • the rate of toll fixed as provided in the preceding section must not be increased or diminished during the term of twenty years, at any time, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the board of supervisors that the receipts from tolls in any one year is disproportionate to the cost of construction or erection, or the fair cash value thereof, together with the cost of all necessary repairs and maintenance of the bridge

In 1936 the gross income from tolls was $1,306,191. The total operating expense, maintenance, insurance and taxes (including Federal and State income taxes) was $297,475, leaving a net profit available for bond interest, amortization and dividends of $1,024,443. Bond interest was $184,524 leaving $839,808 available after payment of bond interest. Amortization of the cost of the bridge was $73,280, and of the bond discount and expense of $75,657 leaving a net of $408,943 for the stockholders. Surely these figures indicate that it might be possible to show "to the satisfaction of the board of supervisors that the receipts from tolls in 1936" is disproportionate to the cost of construction or erection, or the fair cash value thereof, together with the cost of all necessary repairs and maintenance."

It may be pointed out that under the terms of the franchise there is to be paid to the county of Contra Costa 2 per cent of the gross receipts derived from the use and operations of the bridge for the benefit of the counties of Contra Costa and Solano. In view of the large amount of traffic passing over the bridge that does not originate in Contra Costa County, it is possible that the board of supervisors might be adverse to any reductions in tolls.

This report is concerned primarily with the feasibility of the third of the three suggested remedies to effectuate the lowering of tolls across the Carquinez Bridge—that of the purchase by negotiation or condemnation by the California Toll Bridge Authority, of the present bridge.

III. Economies of Public Ownership and Operation.

Ultimately the traveling public pays the cost of financing, constructing, operating and maintaining a toll bridge whether the toll bridge be built and operated by private or by public capital. Therefore an analysis of operating costs, financing costs, and tolls under both systems is necessary.

A. OPERATING COSTS UNDER PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND OPERATION OF CARQUINEZ BRIDGE WOULD BE LOWER THAN UNDER THE PRESENT PRIVATE OWNERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT.

The operating costs of Carquinez Bridge from the opening on May 21, 1927, to December 31, 1936, are set forth by years on page 3 of "Exhibit A" attached hereto. The operating costs have averaged $273,988 per year. The Division of Highways have estimated under the present private ownership and management the future operating cost, January 1, 1937, to the date of the expiration of the franchise, to wit: March 7, 1948, (exclusive of the 2 per cent gross traffic receipt tax payable to Contra Costa County and hereafter discussed) at $215,000 per annum.

On page 29 of the "Report on Investigation of Carquinez Toll Bridge," dated October 20, 1932, made pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 36 (Statutes 1931, Chapter 78) the costs of operation for the year 1931 are itemized as follows:

Operating expense.....	$ 55,700 00
Publicity .....	16,800 00
Head office expense.....	58,000 00
Maintenance .....	11,800 00
Insurance and taxes.....	147,000 00
Total .....	$289,300 00

On page 16 of the same report, additional detail is given.

1. Salaries of President, Secretary-Treasurer, Comptroller and Stenographer was.....$23,097 00

It is to be noted that none of these executive salaries were connected with the actual operation or maintenance of the bridge itself. The salaries and wages of manager, superintendent, toll takers, traffic men and mechanics were in another item.

2. Attorney fees and legal expenses.....15,847 00
3. Trustee fees for bond issues, stock transfers, registration and semi-annual audits.....3,534 00
4. Directors fee of $25 per month per director present..1,920 00
5. Publicity .....

16,762 00

These five items of expenses could almost entirely be eliminated under public ownership and operation. No executive salaries, trustee fees or directors fees would have to be paid. Attorney fees and publicity costs could be reduced to but a small fraction of those above set forth.

This is borne out by the estimate of the Division of Highways of operating costs under public ownership as follows:

Item	Carquinez Bridge
Office salaries.....	$ 5,000 00
Toll collection.....	26,000 00
Attorney fees.....	1,000 00
Power, light, phone.....	3,500 00
Supplies.....	4,500 00
Insurance.....	25,000 00
Maintenance.....	24,000 00
Miscellaneous.....	2,000 00
County taxes to March, 1948.....	76,000 00
Total .....	$167,000 00
Contingencies, 10 per cent.....	17,000 00
Total .....	$184,000 00

It is to be noted that in the above tabulation, the Division of Highways includes an item of $76,000 for county taxes to March, 1948. For reasons hereinafter set forth it is believed that this item of cost would be entirely eliminated under State ownership and operation and that therefore the cost of operation under State ownership and control would be less than $100,000 per year, as follows:

Office salaries.....	$ 5,000 00
Toll collection.....	26,000 00
Attorney fees.....	1,000 00
Power, light and phone.....	3,500 00
Supplies.....	4,500 00
Insurance.....	25,000 00
Maintenance.....	24,000 00
Miscellaneous.....	2,000 00
Total .....	$91,000 00

As contrasted with the estimated cost of private ownership and management of $215,000 per year for the period January 1, 1937, to March 7, 1948, or the actual average annual cost of $273,988 from May 21, 1927, to December 31, 1936, it is apparent that the operating costs of Carquinez Bridge would be considerably less under public ownership and operation than under the present private ownership and management.

B. UNDER PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND OPERATION OF CARQUINEZ BRIDGE THE TRAVELING PUBLIC WOULD BE SAVED THE COST OF SEVERAL TAXES.

The American Toll Bridge Company, the successor to the Rodeo Vallejo Ferry Company and the present holder of the Carquinez Bridge franchise, pays the following taxes:

1. Franchise tax to the State of Delaware, which in 1936 was ----- $150 00
2. Franchise tax to the State of California, which in 1936 was ----- 16,584 00
3. Federal capital stock tax, which from June 30, 1936, to July 1, 1937, was----- 4,080 00
4. Federal income tax, which in 1936 was----- 67,241 00
5. Contra Costa and Solano County ad valorem tax--- 76,000 00
6. Bridge license tax----- 1,200 00
7. The franchise granted by Ordinance No. 171 of the board of supervisors of Contra Costa County required the payment of 2 per cent of the gross receipts derived from the use and operation of said bridge shall also be paid to the county of Contra Costa for the benefit of the counties of Contra Costa and Solano. The legality of this 2 per cent charge is before the Supreme Court in the case of County of Contra Costa vs. American Toll Bridge Company, S. F. No. 1534.

Under State ownership and operation, the California Toll Bridge Authority nor the public would have to pay (1) the franchise tax to the State of Delaware; (2) the franchise tax to the State of California; (3) the Federal capital stock tax; or (4) Federal income taxes.

As to (5) Contra Costa and Solano County advalorem taxes; (6) Bridge license tax of $1,200 per year and (7) the 2 per cent of the gross receipts charge imposed by the franchise itself, a different matter is presented.

Section 9 of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act, Chapter 763, Statutes of 1929, as amended by Chapter 401, Statutes of 1931, relative to the purchase by agreement or condemnation of an existing toll bridge, reads that the property so acquired by the State "shall continue to be subject to taxation by the county and the State shall pay to the county granting the franchise for said bridge such amounts as may become due to such county for the franchise for the construction of such toll bridge."

On page 46 of the Report of 1929 above referred to, it is stated that "this interpreted to mean that the State will have to pay the existing franchise taxes until the term of the franchise expires but unless other laws of the State cover the matter, the payment of property tax might continue indefinitely."

Despite this interpretation by the Division of Highways, both in the 1929 report and in the present proposed report in answer to said Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, the Division of Highways include in its estimate of operating expenses under public ownership and operation, some $76,000 for property or ad valorem tax.

Not content with this treatment of the matter, I requested the opinion of the Legislative Counsel of the State of California as to whether or not under Article XIII, section 1 of the Constitution of the State of California providing that property belonging to the State shall be exempt from taxation and under Article XI, section 12, providing that the Legislature shall not have power to impose a tax on a county for county purposes, the above quoted provisions of section 9 of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act were constitutional.

The Legislative Counsel has rendered me two opinions thereto attached as Exhibits B and C, to the effect: (1) that the provision of said section 9 which provides that in the event the State or any agency thereof acquires any existing toll bridge that it shall continue to subject to taxation by the county is absolutely unconstitutional and void; (2) that the provision of said section 9 which provides in the event of State acquisition of an existing toll bridge the State shall pay to the county granting the franchise for said bridge such amounts as may become due to such county for the franchise is of questionable validity and would probably be held to be unconstitutional—but the question is still open and to be decided.

In view of these opinions it is believed that there would be no question that the State would not have to pay any property or ad valorem tax on Carquinez Bridge in the event of its acquisition—and that it might not have to pay the bridge license tax of $1,200 per year or the 2 per cent gross revenue charge imposed by the franchise itself.

C. THE CALIFORNIA TOLL BRIDGE AUTHORITY COULD BORROW ON REVENUE BONDS AT A LOWER INTEREST RATE THAN THE AMERICAN TOLL BRIDGE COMPANY, BORROWED ON ITS FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

In 1935 the American Toll Bridge Company floated a \$4,300,000 bond issue bearing  $5\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate to reimburse its then outstanding bonds. The company sold the bonds to underwriters at  $96\frac{1}{2}$  per cent of their face value or for \$4,149,500. In other words, it cost the company a bonus of \$150,500 to sell \$4,300,000 face value of  $5\frac{1}{2}$  per cent bonds. These bonds are subject to income tax but the company agrees, so far as legal, to reimburse the holder of any bond for any normal income tax not exceeding in the aggregate any year 2 per cent of the interest derived by such holder from the bond in question.

The California Toll Bridge Authority in conjunction with the Department of Public Works is authorized to issue revenue bonds to acquire an existing toll bridge. In the case of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge these revenue bonds have been decided to be not taxable for income tax purposes by the Federal or State Government.

In view of the fact that these bonds are not taxable for income tax purposes and in view of the history of traffic over the Carquinez Bridge since its opening, it is believed that no difficulty would be encountered in borrowing at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. sufficient moneys to purchase or condemn the Carquinez Bridge at a fair price or to erect a competing bridge if it be decided that the California Toll Bridge Authority has that power.

It is true that the present proposed report of the Division of Highways states "in our judgment revenue bonds can be sold bearing a 4 per cent rate of interest, but we have no assurance that they can be sold at a lower rate of interest." However, a study of "The Bond Buyers Annual List of Important Municipal Bond Offerings by Dealers in 1936" reveals a list of revenue bond issues of recent dates that indicates that it would be possible to market revenue bonds bearing a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate.

1. In California the city of Los Angeles in December, 1935, sold its first issue of $22,799,000 revenue bonds. These bonds are known as "Electric Plant Revenue Bonds, Refunding Issue, 1935." They mature serially from December 1, 1939, to 1975, inclusive, and bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, payable semiannually. The sale price by the city was par plus a premium of $279,990.

2. The city of Los Angeles in January of 1937 sold a second issue of revenue bonds known as "Electric Plant Revenue Bonds, Issue of 1937." These bonds consisted of \$23,500,000 Series A,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent bonds due serially January 15, 1938 to 1977, inclusive, and \$23,500,000 Series B,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent bonds, due January 15, 1977, subject to redemption requirements. The sale price by the city was par plus a premium of \$141,000.

3. The Port of New York Authority on May 15, 1936, sold an issue of \$17,500,000 revenue bonds bearing  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest maturing from 1941-1976.

4. The Port of New York Authority on December 15, 1936, sold an issue of $10,000,000 revenue bonds bearing 3 per cent interest maturing from 1941-1976. Both of these last two issues were sold at par plus a premium.

5. Fort Collins, Colorado, on August 1, 1936, sold an issue of \$745,000 electric light and power revenue bond maturing from 1937-1951. These bonds bear 3 per cent and  $3\frac{1}{4}$  per cent interest.

6. Louisville, Kentucky, on September 16, 1936, sold an issue of $4,400,000 toll bridge revenue bonds maturing in 1955 and bearing 3 per cent interest.

7. St. Charles County, Missouri, on July 14, 1936, sold an issue of \$2,332,000 toll bridge revenue bonds maturing in 1956 and bearing  $3\frac{3}{4}$  per cent interest.

8. Lake Champlain Bridge Commission on February 17, 1936, sold an issue of $500,000 toll bridge revenue bonds maturing in 1961 and bearing 3½ per cent interest.

9. Lake Champlain Bridge Commission on June 10, 1936, sold an issue of $925,000 toll bridge revenue bonds maturing in 1966 and bearing 3½ per cent interest.

In short, the State could borrow money to finance the purchase of the Carquinez Bridge, either by agreement or amalgamation, on revenue bonds at 1½ per cent per year less interest if the Division of Highways is correct in believing that 4 per cent is the lowest interest rate at which the revenue bonds could be sold or at 2 per cent per year less interest if my belief, based upon the foregoing sales, is correct.

Furthermore, the State would not have to reimburse any bondholder to the extent of 2 per cent of the interest derived by such bondholder from bonds held by him for any normal income tax paid by such bondholder because the revenue bonds of the California Toll Bridge Authority are not subject to tax.

Furthermore, no bonus or other payment would have to be made by the State to the underwriters. On the contrary, there is every reason to expect in view of the sales by public bodies of revenue bonds above listed that the States would receive a premium.

The extra interest, reimbursement of 2 per cent of normal income tax paid by bondholders and bonuses instead of premiums are important because in the final analysis they are all paid by the traveling public.

IV. The Value of Carquinez Bridge.

In October of 1929, the Division of Highways estimated that the then fair purchase price of Carquinez Bridge was $10,288,840. In its present proposed report, the Division of Highways estimates its value as of October 1, 1937, at $7,556,800 and as of July 1, 1938, at $7,225,700.

These valuations were not in anywise predicated upon the actual cost of the bridge. Nor were they in anywise predicated upon the cost of replacement or upon the cost of the construction of a new bridge.

These three valuations of the Division of Highways were each predicated upon the capitalization of estimated future earnings. In other words, the Division of Highways estimated in 1929 and again in 1937 what the future traffic earnings of the Carquinez Bridge would be until the termination of the franchise—i.e., March 7, 1948—it deducted the estimated operating expenses for the same period to determine the total net earnings and then determined what sum capitalized at 8 per cent would produce the total amount of net earnings and the result was the valuations set.

In 1929 in its "Report on Investigation of Carquinez Toll Bridge" at page 30, it estimated the gross revenue of Carquinez Bridge for the years 1932 to 1936, inclusive, as follows:

1932	-----	$1,022,887 00
1933	-----	1,233,000 00
1934	-----	1,272,400 00
1935	-----	1,310,200 00
1936	-----	1,345,600 00
Total	-----	$6,184,087 00

These estimates of their future gross revenue were for the purpose of determining the "fair purchase price of Carquinez Bridge" and these estimates actually entered into the computations which gave the price of $10,288,840.

The actual gross revenue for these years follows:

1932	-----	$ 975,910 00
1933	-----	917,118 00
1934	-----	959,229 00
1935	-----	1,057,721 00
1936	-----	1,306,190 00
Total	-----	$5,216,168 00

or $967,919 less than estimated.

This means that in 1929 the Division of Highways overestimated the succeeding five years gross receipts of the Carquinez Bridge by approximately $200,000 per year. This overestimate was necessarily reflected in the "fair purchase price" of $10,288,840.

Whether or not a similar error is involved in its present valuations of $7,556,800 as of October 1, 1937, and of $7,225,700 as of July 1, 1938, only time can tell.

The vice with this entire method of computation is that it proceeds on the theory that the public can do nothing before the termination of the franchise to protect itself against the excessive exorbitant tolls charged on the Carquinez Bridge. It proceeds upon the theory that the public will supinely allow itself to be mulcted of over $26,000,000 in tolls for the privilege of passing over a bridge that cost $7,000,000 and could be replaced for less than $6,000,000.

If, for example, the present State Legislature should pass and the Governor sign a bill placing privately owned toll bridges under the Railroad Commission and the Railroad Commission should then lower the rates on the Carquinez Bridge, the estimate of the Division of Highways as to future gross earnings would be valueless and its valuations of $7,556,800 as of October 1, 1937, and of $7,225,700 as of July 1, 1938, would have no basis whatsoever.

Likewise the board of supervisors of Contra Costa County might act to lower the tolls even though the Railroad Commission is not empowered to act by the State Legislature.

In short, the three valuations of the Division of Highways proceed upon the assumption that the present schedule of excessive tolls shall continue unchanged during the life of the franchise, and this assumption is one that may not be sound if the public awakes to its powers in the matter.

V. Effect of Amortization of Value Fixed by Department of Public Works Coupled with State Ownership and Operation of Carquinez Bridge.

Even if the California Toll Bridge Authority purchased the Carquinez Bridge at the values fixed by Division of Highways of $7,500,000 as of October 1, 1937, or of $7,225,000 as of July 1, 1938, a substantial reduction of tolls could be effectuated.

In its present proposed report the Division of Highways states "If the bridge is purchased as of the dates specified and is financed by revenue bonds bearing 4 per cent interest, amortized during the remaining life of the franchise, the following toll rates will be sufficient to return the investment:

Date of purchase July 1, 1938, average toll .67.

These average tolls of 67 cents and 68 cents as contrasted with the present average toll of 89 cents actually collected on the Carquinez Bridge reveals that under State ownership and operation a decided cutting of the tolls could be made even if the Carquinez Bridge were purchased at the valuations of the Division of Highways. But they do not clearly and adequately reveal all of the possibility of cutting the tolls because in its arrival at these tolls the Division of Highways assumes a number of conditions that need not be the conditions at all.

First, it assumes that the revenue bonds "will be amortized during the remaining life of the franchise"—i.e., that the revenue bonds to be issued by the California Toll Bridge Authority will all be returned by March 7, 1948.

Second, it assumes that the rate of interest on said revenue bonds will be 4 per cent, whereas we have seen there is at least some basis to believe that they can be sold at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent or less.

Third, that the California Toll Bridge Authority would have to pay the property or ad valorem tax upon the Carquinez Bridge until March 7, 1948, whereas we have seen that no such requirement can be constitutionally placed upon the Toll Bridge Authority.

Fourth, that the California Toll Bridge Authority would have to pay the Franchise License Tax of $1,200 per year and the 2 per cent gross receipts charge imposed by the franchise itself until March 7, 1948, whereas we have seen that this is extremely doubtful.

Fifth, that the operation and maintenance charges of some $97,000 per year could not be paid out of the gas tax money as is the case with the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Sixth, that the reduction in tolls will not result in an increased traffic.

These six assumptions are all included in the computation of the 67 cents and 68 cents average toll determined by the Division of Highways. Let us examine the result under other assumed conditions:

At the meeting of the California Toll Bridge Authority held on March 5, 1937, I requested the Department of Public Works to prepare amortization tables showing tolls required to operate the Carquinez Bridge on the basis of amortization of the valuations placed by the Division of Highways in 20 years instead of by March 7, 1948, and also on the basis of 3 per cent,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent and 4 per cent interest.

In other words, I requested the computation made on the basis of a change in but the first two conditions of the six assumed by the Division of Highways, it arriving at the 67 cents and 68 cents toll.

Attached hereto and marked "Exhibit D", is the computations made by the Department of Public Works in answer to my request.

It shows that on the purchase price of $7,556,800 (October 1, 1937) the average tolls collected under those conditions would be as follows:

45-6 10 cents to 1948 and 37-8 10 cents thereafter if a 4 per cent interest;

43 $\frac{1}{2}$  cents to 1948 and 37 cents thereafter if a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest;

41-4 10 cents to 1948 and 36-3 10 cents thereafter if a 3 per cent interest.

This, according to the Department of Public Works, means as an average toll for the entire 20 years of:

41-7 10 cents if the interest on the bonds is 4 per cent;

40-3 10 cents if the interest on the bonds is  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent;

38-9 10 cents if the interest on the bonds is 3 per cent.

It further shows that on the purchase price of $7,225,700 (July 1, 1938) the average tolls collected under these conditions would be as follows:

45 cents to 1948 and 35-1 10 cents thereafter if a 4 per cent interest;

43-1 10 cents to 1948 and 34 $\frac{1}{2}$  cents thereafter if a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest;

41-1 10 cents to 1948 and 33-8 10 cents thereafter if a 3 per cent interest.

This, according to the Department of Public Works means an average toll for the entire 20 years of 40-1/10 cents if the interest on the bonds is 4 per cent;

38-8 10 cents if the interest on the bonds is  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent;

37 $\frac{1}{2}$  cents if the interest on the bonds is 3 per cent.

Contrast these average tolls with the actual average toll of 89 cents now charged on the Carquinez Bridge under private ownership and management. On a 20-year amortization these computations of the Department of Public Works demonstrate that the present tolls could be reduced by more than half under public ownership and operation.

If it is to be remembered that these computations of the Department of Public Works proceeded upon the assumptions that under public ownership and operation the State would have to pay the ad valorem tax, the franchise license tax of $1,200 per year and the 2 per cent gross receipts charge.

It was likewise assumed that the operation and maintenance charges would not be paid out of the gas tax fund, and no allowance was made for increased traffic resulting from the reduction in tolls.

At my request, the Deputy State Treasurer, Mr. A. Q. Robison, made a series of computations and tabulations which are hereto attached and marked "Exhibit E."

The result of these tabulations are detailed as follows (I quote from Mr. Robison's letter of transmittal):

"We have worked out several different tolls, with and without a charge for passengers, and have used the annual totals of such tolls as revenue available for the payment of bonds. For your convenience, in referring to the listings we have identified the different methods by number:

No. 1. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses, and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of $554,758.99, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of $7,556,800, in full by 1950, with interest at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1958 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 2. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses, and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual income of $759,658.74, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of $7,556,800 in full by 1950 with interest at the rate of 3½ per cent or 4 per cent per annum.

No. 3. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a 33½ per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses, and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of $739,679.01, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of $7,556,800 in full by 1950, with interest at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1951 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 4. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a 33½ per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of $1,012,878.66, which, according to the attached schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of $7,556,800 in full by 1946 with interest at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1947 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 5. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 25 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 75 cents for trucks and 50 cents for buses, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$636,881.55, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1953 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full in 1954 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 6. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{3}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 25 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 75 cents for trucks and 50 cents for buses, less 2 per cent county tax, (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of \$575,976.13, which, according to the attached amortization schedules would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1955 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1956 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 7. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{3}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 25 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 75 cents for trucks, and 50 cents for buses, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$849,854.79, which, according to the attached amortization schedules would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800, in full by 1948 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full in 1949 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 8. Shows the amount of principal and interest necessary to pay off indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in 20 years using a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate and a 4 per cent interest rate, respectively.

No. 9. Shows the amount of principal and interest necessary to pay off indebtedness of \$7,225,700 in 20 years using a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate and a 4 per cent interest rate, respectively.

We are presuming, in furnishing you this data, that the entire expense of maintaining and operating the bridge would be paid by the Division of Highways out of the gas tax moneys. The only charge against the revenue would possibly be premiums on insurance covering the structure.

There is also some question as to whether or not the county tax of 2 per cent should be deducted after 1948; however, you are much more familiar with those problems than we are and, no doubt, have already taken such questions into consideration."

It is to be noted that Mr. Robison assumes the operation and maintenance cost of $91,000 per year is to be born out of the gas tax money as is the case with the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. But it is also to be noted that Mr. Robison does not include as toll income any charge whatsoever for freight hauled in the trucks crossing the Carquinez Bridge. At the present time, 30 cents per ton is collected upon freight. I have been unable to secure any detail as to the amount realized from this business. The present tolls upon trucks and freight are as follows:

Trucks under 3,000 lbs.	$0 60
Trucks from 3,000 to 6,000 lbs.	80
Trucks from 6,000 to 9,000 lbs.	1 00
Trucks over 9,000 lbs.	1 30
Two wheel trailers (each)	25
Four wheel trailers (each)	50
all plus 30 cents per ton of freight.

As the average toll in 1936 per truck and freight was $1.63, and there were 131,531 such trucks it is believed that the income from the freight business, which Mr. Robison omitted in his calculations, would produce a substantial part, if at all, of the $91,000 cost of operation and maintenance.

Especial attention is called to the result of the sixth method used by Mr. Robison. Assuming a 33 1/3 per cent increase in traffic due to decrease in tolls of over 50 per cent of those now charged, Mr. Robison computes that with a toll of 25 cents for automobiles (without charge for driver or passenger), 75 cents for trucks and 50 cents for buses, a bonded indebtedness of $7,556,800 (the October 1, 1937, valuation of the Division of Highways) could be paid in full by 1956 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

An examination of these various computations demonstrates that even if the California Toll Bridge Authority acquired the Carquinez Bridge at the valuations of the Division of Highways with public ownership and operation the toll rates upon the Carquinez Bridge could be reduced by more than one-half. The rate upon the casual passenger automobile could be reduced from the present rate of 60 cents plus 10 cents for each passenger, including driver to 25 cents for the automobile and all passengers.

VI. Effect of Amortization of the Acquisition of Carquinez Bridge at the Cost of Erecting a New Bridge Coupled with State Ownership and Operation.

The discussion under the heading of subdivision V entitled "Effect of Amortization of Value Fixed by Department of Public Works Coupled with State Ownership and Operation of Carquinez Bridge" proceed upon the assumption that Carquinez Bridge was purchased by the California Toll Bridge Authority for $7,556,600 as of October 1, 1937, or for $7,225,000.

However, it must be remembered that the valuations of $7,556,600 and of $7,225,000 is based entirely upon the estimates of the Division of Highways of the future earnings and operating expenses of the Carquinez Bridge and upon the assumption that the public will be unable to secure a reduction in the excessive tolls now charged.

Therefore, in considering the question of the feasibility of the purchase of Carquinez Bridge, by agreement or negotiation, it is necessary to consider the possibilities of other values being placed upon the bridge.

As has already been stated, the Division of Highways has estimated that the cost of a new bridge would be approximately $5,800,000. Allowing an extra $200,000 for contingencies, a value of $6,000,000 would thus be obtained.

Upon that value, Deputy State Treasurer Robison has tabulated the amortization at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent and 4 per cent interest rates. His results are attached hereto as "Exhibit F".

He summarizes them as follows:

"This is in response to your request for tables as to how revenue from a 15 cent passenger car toll rate on the Carquinez Bridge would service bonds totaling \$6,000,000, based on interest rates of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent and 4 per cent, respectively.

The attached tabulations show revenue at such rates, and the application of such revenue towards retirement of a bonded indebtedness of $6,000,000 based on the two interest rates in accordance with your request. We believe the schedules and tabulations are self-explanatory.

We have continued the numbers of the schedules from the numbers of the schedules set out in our letter to you of March 15, 1937, covering other toll rates, and are referring to the methods of calculation by number for your convenience.

No. 10. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 15 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 50 cents for buses, and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual income of \$509,242.03, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of \$6,000,000 in full by 1953 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1954 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 11. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{3}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 15 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 50 cents for buses, and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of \$405,790.17, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$6,000,000 in full by 1959 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum or pay such indebtedness in full by 1960 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 12. Based on 1936 annual traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{3}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 15 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 50 cents for buses, and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$679,668.83, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$6,000,000 in full by 1948 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1949 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that no freight figures are available to be used in figuring revenue on truck tonnage, so we have merely used a flat rate of 75 cents for each truck. We understand that the revenue from freight tonnage would increase the revenue figures materially.

We also wish to comment, that with such low toll rates, your estimate of a mere 331 per cent traffic increase is very conservative, and, we believe, greatly underestimated.

We presume, as we did in our letter of March 15, 1937, that the entire expense of maintenance and operation will be paid out of the gas tax moneys. We also deducted the county tax of 2 per cent in accordance with your suggestion."

From these tabulations it is apparent that if the Carquinez Bridge were purchased at the cost of the erection of a new bridge—i. e., at its replacement value, that tolls of 15 cents per passenger automobile could be immediately established.

VII. Effect of Reduction of Tolls in Regard to Increasing Traffic.

It is a universally accepted principle of traffic that the volume of traffic is affected by the tolls charged upon such traffic. A lowering of the tolls will increase the traffic. A raising of the tolls will decrease the traffic. Three interesting examples of this principle is found in the history of San Francisco transbay traffic:

A. A striking example of the effect of a toll reduction is found in the case of the Oakland Pier Ferry. In 1923 and prior thereto, the Oakland Pier Ferry charged $1.05 to transport a casual automobile, and 8 cents per passenger. In December of 1923 this rate was reduced to 60 cents per automobile and 5 cents per passenger. In 1925, 1,558,536 vehicles used this service. In 1926, 2,707,066 vehicles used the same service, or an increase of over 80 per cent.

B. Another interesting Bay experience is found in the change of rates on the Golden Gate Ferry Company's San Francisco-Sausalito ferry. Prior to May 1, 1925, the rate on passenger cars was $1. On the first of May, 1925, the rate was reduced to 65 cents, and again on May 1, 1926, it was reduced from 65 cents to 60 cents. According to the reports on file in the Railroad Commission, from the first of May, 1924, until the thirtieth of April, 1925, the Golden Gate Ferry Company on its Sausalito-San Francisco ferry carried 515,563 vehicles at the rate of $1. From May 1, 1925, to April 30, 1926, 705,308 vehicles were carried at the 65 cent fare, or an increase of 36.7 per cent. From May 1, 1926, until April 30, 1927, 840,887 vehicles were carried at the still further reduced rate of 60 cents per vehicle, or an increase in traffic of almost 20 per cent.

C. In 1918, 35,088,000 passengers were carried on the East Bay ferries when the population of San Francisco and Alameda counties was 809,000, or a per capita travel of 43.4 per cent. In 1933, but 24,816,000 passengers were carried on the East Bay passenger ferries, while the population of San Francisco and Alameda counties has grown to 1,165,000. The per capita travel had decreased to 21.1 per cent.

or a shrinkage of more than half. In other words, there was less than half as many people per 1000 of population in the East Bay and San Francisco traveling on the East Bay passenger ferries in 1933 than there were in 1918.

This decrease is largely explained by the fact of a raise in rates from 10 cents to 21 cents and in commute rates from $3 to $6.50.

In view of these actual experiences in the nearby Bay Region it is believed that Mr. Robison's assumption of a 33 $\frac{1}{3}$  per cent increase of traffic over Carquinez Bridge by lowering the rates on the casual passenger automobile from 60 cents per automobile plus 10 cents per passenger to 25 cents per automobile with no charge for passengers is most conservative. Personally, it is my opinion that such a reduction would increase traffic considerably more than one-third.

This view is strengthened by a study of the traffic history of Carquinez Bridge and a consideration of the annual statistics of population, motor vehicle registration and gasoline consumption in the counties affording the greatest proportion of traffic to the Carquinez Bridge.

In 1928, there were 1,083,156 automobiles that crossed Carquinez Bridge. In 1936, there were 1,283,951 automobiles that crossed on an increase of 200,795 cars or 18 per cent.

In 1928, there were 44,432 trucks that crossed.

In 1936, there were 131,531 trucks that crossed, an increase of almost 300 per cent.

In 1928, there were 16,777 buses that crossed.

In 1936, there were 33,077 buses that crossed, an increase over 100 per cent.

What explanation can be given for the slight increase in eight years of but 18 per cent in automobile traffic over Carquinez Bridge when at the same time truck traffic increased 300 per cent and bus traffic 100 per cent?

The question becomes even more pointed when consideration is given to the statistics of population, motor registration and gasoline consumption of the 24 northern counties most vitally affected by Carquinez Bridge. Attached hereto and marked "Exhibit G" is a report upon these matters furnished me by the Legislative Counsel.

From 1928 to 1936 the population of these counties has increased from 1,544,079 to 1,883,758 or an increase of 339,679 persons.

In the same period, total number of motor vehicles registered in those counties has increased from 456,477 in 1928 to 586,491 in 1936 or an increase of 130,014 vehicles.

In the same period, gasoline consumption on those counties has increased from 237,701,644 gallons in 1928 to 345,750,401 gallons in 1936 or an increase of 118,048,757 gallons.

The failure of the passenger automobile traffic across Carquinez Bridge to keep pace with the truck and bus traffic across the same bridge and with population, motor vehicle registration and gasoline consumption can only be explained by the excessive tolls charged. When it costs a man in tolls practically as much to drive a machine from Sacramento to San Francisco and return as it does for a round trip ticket on the railroad or electric train, automobile traffic will be discouraged and hampered with a consequent hampering of the growth of the communities serviced by the bridge.

VIII. Conclusions.

From the facts submitted, it is readily apparent that a drastic lowering of the tolls across the Carquinez Bridge is both desirable and feasible. Such a reduction is essential to the full development of not only the Sacramento Valley, but likewise of Solano, Napa and Lake counties. It is also of vital importance to the business and industrial development of the metropolitan bay area.

The reduction in tolls can be accomplished through the purchase by agreement or condemnation of the Carquinez Bridge by the California Toll Bridge Authority, even at the excessive valuations set by the Division of Highways of the State Department of Public Works.

There need be and should be no waste of public funds, however, in the purchase of the bridge. To pay $7,250,000 or $7,500,000 for a bridge some nine years old, which cost only $7,000,000 to erect—and which could be duplicated today for less than $6,000,000—would be utterly without justification.

If the California Toll Bridge Authority is alive to its public responsibility, it can force a sale of the Carquinez Bridge to the State at a price which is fair to both the public and the franchise holder, or it can erect a new bridge across Carquinez Straits to be owned and operated by the public in the public interest.

It should be borne in mind that the Carquinez Bridge cost approximately $7,500,000, including all construction costs and $500,000 for promotional expense. It should likewise be borne in mind that at the end of last year the operators of the bridge had collected from the public, in tolls, $10,269,729, and that even with the deduction of all operating expenses, the bridge already has more than paid for itself.

To permit the bridge operators to continue to charge the present excessive tolls until the expiration of their franchise in March, 1948, would mean that $15,776,100 additional would be collected from the toll-paying public—of which more than $13,000,000 would be net profit to the bridge company.

In other words, the public under these conditions, would be required to pay for the bridge three times over!

It should be noted that the Carquinez Bridge, although privately-owned, is entirely dependent on publicly-owned, publicly-supported highways for its traffic. And apart from every other consideration, neither the State Department of Public Works nor the Toll Bridge Authority could possibly countenance the use of state-owned highways by a private corporation to exact such extortionate profits from the motoring public.

In the public interest, solution of the Carquinez Bridge problem is an urgent and immediate necessity.

Addendum.

Since the foregoing report was written, and on March 29, 1937, the Director of Public Works addressed a letter to the California Toll Bridge Authority indicating the possibility of the lowering of the tolls on the casual passenger automobile over Carquinez Bridge to 15 cents through the public ownership and operation.

This letter places a present value upon the Carquinez Bridge of $6,200,000 based upon the present market price of the stock of the American Toll Bridge Company and the call price of its outstanding bonds.

The letter further recognizes the probabilities of the issuance of revenue bonds bearing a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate and likewise recognizes that the costs of operation and maintenance should be paid out of gas tax funds. It likewise recognizes that the reductions of tolls to 15 cents per passenger automobile would result in an immediate increase of traffic which it estimates would be 15 per cent.

Upon the reading of this letter, upon my motion, the California Toll Bridge Authority unanimously passed a resolution authorizing and directing the Director of Public Works, Mr. Earl Lee Kelly, to enter into negotiations with the American Toll Bridge Company for the purchase of Carquinez Bridge.

As has been stated in this report, the Department of Public Works by the precise language of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act is charged with the responsibility of initiating any action for the acquisition of a privately owned toll bridge. The department is manned with engineers and a technical staff thoroughly qualified to advise the director as to any matters concerned with the acquisition of the bridge or to furnish him with any needed information. Thus the responsibility for immediate action is now definitely and squarely placed upon the Department of Public Works.

I have no reason to doubt that the Director of Public Works and his department will proceed at once in good faith to solve the evil of the excessive tolls upon Carquinez Bridge. They have the authority—they have the ability to do the job.

I therefore look forward to the acquisition by the public of Carquinez Bridge in the immediate future, resulting in a drastic reduction in tolls.

Respectfully submitted.

GEORGE J. HATFIELD,

Lieutenant Governor.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,

Honorable George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor,

State Capitol Building, Sacramento, California.

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: The attached are income figures for each year of operation of the Carquinez Bridge which you requested from Mr. Mitchell.

These figures have been summarized, together with similar figures for the Antioch Bridge, to show a complete statement for both the bridges operated jointly by the American Toll Bridge Company. The data has been taken from the Toll Bridge Company's records, and has been checked over as closely as possible in the limited time available. In order to obtain strictly accurate data, a complete audit requiring several weeks time and considerable expense would be required, and it is not believed the results of such an audit would materially modify any deduction which might be made from the data already obtained.

Very truly yours,

C. H. PURCELL, State Highway Engineer.

By G. T. McCox, Asst. State Highway Engineer.

Exhibit B.

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 10, 1937

*Honorable George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor of California,State Capitol, Sacramento, California.Subject: Right to Tax State-owned Property.*Request: 6764.*DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD:*QUESTION.

We have been asked to discuss the meaning and constitutionality of the last sentence of section 9 of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act (D. A. 956, as amended 1935:228:890). Leaving the discussion of the remainder of that sentence to a separate opinion, we shall discuss here that part of the sentence which reads as follows:

"When the State or any department or governmental agency thereof acquires any existing toll bridge or the real or personal property used in connection therewith, said property and toll bridge shall continue to be subject to taxation by the county, city and county, political subdivision and municipal corporation wherein the same is located * * *."

OPINION.

It is our opinion that this portion of the sentence purports to require the State to pay local ad valorem property taxes on the toll bridge which it acquires, and that this requirement is unconstitutional.

ANALYSIS.*I.

Article XIII, section 1, of our Constitution provides as follows:

"* * * property * * * such as may belong to * * * this State * * * shall be exempt from taxation * * * ."

This is a provision of a statutory character and is self-executing. "These are in fact but laws made directly by the people instead of by the Legislature and they are to be construed and enforced, in all respects, as though they were statutes * * * . In effect, these constitutional provisions are but statutes which the Legislature can not repeal or amend." Winchester vs. Powers, 136 Cal. 432, at 439.

II.

"Taxation," as used in section 1 of Article XIII of the Constitution, relates to such general taxes on property as are levied to defray the ordinary expenses of government, and not to special assessments for improvements, such as street improvements. This is the well-established law in this State, based on the decision in Emery vs. San Francisco Gas Company, 28 Cal. 345, which construed an analogous reference to taxation of property in section 12 of Article XI of the 1849 Constitution. The statute which we are discussing by its terms, relates to taxation on property and relates, therefore, to the same kind of taxation mentioned in section 1, Article XIII, of our Constitution.

III.

Property belonging to the State is clearly exempt, under section 1 of Article XIII, from taxation.

In Webster vs. Board of Regents, 163 Cal. 705, in considering whether a mortgage executed to the Regents of the University of California is taxable, the court says at page 708:

"The Constitution declares that all property belonging to the State shall be exempt from taxation. [Art. XIII, sec. 1.] A mortgage of land, executed to the Regents of the University of California, to secure money due said body for any purpose for which it was created, and the interest which it thereby, for the purposes of taxation, holds in the land, is the property of the State, within the meaning of this provision, and as such the said interest is exempt from taxation. (Citing cases.)"

In State Land Settlement Board vs. Henderson, 197 Cal. 470, the court is considering lands held by the State and open for settlement on the terms prescribed by the State Land Settlement Act. On page 480, the court says:

"The fact that the public lands in question were once held in private ownership can not affect the public character that such lands take on after purchase by the State for public purposes. If this argument should obtain, none of the lands belonging to the State and devoted to public uses could be exempt from taxation. We have no doubt but that property acquired by the board for the purpose of carrying out the objects of the act belongs to the State within the intent and meaning of the constitutional provision which exempts property from taxation, and that such property is property of the State of California. The word 'belong' is applied alike and with the same force and meaning to the United States, this State, and to counties and municipalities, and it seems to us was employed to denote an unqualified ownership of the property, not an ownership subject to the condition that it was to be used exclusively for governmental purposes. Certainly it was not intended to attach any such condition to property belonging to the United States or this State, and how can we give it a different meaning as applied to counties and municipalities?"

On page 481, the court says:

"The rule that provisions exempting property from taxation are to be strictly construed has no application to this case. In Pasadena vs. County of Los Angeles, 182 Cal. 171 (187 Pac. 418), speaking of the strict construction rule, it is said: 'That rule applies to exemptions of property held in private ownership. But where the question is whether or not public property shall be taxed, the rule is that it is not to be taxed unless there is express authority therefor • • •'."

IV.

The property of a public agency or public corporation is the same as the property of the State and is, therefore, exempt.

In Reclamation District No. 551 vs. County of Sacramento, 134 Cal. 477, the court was considering the attempt of the defendant to levy taxes on the property of the plaintiff, a reclamation district. On page 479, the court says:

"It is not necessary to hold this property, thus acquired, to be the property of a municipal corporation, in order to make it exempt from taxation. It would be sufficient to hold that it is public property of the State, within the meaning of the Constitution. The whole scheme of reclamation originates with the State, and is carried to a conclusion by agents of the State,—the district, as we have already seen, being a public agency,—in furtherance of public policy. The property mentioned in section 3471 of the Political Code is public property, acquired by the agents of the State, for State purposes, and we think is exempt from taxation as such * * *."

See, also, Turlock Irrigation District vs. White, 186 Cal. 183, which holds that an irrigation district is a public corporation and that its property is exempt from taxation under the express exemption of the property of the State, and not under a special exemption of the property of municipal corporations.

V.

The California Toll Bridge Authority is a State or public agency or public corporation.

In California Toll Bridge Authority vs. Kelly, 218 Cal. 7, there was considered the question whether the California Toll Bridge Authority was entitled, as the State is, to deposit any of its funds in a bank outside the State of California for the payment of interest on bonds, since it was not specifically mentioned in the Constitution as being entitled to do so. On page 16 the court says:

"There can be little question that the California Toll Bridge Authority is an agency of the State. Consequently, all moneys received from the sale of bonds and other tolls and from revenues of the bridge are in the custody of the State. Furthermore, while there is no express reference to the Bridge Authority as being a public corporation, we are satisfied that it is * * *."

It follows, therefore, that property held by the California Toll Bridge Authority is property of a State agency or public corporation or public agency, and is, therefore, exempt from taxation.

VI.

The Legislature can not take away the constitutional tax exemption.

In the case of St. John's Church vs. Los Angeles County, 5 Cal. App. 2d, 235, the court was considering the provision in section 3611 of the Political Code, which provides that if the church property tax exemption in Article XIII, section 1½, of the Constitution is not claimed in the manner and within the time required by section 3611, such failure "shall be deemed a waiver of such exemption by such person, institution or association by whom or on whose behalf such exemption is claimed." The court held that this provision purported to put the burden of proof of right to claim the exemption on the person claiming it, if the person failed to make affidavit as required, but "the authority to levy such a tax thus withheld can not be acquired by a statute providing, in effect, that if the owner does not claim the exemption before the assessment roll is completed the tax will be levied." In other words, if an exemption is granted by the Constitution, the Legislature can not, in effect, repeal the exemption.

Accordingly, when the statute in question attempts to make toll bridges acquired by the California Toll Bridge Authority subject to property taxation, it is unconstitutional, since the Legislature can not, in effect, repeal the exemption specified in section 1 of Article XIII.

Although reference is herein made to the fact that under some circumstances publicly owned property may be subject to a special assessment for improvements, no inference is to be drawn therefrom that it is our opinion that a state-owned toll bridge would be subject to such a special assessment.

According to the cases of Inglewood vs. County of Los Angeles, 207 Cal. 697, City of Fresno vs. Fresno Irrigation District, 72 Cal. App. 503, and San Diego vs. Linda Vista Irrigation District, 108 Cal. 189, it appears that certain publicly owned land is subject to special assessments, as distinguished from taxation, if (1) there is specific provision in the law for such assessments, or (2) the land is not devoted to public use. However, in this case the statute does not specifically provide that the property may be subjected to special assessment, and since, under section 2618 of the Political Code, a bridge is a public highway, it appears that the bridge is clearly used for a public purpose. It seems, therefore, that the Carquinez Bridge would not be subject to any special assessments.

Very truly yours,

ALVIN P. JACOBS,

Deputy Legislative Counsel.

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 10, 1937.

*Honorable George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor of California, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.Subject: Liability of State to Pay Counties for Use of Franchise Acquired by State.*Request No. 6764.

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: You ask as to the meaning and legal effect of that portion of the last sentence of section 9 of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act (Deering Act. No. 956) which reads as follows:

"When the State or any department or governmental agency thereof acquires any existing toll bridge or the real or personal property used in connection therewith. * * * the State shall pay to the county or city and county granting the franchise for said bridge such amounts as may become due to such county or city and county for the franchise for the construction of such toll bridge."

We will consider this in its relation to the county ordinance which granted a franchise for the existing Carquinez Toll Bridge. That ordinance requires the grantee of the franchise to pay certain moneys. This requirement is expressed in the following terms:

"That the license tax to be paid by the Rodeo-Vallejo Ferry Co., a corporation, its successors and assigns, for taking tolls on said bridge shall be one hundred ($100) dollars per month payable annually, commencing from date of the operation of said bridge. That two (2) per cent of the gross receipts derived from the use and operation of said bridge shall also and in addition be paid to the county of Contra Costa, for the benefit of the counties of Contra Costa and Solano for the use of said franchise."

The $100 per month payments, thus required, appear to be in the nature of a license tax, and, as such, duly authorized by section 2845 of the Political Code.

As to the 2 per cent of gross receipts, it is not definitely settled whether the same are in the nature of a license tax, or consideration for the granting of the franchise, or a condition upon which the franchise was granted. These questions are involved in a suit now pending before the Supreme Court, County of Contra Costa vs. Am. Toll Bridge Co., S. F. No. 15,342.

The county claims that the percentage requirement is either consideration for the franchise or a condition upon which it was granted. The company claims it is in the nature of a license tax and, as such, not within the power of the county (under the Political Code) to impose or collect.

The superior court, we are informed, gave judgment for the county.

Should it be finally held that this feature is a license tax, it would then seem to follow that it is not collectible. Section 2845, Political Code, prescribes $100 per month as the maximum amount of "license tax" which the county may fix. It is clear that the county could not impose a different tax or a higher ratio of tax than authorized by the applicable statute. (Ferguson vs. Gardner, 86 Cal App 421; American Co. vs. City of Lakeport, 220 Cal 548.)

Should the State acquire the Carpinuez Toll Bridge, section 9 of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act would come into play, for whatever legal effect it may have.

It becomes material, therefore, to consider whether or not the State, in such case, would be required to pay the county:

(1) A license tax, such as the $100 per month, or the 2 per cent of the gross receipts, in case the latter be deemed a license tax;

(2) Money payments imposed as a "condition," in case the 2 per cent of gross be deemed such;

(3) Money payments imposed as "consideration," in case the 2 per cent of gross be deemed such.

OBIGATION OR LACK OF OBIGATION OF THE STATE TO PAY THE COUNTY IN THE ABSENCE OF SECTION 9 OF THE TOLL BRIDGE AUTHORITY ACT

When a county grants a franchise, it does so merely as an agent of the State. The franchise is really granted by the State, the county acting merely as the instrumentality through which the State makes the grant. Fall vs. County of Sutter, 21 Cal 237.

The State can take away any powers which it has given to a political subdivision. Paehuska vs. Paehuska Oil Co., 250 U. S. 394, cited with approval in Road Commission of California vs. Los Angeles Ry. Corporation, 280 U. S. 156.

"A license tax is not a tax upon property but a burden imposed for the right to exercise a franchise or privilege which could be withheld or forbidden altogether, and the sum to be charged is merely used as a mode of computing the amount to be paid for the exercise of the privilege." McQuillin on Municipal Corporations, 2d edition, section 1092, citing, among other cases, Sonora vs. Curtin, 137 Cal. 583, and San Francisco vs. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 74 Cal. 113.

Should the State acquire the franchise, it would take back only that which it had given in the first place, even though given through a county as agent of the State. It would seem to follow, therefore, that there would remain no "right to exercise a franchise or privilege, which could be withheld or forbidden altogether," on which the burden of a license tax could be placed.

In the absence of the statute (section 9) which we are considering, it would appear that the State would have no obligation to pay any license tax to the county for the franchise of collecting tolls on the toll bridge, since the State would need no franchise to operate the toll bridge.

If the percentage of the gross receipts be held to be a condition for the granting of the franchise, as is indicated in a dictum in People vs. State Board of Tax Commissioners, 67 N. E. (N. Y.) 69 at 77, it would appear that, in the absence of the statute in question, the State would not be obligated to make any payment.

The bridge company is only bound by the conditions if it accepts the franchise, and if the company does not wish to pay the amount specified, it need not accept the franchise. 19 R.C.L. 1153.

However, since it is really the State which is granting the franchise through its agent, the county, no conditions may be attached to the exercise of the franchise by the State itself. The franchise is not granted to the State; it is granted by it.

If the percentage of the gross receipts be considered as consideration for the granting of the franchise, as it appears to be under the case of County of Tulare vs. Dinuba, 188 Cal. 664, it would seem that, in the absence of the statute in question, the State would not be bound to make the payment, since the State would be merely exercising the right which it already had, and the use of which it had granted through its agent, the county. There would not be apparent any consideration to the State for an agreement to pay its agent for this privilege.

If this reasoning be sound, the State would not have to pay either the $100 per month or the 2 per cent of the gross receipts upon taking over the toll bridge, in the absence of the statute in question.

OBLIGATION OR LACK OF OBLIGATION OF THE STATE TO PAY THE COUNTY, UNDER SECTION 9 OF THE TOLL BRIDGE AUTHORITY ACT.

If, in the absence of said section 9, there would be no legal obligation on the part of the State to pay any money to the county, upon acquiring the bridge, section 9 (if effective) would, we believe, operate as an appropriation of State funds for local purposes.

It does not appear competent for the State to do that.

The Legislature has no power to impose a tax on a county for county purposes. (Calif. Const. Art. XI sec. 12.) Under a similar constitutional provision it has been held that the power to appropriate is no greater than the power to tax. (Gen. Irr. Dist. vs. Van Deusen, 31 Idaho 779, 176 Pac. 887.)

In California it has been held that the State can not appropriate money to a county for local purposes, that if the appropriation does not specify the purpose for which the county is to spend the money

(whether State or local) the presumption is that the Legislature intends to act under the Constitution, that it intended the funds be used solely for State purposes. (County of L. A. vs. Riley, 6 Cal. (2d) 625.)

As to section 9 it might be possible for a court to hold that the Legislature intended such payment from the State to the county to be devoted by the county to State uses and purposes. However, that is not a probable result because of the peculiar provisions of the ordinance granting the franchise which declares that the 2 per cent of gross receipts shall be paid to the county—

“for the benefit of the counties of Contra Costa and Solano.”

This declaration seems to speak of county, not State, purposes.

In contrast, the appropriation measure involved in County of L. A. vs. Riley, 6 Cal. (2d) 625, required the counties to spend the money “for law enforcement and the regulation and control and fire protection of highway traffic.”

We believe, therefore, it is likely it would be held that the provisions of section 9 first above quoted, in their application to the situation presented by the Carquinez franchise ordinance, operate as an appropriation of State money to the counties, for county purposes, hence ineffective and inoperative.

While we can not indicate a conclusion with positive assurance, we believe the factors herein discussed are the pertinent factors and that they indicate the State would be under no obligation to pay to the counties of Contra Costa or Solano any part of the $100 per month, nor any part of the gross receipts, should the State acquire the Carquinez Toll Bridge.

Yours very truly,

ALVIN P. JACOBS, Deputy Legislative Counsel

Honorable George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor, 209 State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: We are furnishing the following information to you in accordance with your request for tables of the amount of revenue from reduced toll rates on the Carquinez Bridge necessary to service bonds to be used in purchasing the structure by the California Toll Bridge Authority.

The attached tabulations covering revenue and the application of such revenue towards retirement of bonded indebtedness on the bridge are based on an interest rate of 3½ per cent and 4 per cent, respectively, and we believe the schedules are self-explanatory.

We have worked out several different tolls, with and without a charge for passengers, and have used the annual totals of such tolls as revenue available for the payment of bonds. For your convenience in referring to the listings we have identified the different methods by number:

No. 1. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses, and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of $554,758.99, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of $7,556,800 in full by 1956, with interest at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1958 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 2. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual income of \$759,658.74, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1950 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent or 4 per cent per annum.

No. 3. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{4}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses, and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of \$739,679.01, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1950 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1951 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 4. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{4}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 35 cents for automobiles, buses and other vehicles and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$1,012,878.66, which, according to the attached schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1946 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1947 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 5. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 25 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 75 cents for trucks, and 50 cents for buses, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$636,881.55, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1953 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full in 1954 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 6. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{4}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 25 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 75 cents for trucks, and 50 cents for buses, less 2 per cent county tax, (no charge for passengers) would bring in an annual income of \$575,976.13, which, according to the attached amortization schedules would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in full by 1955 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1956 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 7. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{4}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 25 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 75 cents for trucks, and 50 cents for buses, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$849,854.79, which, according to the attached amortization schedules would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$7,566,800 in full by 1948 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full in 1949 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 8. Shows the amount of principal and interest necessary to pay off indebtedness of \$7,556,800 in 20 years using a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate and a 4 per cent interest rate, respectively.

No. 9. Shows the amount of principal and interest necessary to pay off indebtedness of \$7,225,700 in 20 years using a  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent interest rate and a 4 per cent interest rate, respectively.

We are presuming, in furnishing you this data, that the entire expense of maintaining and operating the bridge would be paid by the Division of Highways out of the gas tax moneys. The only charge against the revenue would possibly be premiums on insurance covering the structure.

There is also some question as to whether or not the county tax of 2 per cent should be deducted after 1948, however, you are much more familiar with those problems than we are and, no doubt, have already taken such questions into consideration.

Respectfully yours,

A. Q. ROBISON, Deputy State Treasurer.

Exhibit F.

TREASURER OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Honorable George J. Hatfield,Lieutenant Governor,209 State Capitol,Sacramento, California.

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: This is in response to your request for tables as to how revenue from a 15 cent passenger car toll rate on the Carquinez Bridge would service bonds totaling \$6,000,000, based on interest rates of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent and 4 per cent, respectively.

The attached tabulations show revenue at such rates, and the application of such revenue towards retirement of a bonded indebtedness of $6,000,000 based on the two interest rates in accordance with your request. We believe the schedules and tabulations are self-explanatory.

We have continued the numbers of the schedules from the numbers of the schedules set out in our letter to you of March 15, 1937, covering other toll rates, and are referring to the methods of calculation by number for your convenience.

No. 10. Based on 1936 traffic, tolls of 15 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 50 cents for busses, and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual income of \$509,242.03, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay bonded indebtedness of \$6,000,000 in full by 1953 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1954 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 11. Based on 1936 traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{4}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 15 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 50 cents for buses, and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax and charge for passengers, would bring in an annual income of \$405,790.17, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$6,000,000 in full in 1959 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum or pay such indebtedness in full by 1960 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

No. 12. Based on 1936 annual traffic, plus a  $33\frac{1}{4}$  per cent increase in such traffic, tolls of 15 cents for automobiles and other vehicles, 50 cents for buses, and 75 cents for trucks, less 2 per cent county tax, plus a toll of 5 cents per passenger, would bring in an annual revenue of \$679,668.83, which, according to the attached amortization schedules, would be sufficient to pay a bonded indebtedness of \$6,000,000 in full by 1948 with interest at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum, or pay such indebtedness in full by 1949 using a 4 per cent interest rate.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that no freight figures are available to be used in figuring revenue on truck tonnage, so we have merely used a flat rate of 75 cents for each truck. We understand that the revenue from freight tonnage would increase the revenue figures materially.

We also wish to comment, that with such low toll rates, your estimate of a mere  $33\frac{1}{3}$  per cent traffic increase is very conservative, and, we believe, greatly underestimated.

We presume, as we did in our letter of March 15, 1937, that the entire expense of maintenance and operation will be paid out of the gas tax moneys. We also deducted the county tax of 2 per cent in accordance with your suggestion.

Respectfully yours,

A. Q. ROBISON,
Deputy State Treasurer.

The registration figures have been taken from the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles and can be regarded as accurate.

The population figures from 1927 to 1929, inclusive, represent estimates made by the State Department of Education, Division of Research and Statistics; those for 1930 are based upon the United States census of that year; those from 1931 to 1935, inclusive, are estimates made by the California Taxpayers' Association; those for 1936 are estimates made by this office. In computing the latter we used as a prime factor the percentage of increase or decrease in the 1936 motor vehicle registration figures as compared with those for 1935.

We arrived at the gasoline consumption figures by calculating the yearly percentage of registered vehicles in each county to the total number of registered vehicles in the State, and multiplying the total gallonage taxed in the State during the particular year by the percentage thus obtained. The net result is nothing more nor less than a fair approximation but is, we believe, no less accurate than one that might be reached through the use of some other formula.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD,

Legislative Counsel.

By J. GOULD,

Assistant Counsel.

Communication.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 4, 20, 1937.

Honorable George J. Hatfield, President of the Senate, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Subject: VOTE REQUIRED ON URGENCY MEASURES.

Request No. 7409.

MR. PRESIDENT: You have asked us the following questions:

(1) How many votes are required to pass the section constituting the statement of facts required to be present in a bill which is to take effect as an urgency measure, as necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, or safety?

(2) How many votes are required to pass the bill itself?

1. The procedure relative to the vote upon such a section is contained in this single sentence:

"Whenever it is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety that a law shall go into immediate effect, a statement of the facts constituting such necessity shall be set forth in one section of the act, which section shall be passed only by a yeas and nays vote upon a separate roll call thereon; * * *" (Sec. 1, Art. IV, State Constitution.)

It may well be that this sentence does not require that such a section be passed by a two-thirds vote. However, Joint Rule 23, as embodied in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 2 (Chapter 150), reads as follows:

"23. Upon the third reading of a bill which is an urgency measure setting the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the State Constitution, the presiding officer shall direct that the section of said bill setting forth the facts constituting the necessity for such urgency (which shall be known as the urgency section) be then read and put to vote. The question shall be this: 'Shall this section, setting forth the urgency features of this bill, be passed?' If upon such final vote two-thirds of all the members elected to the house in which the vote is being taken shall not vote in the affirmative, no further action shall be taken on the bill, but, in case an identical bill without such an emergency clause be again introduced into such house, such bill shall be placed on the without reference to any committee."

From this language, it would appear that a two-thirds vote of the members elected to the house in which the vote is being taken would be necessary to the passage of the "urgency section."

2. The fourth paragraph of section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution provides, in part, as follows:

"* * * urgency measures necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, passed by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each house * * *."

This language would seem to require that the "measure" (bill) itself be passed by a two-thirds vote.

This provision does not apply to: (1) acts ending elections, or, (2) tax levies or appropriations for the usual current expenses of the State. Ruth Douglass vs. Johnson, (1936) 13 Cal. App. (2d), 720, at page 726.

If we can be of any further assistance to you in this respect, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Very truly yours,

SIDNEY L. WEINSTOCK,
Deputy Legislative Counsel.

Approved: FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

You will notice on your desk two attractive packages, one containing what is known as Sunsweet Tenderized Prunes, the other a bottle containing a wonderful healthful drink known as Sunsweet Prune Juice.

These are products presented to you through the courtesy of the California Prune and Apricot Growers Association, a group of cooperatively-minded growers who have for the past 20 years been working together to try to solve their mutual problems. They have at the present time some $4,000,000 invested in their business of packing and distribution. They have purchased the work of pack improvement and have spent millions in advertising, increasing the quantity of their finished product and developing new varieties of prunes, and these packages now on your desk represent years of work by this association for the benefit of this important industry. Last year in excess of 75,000 tons of dried fruit products were processed and sold by this organization in this country, and the world's markets. Its membership extends from the Mexican line to the Oregon border, many of its members live in our metropolitan area, consequently are our constituents.

I hope you will enjoy this slight token of good will that this organization has extended toward the members of this Legislature. It certainly has given our association pleasure to be able to do it.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

The manufacture of alcoholic beverages, particularly wine, and the raising of wine grapes are important and growing industries in this State, and are the means of livelihood of many thousands of citizens. It is necessary for the continued growth and prosperity of these industries that the market for their products in other States be free from discriminatory restrictions. Such restrictions have been imposed by the legislatures of several States and further restrictions are proposed by pending legislation in many of the States in which the industries are now in process. The enactment of such legislation will impose the heaviest and most onerous of this State, and result in unemployment. The legislation proposed by this act is part of a plan for the elimination of interstate restrictions upon the sale of alcoholic beverages. It is necessary that this act take immediate effect in order that the legislatures of other States may be dissuaded to refrain from enacting further discriminatory legislation and that they may be impelled to repeal existing discriminatory provisions in their laws.

To Joseph A. Beck, Secretary of the Senate,

Reading of Communications.

The President of the Senate presented numerous communications advocating the adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 33 requesting the Governor to pardon Thomas J. Mooney, which were read, and ordered filed in the records of the Senate.

Consideration of Special Order.

The hour having arrived for the consideration of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 33, heretofore set as a special order for three o'clock and thirty minutes p.m., the same was taken up for consideration.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 33.

Requesting the Governor to grant a full and complete pardon to Thomas J. Mooney.

WHEREAS, On February 9, 1917, in the superior court of the State of California in and for the City and County of San Francisco, Thomas J. Mooney was convicted of the crime of murder in connection with the bombing at the Agricultural Day Parade in the city of San Francisco on July 22, 1916, resulting in the death of several persons; and

WHEREAS, Thomas J. Mooney was thereafter sentenced to death, which sentence was later commuted by the Governor of the State of California to life imprisonment; and

WHEREAS, The said Thomas J. Mooney has since said conviction been imprisoned in the State Prison at San Quentin, where he is still confined as a life prisoner; and

WHEREAS, It has since been shown that the conviction of said Thomas J. Mooney was based upon false and perjured testimony, and it is now fully evident that said Thomas J. Mooney is innocent of the crime for which he was convicted, and should be granted immediately a full and complete pardon; and set at liberty; and, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate thereof concurring, A majority of all members elected to each having voted therefor and assented therein, That the Governor of this State is hereby requested to grant to said Thomas J. Mooney a full and complete pardon; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Governor of this State.

Resolution read.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution:

AYES—Senators, Crittenden, Fletcher, Hollister, Jepsen, McGovern, Olson, Swing, and Westover—8.

NOES—Senators, Allen, Bigger, Cunningham, DeLap, Donel, Garrison, Hays, Holohan, Keating, Keough, Knowland, Law, McBrine, McCormack, Mosier, Moxter, Nielsen, Parkman, Phillips, Pionovich, Powers, Quinn, Rich, Schatzky, Seawell, Slater, Tickle, Waggy, Williams, and Young—30.

Explanation of Vote.

The following explanation of vote on Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 33, by Senator Fletcher, was ordered printed in the Journal:

I am not appealing to the members of this Senate to vote for this resolution on the question of Mooney's guilt or innocence. None of us have legally been in a position to hear the evidence and decide the question on its merits, but my conscience compels me to support this resolution and for the following reasons:

He has paid his debt to society, has been in prison for nearly 21 years, has been a model of good behavior, and as is customary, is entitled to nearly a year's credit for each year of good behavior.

I have had much experience in connection with the parole and pardon of men from San Quentin and Folsom Prisons. I do not claim to be any shining light, but I have had the privilege and pleasure of having paroled over 100 men, including murderers. A murderer in San Diego sentenced to life was paroled by me after 14 years—that man has made good and is one of our most respected citizens today. Only nine out of the 100 odd men that I have paroled failed to make good. I am proud of that record, also of our splendid parole system.

With the experience that I have had, I feel that I can speak more or less authoritatively when I say, guilty or not, Tom Mooney should be given the benefit of the doubt—he is entitled by all the rules of the game to a pardon—he could have had a parole several years ago but refused it, and after 21 years in the penitentiary, he has certainly fulfilled his obligation to society and is entitled to a pardon.

I beg of you, in the interest of fair play, irrespective of prejudice and without passing on the guilt or innocence of Mooney, vote "yes" on this resolution.

Explanation of Vote.

The following explanation of vote on Assembly Joint Resolution No. 33, by Senator McGovern, was ordered printed in the Journal:

Thomas J. Mooney's ideas on economics, religion and politics are so inconsistent with the views of most Californians that it has been difficult to obtain an impartial judgment of his case. Despite my personal disagreement with his views I can not agree that he should be kept in jail for his beliefs, erroneous as they are. A calm and deliberate study of the Mooney case leads to the inevitable conclusion that this man was found guilty on account of what he believed rather than for any acts proved. The case against him did not carry conviction of guilt in an unprejudiced mind to a moral certainty and beyond all reasonable doubt. His conviction was the result of emotion rather than of cool reasoning. Practically all the testimony against him has been so thoroughly discredited that his continued imprisonment is, in my opinion, a serious reflection on our administration of justice.

Our courts are our surest protection to life, liberty and property rights. They must be kept above suspicion. In these days when so much superficial criticism is directed at our judicial system we should be particularly jealous of its good reputation. Californians are a brave and manly people. They should not fear to face the facts. All the circumstances in the Mooney case justify his immediate pardon.

Communication.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 8, 1937.

Hon. George J. Hatfield, President of the Senate,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Request No. 7756.

MR. PRESIDENT: This is in response to your request for our opinion concerning your power as President of the Senate to rule upon the question of whether, when the question is raised in regard to a bill which was introduced in its incomplete form in the Assembly and subsequently amended there into a complete bill and passed by that house.

Following such action, the due passage of the bill has been certified by the officers of that house and the bill, complete on its face, has been transmitted to the Senate, where it is under consideration, when a point of order is raised. The point of order alleges that the bill was a skeleton at the time it was introduced in the other house and that it does not now and never can constitute a bill at all. (See Opinion of the Attorney General, Senate Daily Journal for March 1, 1937, Re: Skeleton Bills.)

It is our opinion that the certification of the due passage of the bill by the officers of the Assembly precludes the consideration of the nature of the measure at the time of its introduction in that house and the changes which the questioner undertakes in the course of its passage there.

It is our thought that the declaration that the bill has passed the Assembly constitutes an official attestation by the officers of the Assembly that the bill has duly complied with the requirements of the Constitution so far as that house is concerned, and that the comity existing between each house of the Legislature and the presiding officers thereof, requires that the official acts of one house and its officers receive the acquiescence of the other without question in the same manner that the courts accept as conclusive, the attestation of both presiding officers that a bill has duly passed the Legislature.

This question in its larger aspect involves the right of the presiding officer to rule upon the constitutionality of a bill. As a general rule, his power to do this is denied. (Mason, Manual of Legislative Procedure, sec. 402.) However, the duty of attesting to the due passage of a bill is an essential act in the process of legislation. If the purpose of attestation were simply to identify the bill, it could as well have been placed upon a clerk or other subordinate legislative officer and would constitute a mere ministerial act.

But the Constitution has prescribed certain requirements with which a bill must comply in the course of its passage. The certification of such compliance with these requirements is vested in the presiding officer under the enrolled bill rule since the facts thereof are not apparent on the face of the bill. (Sherman vs. Sharp (1886), 30 Cal. 253.) In the exercise of this power, the presiding officer has no authority to attest by his signature any bill which has not been duly passed by the house over which he presides, but to concede this general principle does not determine the precise question here raised.

It remains to inquire as to the nature of the evidence upon which action may be had, when the issue was raised as to whether the constitutional requirements have been met. While the consideration of the measure in the Senate takes place under your guidance, and the records and journals are compiled by your officers, and there is competent evidence to otherwise ascertain the facts concerning the passage of a measure, such is not the case in regard to the method by which the measure was considered in the Assembly.

There the certification of the bill by the officers constitutes an official attestation that the bill has duly passed the Assembly. It is the declaration of the Assembly, through its officers, that the bill thus attested has duly complied with the constitutional requirements, and following which the bill has been delivered to you for your attestation that, in its consideration by the Senate, compliance was had with the same constitutional requirements in the course of its passage.

Since it is felt that the scope of your attestation concerns no more than the certification of the action had in the Senate upon the bill, the nature of the process in the other house is immaterial, and in addition, the point of order which has been raised is without evidentiary support, so that it may be overruled.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency:

The peace, safety and welfare of citizens of this State are dependent upon immediate relief from the payment of principal or installments thereof due upon such assessments, taxes, and bonds, by reason of the fact that the present economic crisis has made the owners of property upon which such lien falls unable to pay the principal due thereon. The property, as a result of the depression, has neither a reasonable existing sale value, nor does it at present furnish satisfactory realizable security for raising funds for the payment of these bonds. If this act does not take effect immediately, these persons may lose their homes as a result of proceedings arising out of the nonpayment of these sums, the burden of their support and maintenance will have to be assumed by the State or by local taxation, to the great injury of the State or local government of this State. When a moratorium is declared upon such payments, it would be grossly inequitable and would cause financial ruin to guarantors not to extend to them similar relief. It is therefore necessary that the temporary relief given by this act be immediately extended and this act should therefore take effect immediately.

Recess.

Address.

The following address was delivered to the Senate by Mrs. Florence Danforth Boyle:

Honorable Chairman:

Members of the Senate:

As Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, I bring you greetings from the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

May you ever continue to keep alive the ideals set down for us by our pioneer fathers and mothers.

No State in our great Union is filled with more of real romance and tragedy in its making than our own California.

We are organized on the same principals and with the same ideals as our brother order, the Native Sons of the Golden West.

We believe the perservation of the early history of our Golden State, with its romance, its tragedies, its sacrifices, is the sacred heritage left to the native born of California.

We believe that all historical spots should be marked so that the rising generation and those coming from other States and countries to enjoy the fruits of the labors of our pioneer fathers and mothers should love its history as we do.

We believe in preserving the names of every man, woman and child who came to California either by land or by sea, for truly each did their part in the building of our glorious State.

We are also a patriotic organization. Daily we renew our pledge to State and Nation and to our homes, for to be good American citizens we must be loyal to all three.

We endeavor to bring happiness and encouragement to those brave men and women who offered up their lives in sacrifice of Old Glory during the Great War. Twenty seven hundred of brother Native Sons entered the Service at that time.

We believe in high educational ideals. We find homes for homeless children, for truly this work was started in those early days when children left motherless or fatherless on that trying trip to California were always taken in by some other good family and brought to the new land.

As those good men and women came to this new land in search of adventure, in search of new homes and new fortunes, and looked upon California as their land of hope and golden promise, will you, as members of the Legislature of the State of California, endeavor to help us to make their dream a realization by keeping alive their ideals set down for us?

I thank you.

FLORENCE DANFORTH BOYLE,
Grand President of the Native
Daughters of the Golden West.

Explanation of Vote.

The following explanation of vote on Senate Bill No. 310, by Senator Allen, was ordered printed in the Journal:

In order that there might be no misunderstanding in regard to Senate Bill No. 310 by Senator Quinn, relative to the rolling of the waters of the Klamath River, I desire to state that this is a compromise measure reached by the representatives of the sporting interests and the miners after many hearings and conferences. The sportsmen appointed a representative committee and the miners did likewise, and those two committees met and the final outcome of many protracted meetings was this amended bill. In consenting to the bill both sides yielded some of the things they were contending for. The miners gave up the right to carry on hydraulic mining from July 1st to November 30th, and also gave up the right to carry on any other mining that might result in rolling the Klamath River at the mouth of the Salmon River beyond 50 parts per million of weight of suspended matter. They did this with the understanding that all other bills affecting the rolling of the waters of this river would be dropped, and that the matter would be definitely settled. The mining interests also agreed to cooperate as far as possible to see that this law is complied with, and having yielding these points, that the other bills affecting this matter, particularly the Burns Bill, now pending in the Senate, and the Dawson

Bill should be withdrawn or amended to conform with the provisions of the Quinn Bill. We believe that any attempt now to force these other bills through the Legislature would be a breach of faith with the mining interests, and I support this bill with the understanding and belief that the Legislature will discontinue any attempt to change the provisions of the bill by amendment or otherwise, and I ask the support of this bill on this condition and this alone.

"Declaration of Public Policy. The business of operating as a motor carrier of passengers for hire or compensation along the highways of this State is declared to be a business affected with the public interest. The rapid increase of motor carrier traffic, and the fact that under existing law many motor vehicles for hire are not effectively regulated, have increased the dangers and hazards on public highways and make it imperative that more stringent regulation should be employed, to the end that the highways may be rendered safer for the use of the general public; that the wear of such highways may be reduced; that discrimination in rates charged may be eliminated; that discrimination between various forms of transportation may be eliminated; that congestion of traffic on the highways may be minimized; that the use of the highways for the transportation of persons for hire may be restricted to the extent required by the necessity of the general public; that the general public be protected from the hazards of irresponsible motor carriers of passengers and their agents; and that the various highways transportation agencies of the State may be adjusted and correlated so that public highways may serve the best interest of the general public. The State should foster a fair distribution of its traffic to the end that all necessary transportation facilities shall be maintained, and to the end that the public shall not be inconvenienced by inordinate use of its highways for purposes of gain.

All fees provided for by this act shall be deposited in the State treasury to the credit of the commission, and a portion thereof of the amount appropriated for the support of the commission and may be expended by the commission for the administration of this act.

SEC. 7. Before issuing any permit hereunder, the commission shall give such public notice of the application therefor as in its judgment shall be reasonable, and in addition to such public notice, shall forward by mail notice of the application to (1) the board of supervisors of each county, and city and county, and to the city council or other governing body of each municipality in, to, from, or through which, the applicant proposes to operate; (2) the Department of Motor Vehicles of the State of California; and (3) to the passenger stage corporations then operating passenger stages in, from, to or through any city, city and county, or municipality proposed to be served by applicant, and if protest be made by any such boards of supervisors or other governing bodies, or by such department, or by any person or corporation claiming to be affected, within twenty days after such mailing, then no action shall be taken upon such application, except after a public hearing, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 8. The commission shall, subject to the provisions of this act, from time to time promulgate rules and regulations respecting the issuance of permits and for the conduct of investigations and hearings as provided herein.

SEC. 9. The commission shall not issue a permit, with or without hearing, unless and until the applicant for such permit shall produce, under oath (in the form of affidavits if no hearing is required by section 7 of this act), good and sufficient evidence upon which the commission may find, and before issuing a permit the commission shall, in writing, find that the following, and each of them, are true, to wit:

(a) that the particular public highway or highways designated in the application are of such type or construction, or in such state of repair, or subject to such use, as to permit the use sought to be made thereof by applicant, without unnecessary or unreasonable inconvenience, congestion, interference, or hazard to or with the use of such highways by the general public for highway purpose; or unnecessary or unreasonable wear and tear thereof.

(b) that the proposed operation by applicant will not impair the efficient public service of any passenger stage corporation then serving to, from, or between any city, city and county, or municipality proposed to be served by applicant.

(c) that each and every city, city and county, or municipality to, from, or between which applicant proposes to serve is then being inadequately served by the passenger stage corporations then authorized by the commission to serve the same.

(g) that the applicant has complied with the requirements of Chapter 339, Statutes of 1933, as amended.

(h) that applicant has complied with the requirements of section 17 of this act.

(i) that applicant has complied with the requirements of section 18 of this act.

(j) that applicant has complied with the requirements of section 19 of this act.

Every permit issued under the provisions of this act shall bear on its face a written condition, among such others as the commission may impose, that said permit shall not be effective until the applicant therefor has complied with section 13 of this act.

SEC. 10. If the commission shall determine, as a result of the investigations aforesaid, that a permit should be issued containing restrictions as to the type or types of service which only may be given thereunder, or any other restriction or restrictions consistent with the purposes of this act, then said commission may grant a permit containing such restrictions.

SEC. 11. The commission is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty, to prescribe rules and regulations, covering the operation of motor carriers of passengers on public highways in this State; and the commission shall prescribe minimum rates and or charges to be collected by such motor carrier or carriers of passengers which shall not be less than the rates and or charges of a passenger stage corporation for substantially the same service, as the same may be published from time to time in lawful tariffs then or thereafter on file with the commission.

SEC. 12. Every permit issued under this act shall specify the termini, territory and routes to which it shall apply, the type of service which may be rendered thereunder, and a description of each vehicle covered thereby, and such other conditions as the commission may impose.

Every permit issued under the provisions of this act shall state the number of vehicles that the therein named motor carrier of passengers is permitted to operate under the authority of said permit. No motor carrier of persons shall own or operate more motor vehicles for the transportation of persons for hire or compensation than is stated in said permit; any motor carrier of passengers operating under a permit, as in this act provided, desiring to increase the number of motor vehicles to be operated by said motor carrier of passengers in the transportation of persons for hire shall file with the commission an amendatory or supplementary application so to do and said amendatory or supplementary application shall conform to, and be noticed, heard and passed on, in the same manner as an original application for a permit.

SEC. 13. After obtaining from the commission the permit provided for in section 9 of this act, and upon every renewal of said permit, the motor carrier of passengers named in said permit shall obtain from the department number plates or emblems for each motor vehicle operated, or to be operated, by said motor carrier of passengers indicating that the permit provided for in section 9 of this act has been obtained. The number plates or emblems herein provided for shall be separate from and in addition to the number plates or emblems required by the Vehicle Code, as amended, and Chapter 339, Statutes of 1933, as amended, and shall be of a distinctive color and design from those required by said Vehicle Code and said Chapter 339 and shall be 13 1/2 inches in length and 6 1/2 inches in width. Such number plates or emblems shall be attached to and conspicuously displayed upon each of the motor vehicles authorized to be operated by said permit in such manner as may be required and prescribed by the department.

No number plate or emblem obtained under the provisions of this act is, or shall be, transferable. Any and all number plates or emblems so obtained from said department shall remain the property of the State of California, upon the dissolution, revocation or other termination of the permit, under which said number plates or emblems are obtained, and number plates or emblems shall be instantly returned to said department. It is hereby expressly made the duty of all (1) officers and employees of the commission and (2) police officers of the State of California and of all counties, cities and counties and municipalities thereof and of all officers of this State, and of all counties, cities and counties and municipalities thereof, charged with the duty to enforce laws respecting the use and occupancy of motor vehicles upon the highways to forthwith seize any and all of said number plates and emblems upon a showing that the permit under which said number plates or emblems was obtained has been suspended, revoked or otherwise terminated. No transfer of the registered ownership of a vehicle bearing number plates or emblems obtained and placed, or required to be placed, thereon, pending the revocation of this permit shall be effective, or permitted or authorized by the department under any provision of the Vehicle Code, until the transferor has surrendered said number plates or emblems to the department. It shall be deemed for all intents, as defined in the Vehicle Code, or any person or corporation to whom, and in exchange any vehicle bearing the number plates or emblems provided for in this act until said number plates or emblems thereon have been so surrendered to the department.

Said department shall change and correct from provisions provided in these number plates or emblems under the provisions of this act, the provisions now in the State of the design, material, shape and distribution of said number plates or emblems.

It shall be unlawful from and after the effective date of this act for any person or corporation to operate any motor vehicle for the transportation of persons for hire or compensation upon the public highways of this State without first obtaining the permit provided for in section 9 of this act and having displayed upon said motor vehicle the number plates or emblems required to be displayed thereon by this act.

SEC. 14. No permit or any renewal thereof shall remain in effect beyond the end of the calendar year in which it is issued, but said commission may renew any permit at the end of each calendar year upon written request therefor, and upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars ($10), but such renewal shall not affect the power of such commission to amend or revoke any such permit as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 15. No permit shall be issued to any one other than the registered owner of the vehicle or vehicles to which it applies. Except as otherwise provided herein, no permit may include any number of vehicles of two types, purposes or models. The commission shall have authority to amend any permit from time to time to apply to or cover the substitution of vehicles described and provided in said permit.

SEC. 16. Except as otherwise provided herein, any such permit may be amended from time to time by the commission, or the same may be revoked when the commission shall at any time after the issuance of such permit after investigation determine that the conditions have become such that the commission and such permit is no longer consistent with the provisions of section 9 of this act, and said commission may revoke any such permit for violation of any of the terms and conditions thereof, or because of any unlawful operation, operation in violation of any change of operation, or method of operation, thereon. No such permit shall be amended or revoked, however, without the consent of the holder thereof unless the commission first shall have given the holder thereof not less than ten days notice in writing of its intention to so amend or revoke such permit, and shall have stated in such written notice the ground or grounds for amendment or revocation of such permit, and the effective date of any such intended amendment or revocation.

If the holder of such permit shall, five days or more prior to such effective date, file a written demand with the commission for a permit bearing in the number of any such intended amendment or revocation, then any such amendment or revocation shall not be effective until said commission shall first have held a public hearing in respect thereto.

SEC. 17. No such permit shall be issued unless and until the applicant therefor shall file with said commission a good and sufficient policy of insurance issued by an insurance company authorized to issue public liability and property damage insurance in this State, guaranteeing payment to the public for any loss or damage proximately caused by the negligence or willful misconduct of such motor carrier of passengers, its servants or agents, of not less than the following amounts to wit: For each motor vehicle having seating capacity of not more than 12 passengers,...

... minimum of $5,000 coverage for injury to any one person and $15,000 for any one accident.

For each motor vehicle having seating capacity between 12 and 20 passengers . . . minimum of $5,000 coverage for injury to any one person and $25,000 for any one accident.

For each motor vehicle having seating capacity between 20 and 30 passengers . . . minimum of $5,000 coverage for injury to any one person and $40,000 for any one accident.

For each motor vehicle having seating capacity in excess of 30 passengers . . . minimum of $5,000 coverage for any injury to any one person and $50,000 for any one accident.

For each motor vehicle, to cover damage to property, including damage to passengers, but excluding other property carried by such vehicle . . . minimum of $2,000 coverage.

All such policies of insurance shall provide guarantee of payment of all loss or damage caused as aforesaid by any such vehicle operated upon the highways of this State in the conduct of the business of a motor carrier of passengers therein, namely, whether or not such vehicle be specified in such policy, and shall be for the benefit of and subject to immediate suit or action thereon by any person who shall sustain actual injury or loss of property thereby, notwithstanding any provision in said policy to the contrary; in every such policy of insurance so given it shall, in any suit or action, be conclusively presumed to have been given in accordance with and retain all the provisions of this act. No such permit shall be valid and operative until such insurance policy herein named has been filed with and approved by the Railroad Commission, and no such insurance policy herein named so filed and approved, shall be canceled by the company issuing same except upon and after ten days notice in writing to said Railroad Commission. Upon such notice being given by the company issuing such insurance policy, the permit of the person giving such insurance policy shall be revoked unless a new insurance policy shall be filed with and approved by the Railroad Commission before the date upon which such cancellation became effective. All insurance policies executed and presented pursuant hereto, except those covering the operations of motor carriers of passengers holding seasonal certificates only, shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year and at no other time. Renewal of all such policies shall be filed with the Railroad Commission not later than ten days prior to such expiration date. Upon failure to file such renewal, or a new policy, the Railroad Commission shall forthwith suspend the permit of said defaulting carrier of passengers until such policy be filed.

SEC. 18. Every motor carrier of passengers at the time of filing application for permit shall also file with the commission a separate appointment in writing of each and every agent who is, or upon the granting of a permit to applicant is to be, authorized by applicant to sell, or offer for sale, or negotiate with passengers for the sale of or contract with passengers for the providing of transportation in or on the vehicles of applicant. Each such appointment shall specify the name and address of the agent therein appointed. Each such appointment, among such other things as may be required by the commission, shall expressly provide that applicant agrees that the acts, or verbal or written contracts for transportation of passengers, or any of them, that such agent does, or makes, while engaged in selling, or offering for sale, or negotiating with passengers for the sale of transportation, or contracting for the transportation of passengers, in or on the vehicles of applicant, shall be of the same lawful force and validity as if such acts, or verbal or written contracts for the transportation of passengers, or negotiations with passengers for the sale of transportation, or any of them, had been done or made by applicant. No partnership or corporation shall be appointed as agent; only natural persons shall be appointed as agents, as herein provided.

Each such appointment shall stipulate and agree that the appointment of the therein named agent, and each provision of such appointment, shall continue in force until the substitution of another agent therefor or other written revocation of such agency; provided, however, that such substitution or revocation, or any revocation or termination of such agency, shall not affect or terminate any liability incurred by applicant by reason of any acts, or verbal or written contracts for transportation of passengers, or any of them, done, or made by said agent during the existence of such agency.

Every agent acting as such for a motor carrier of passengers, as in this act provided, shall at all times keep, both on his person and in his place of business, a certified copy of his appointment as such agent, which said copies, and each and all of them, shall be certified by the commission as true and correct copies of the original appointment in the files of the commission; upon demand of any passenger, or any prospective passenger, said agent shall exhibit said appointment and failure or refusal to so exhibit shall constitute a violation of this act.

Suspension, termination, or revocation of any permit shall suspend, terminate, or revoke, as the case might be, all appointments of agents made thereunder; provided, however, that upon the suspension of any permit issued hereunder the motor carrier of passengers to whom said permit was issued shall be responsible for any sale or transportation in or on the vehicle of said motor carrier of passengers when said sale is made by any agent of said motor carrier of passengers during the continuance of said suspension. Unless otherwise provided by law, no agent, agent of any permit shall also renew all appointments of agents then made and existing under said permit.

Each such appointment filed with an appeal shall be a permit, and each appointment filed after the granting of a permit shall be a certificate, and shall be accompanied by a filing fee of one dollar ($1.00).

It shall be unlawful for any motor carrier of passengers to transport and transporter or passengers over the public highways of this State the day after the expiration unless the transportation of such passenger or passengers in or on the motor vehicle or motor vehicles of said motor carrier of passengers was said, as offered for sale or contracted for with such passenger or passengers either by said motor carrier of passengers or by an agent of said motor carrier of passengers, which said agent was duly authorized at the time of such sale, offer or contract to be made or such agent as in this section provided.

SEC. 19. Every motor carrier of passengers at the time of filing of appeal for permit shall also file with the Railroad Commission an appointment in writing of some agent resident within this State upon whom all orders of said commission and all process of suits brought against such carrier may be served. Such appointment shall specify the address of such agent, shall stipulate and agree that any action or process against such motor carrier of passengers shall be served on such agent and that he of the same lawful force and validity as if such action or process were served in person within this State, and that such authority shall continue in force until the substitution of another agent, by filing with said commission a similar appointment of substitute agent, or until all liability against such motor carrier of passengers carrying out the operations of business performed by it in this State has terminated. A copy of such appointment with original bearing the signature of the carrier shall be accepted as sufficient evidence thereof by all courts in this State. Service upon such agent of any order of the Railroad Commission, and of all lawful processes of any court, shall have the same force and effect as if such process had been made in person upon said motor carrier of passengers within this State.

The operation on any public highways of this State of any motor carrier of any motor carrier of passengers then engaged in the business subject to the provisions of this act, requires the appointment of an agent, as provided herein, and the failure of any such motor carrier of passengers to appoint in the manner herein provided a substitute of any agent theretofore appointed within ten days from and after the death, concealment in this State or removal from the State, of such previously appointed agent shall be deemed constituting an appointment of such motor carrier of passengers of the Secretary of State of the State of California, or successor in office, as the true and lawful address upon whom may be served all orders of said Railroad Commission and all lawful processes of any court in this State of any action or process against such motor carrier of passengers, due to any accident, collision or transaction in which such motor carrier of passengers shall be involved while so operating in this State. Service of such order or process upon the said Secretary of State, shall, under the conditions as set forth, have the same force and effect as if such carrier had been personally served with the same within this State, provided that said Secretary of State shall forthwith forward such order or process by registered mail to said motor carrier of passengers at the address specified in its latest designation, in accordance with the Railroad Commission, or to the last known address of such person that has been filed with said commission. The certificate of the Secretary of State of such mailing shall be attached to the return service of such process and shall be accepted as proof of personal service. The Secretary of State shall be paid a fee of $5.00 for each process of court so served upon him, which shall be assessed as part of the cost of any action when such service is made. No fee shall be charged for such service of any order of said Railroad Commission.

SEC. 20. The commission is hereby vested with power and authority, to require all motor carriers of passengers to keep accounts in accordance with such classification of accounts and rules in respect thereto as may be established by the commission from time to time, and to the such reports and to furnish the commission with such data concerning their business and practices as the commission may from time to time prescribe. Such accounts shall be open to the inspection of the commission or its representatives at all time.

SEC. 21. Neither this act, nor any provision hereof, shall apply or be construed as a regulation of commerce with foreign nations or among the several States, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the Constitution and the acts of Congress of the United States.

SEC. 22. Every motor carrier of passengers to which this act applies, and every person acting for himself or as the agent of any other person or corporation who violates, or procures, aids or abets in any violation of, any provision of this act, or fails to comply with any order, decision, regulation or permit issued by the Railroad Commission, shall, upon

First conviction, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed $500.00, or by imprisonment in a county jail for a term not to exceed six months or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court; or, if a corporation, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $1,000.00; and for the second and subsequent offenses thereof shall, upon conviction therefor, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed $1,000.00 or by imprisonment in a county jail for a term not to exceed one year or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court; or, if a corporation, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $4,500.00. Each day's violation of this act, and each day's failure to comply with any order, decision, or regulation of the Railroad Commission shall constitute a separate offense for the purpose of this act.

One act of the nature herein set forth shall constitute the person, firm or corporation doing and committing such act, a motor carrier of passengers within the meaning of this act.

SEC. 23. When a complaint has been filed with the commission alleging that any vehicle is being operated in the service of a motor carrier of passengers without a permit as required by this act, or in violation of any permit issued pursuant to this act, or when the commission has reason to believe that this act is being violated, or that any permit issued pursuant to this act is being violated, it shall be the duty of the commission to investigate such operations; and the commission shall have power to make its order requiring the owner or operator of such vehicle to cease and desist from any operation in violation of this act; and it shall be the duty of the commission to enforce compliance with such order under the powers vested in it under this act or by law.

It shall be the duty of the commission upon the issuance of any such order to cease and desist, or upon the suspension or revocation of any permit issued under this act, to forthwith give written notice thereof to the Department of Motor Vehicles and to the State Board of Equalization, and both of them. It shall be the duty of said board to forthwith suspend any license or licenses issued by said board to the persons, firms or corporations named in said cease and desist order or in said order suspending or revoking any permit issued under this act, and said board shall forthwith notify said department of such suspension. Said board and said department shall forthwith take such steps as are provided for under the provisions of Chapter 339, Statutes of California, 1933, as amended, upon suspension of a license issued thereunder; provided, however, that said board shall not reinstate the license of any person or corporation so named in such cease and desist order or such order suspending or revoking such permit unless the Railroad Commission shall first find, after hearing, that the operation of motor vehicles for hire under such proposed reinstated license will not be in violation of, or an evasion of, its said order, or in violation of this act. No person or corporation who has been ordered by the commission to cease and desist the violation of this act shall be issued a license by the said board under the provisions of said Chapter 339, as amended, or any similar law, unless the commission shall first find, after hearing, that the operation of motor vehicles for hire under such proposed license will not be in violation of, or evasion of, the commission's said order, or in violation of this act.

SEC. 24. (a) The commission is hereby authorized to employ such forces as it may require to aid in the enforcement of this act; and any representative of the commission shall have all lawful powers of peace officers to make arrests for any violation of this act. It shall further be the duty of (1) the commission and all officers and employees thereof, and (2) of all peace officers of State, county and/or municipalities and (3) of all officers of this State, and of all counties and municipalities, charged with the duty to enforce laws respecting the use or operation of vehicles upon highways, to enforce the provisions of this act. (b) All penalties and/or punishments accruing under this act shall be cumulative of each other, and a suit for the recovery of one penalty shall not be a bar to or affect the recovery of any other penalty or forfeiture or be a bar to any criminal prosecution against any motor carrier of passengers, or any officer, director, agent or employee thereof, or any other corporation or person, or be a bar to the exercise by the Railroad Commission of its power to revoke, amend or annul permits or of its power to punish for contempt.

SEC. 25. In all respects in which the Railroad Commission has power and authority under the Constitution of this State or this act, applications and complaints may be made and filed with the Railroad Commission, process issued, hearings held, opinions, orders and decisions made and filed, petitions for rehearing filed and acted upon, and petitions for writs of review or mandate filed with the Supreme Court of this State, considered and disposed of by said court, in regard to the matters provided for in this act, in the same manner, under the same conditions and subject to the same limitations and with the same effect specified in the Public Utilities Act, so far as applicable.

SEC. 26. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, if any motor carrier of passengers violates any provisions of this act, or any rule, regulation requirement, or order thereunder, or any term or condition of any permit, any person or corporation may apply to the superior court of the State of California in and for any county where such motor carrier of passengers is or is operating, for the enforcement of such provision of this act, or of such rule, regulation, requirement, order, term, or condition; and such court shall have jurisdiction to enforce obedience thereto by a temporary restraining order, or temporary injunction, or permanent injunction, or by other process, injunctive or otherwise, restraining such motor carrier of passengers, his or its officers, agents, employees, and representatives from further violation of such provisions of this act, or of such rule, regulation, requirement, order, term, or condition and enforcing upon it or them obedience thereto; provided, however, that the jurisdiction granted in this section shall continue only until the commission has assumed jurisdiction of the facts and issues raised in the petition for such injunction and until such commission has made an order on such facts and issues, and any such restraining order, temporary injunction or permanent injunction so issued by said superior court shall, in its terms, terminate upon the effective date of an order of the commission based on the facts and issues raised in the petition for such injunction.

Except as otherwise provided in this section 24, all of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, and of the Civil Code, applying to temporary restraining orders, temporary injunctions, and permanent injunctions shall apply to this section.

SEC. 27. (a) The pendency of a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order or decision of the commission, but during the pendency of such writ, the Supreme Court in its discretion may stay or suspend in whole or in part, the operation of the commission's order or decision.

(b) No order so staying or suspending an order or decision of the commission shall be made by the Supreme Court otherwise than upon three days notice and after hearing, and if the order or decision of the commission is suspended, the order suspending the same shall contain a specific finding based upon evidence submitted to the court and identified by reference thereto, that great or irreparable damage would otherwise result to the petitioner and specifying the nature of the damage.

(c) In case the order or decision of the commission is stayed or suspended, the order of the court shall not become effective until a restraining writ shall first have been executed and filed with, and approved by the commission, the approval, on review, by the Supreme Court, payable to the people of the State of California, and sufficient in amount and security to insure the prompt payment by the party petitioning for the review, of all damages caused by the delay in the enforcement of the order or decision of the commission.

SEC. 28. All actions and proceedings under this act, and all motions or proceedings to which the commission or the people of the State of California may be parties, and in which any question arises under this act, or under or concerning any order or decision of the commission, shall be preferred upon (1) notice and (2) causes except election causes and shall be heard and determined in preference to all other civil business except election causes, irrespective of location on the calendar. The same preference shall be granted upon application, at the attorney of the commission in any action or proceeding in which he may be allowed to intervene.

SEC. 29. If any section, subsection, clause, or phrase of this act shall for any reason be held to be void or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this act, it being the intention of the Legislature to adopt and pass this act and each section, subsection, clause or phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that one or more of the sections, subsections, clauses, sentences or phrases thereof may be declared void or unconstitutional."

3817. In all cases where real estate has been sold, or may hereafter be sold to the State for delinquent taxes and the State has not disposed of the same, the person whose estate has been or may hereafter be sold, his heirs, executors, administrators or other successors in interest shall, at any time after the same has been sold to the State and before the State shall have disposed of the same, have the right to redeem such real estate by paying to the county treasurer of the county wherein the real estate may be situated, the amount of taxes, penalties for delinquency, and costs due thereon at the time of such sale, and also all taxes that were a lien upon said real property at the time said taxes became delinquent; and also all unpaid taxes of every description which are a lien against the property, for each year since the sale, as shown on the delinquent assessment rolls in the then permanent custody of the county auditor; or, if not so assessed, then upon the value of the property as fixed by the assessor under section 3817m and also all costs and expenses of such redemption, and penalties as follows, to wit:

One per cent per month, if redeemed within five years from July first of the year of sale; if not redeemed within five years from July first of the year of sale, one per cent per month for a period of five years and at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month thereafter to the time of redemption.

The penalty shall be computed beginning July first of the year of sale upon the amount of taxes delinquent at the time of sale, and upon the amount of each year's taxes in like manner, beginning the first day of July of the year when the property would have been sold for the taxes of that year, if there had been no previous sale.

The county auditor shall, on the application of the person desiring to redeem, make an estimate of the amount to be paid, and shall give him triplicate certificates of the amount, specifying the several amounts thereof, which certificates the redemptioner shall deliver to the county treasurer, together with the money, and the county treasurer shall give triplicate receipts, written or indorsed upon said certificates, one to the redemptioner, and two to the county auditor, who shall deliver one of the said receipts to the State Controller.

Upon consummation of the redemption and the delivery of the receipts aforesaid by the treasurer, the auditor shall report the same to the assessor, tax collector and recorder, and the recorder shall, without payment of fee, note on the margin of the record of the certificate of sale, or deed, if issued, the fact of such redemption, the date thereof, and by whom redeemed, which certificate of sale, or deed, shall become null and void, and all right, title and interest acquired by virtue of the tax sale, shall cease and determine.

The county treasurer shall settle for the moneys received as for other State and county moneys.

The State Controller shall, upon request of the auditor, issue a receipt which may be recorded in the recorder's office of the county in which said real estate is situated, in the book of deeds, and the record thereof shall have the same effect as that of a deed of reconveyance of the interest conveyed by such deed or certificate of sale.

This section shall also apply to State lands sold by the State when the full amount of the purchase price has not been paid to the State therefor, after the deed to the State, provided for in section 3785 has been filed with the Surveyor General, provided, however, that one of the receipts showing the redemption of such land shall be delivered to the Surveyor General who shall issue his receipt to the redemptioner, and provided further, that no certificates of redemption shall be issued by the county auditor until he has first ascertained from the Surveyor General that the land has not been disposed of by the State."

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and it is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety that this law shall go into immediate effect, and therefore this act shall become effective immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: The School Code was amended by the Legislature at its 1935 session to permit governing boards of school districts to discharge teachers who have reached the age of sixty-five years, which amendment will become effective September 1, 1937. Many boards of education desire to take advantage of the provisions of said amendment, and to avoid hardships which will follow the discharge of many teachers aged sixty-five years or more and to avoid the possibility of placing such teachers and their families and dependents on relief rolls of their respective counties, such boards desire to establish district retirement plans for their employees, as authorized herein. This act requires that the establishment of such plan be submitted to the vote of the people of the school district, and many municipal and school district elections are to be held during the months of April and May, 1937, at which such propositions can be submitted to the voters of the respective districts, at a large saving to the taxpayers of the respective districts.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 3. The Legislature hereby declares that it deems it necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety that this act shall, under the provisions of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

One irrigation district which is governed by the provisions of this act is in immediate need of funds to continue its work. Certain persons construe section 4c of this act to apply to contracts by which such funds are to be raised. If section 4c is so applied, there will be a delay resulting either from litigation to prove the true meaning of section 4c or due to time necessary under section 4c for publication and the possible election, which would result in the district not getting the necessary funds until it is too late to use such funds for the purposes necessary. This would result in the irrigation district being unable to carry on its necessary functions for this year, thus directly affecting the peace, health and safety of the inhabitants of the irrigation district.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The statement of facts constituting such emergency is as follows:

The economic conditions of fluid milk producers throughout the State are such as to require immediate relief if their purchasing power and marketing ability are to continue and their morale and standard of living are not to be depressed. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: Due to the widespread depression, many taxpayers have been unable to pay their taxes, or to redeem their property from sale to the State for delinquency. By permitting redemption without penalties, many taxpayers will be enabled to redeem their property, restore the same to the tax rolls, and thereby add revenue for the operation and maintenance of government. It is also necessary in order to redeem much of this property which does not at the present time appear on the assessment rolls that it be assessed according to present day values. If this is not done immediately taxpayers whose property does not now appear on the assessment rolls will be unable to take advantage of the rights granted by this act.

Section Digest and Analysis of Senate Bill No. 309.

The following section digest and analysis of Senate Bill No. 309, as amended April 6, 1937, prepared by the Legislative Counsel Bureau, was presented by Senator Young, and on motion of Senator McGovern, ordered printed in the Journal:

In this digest the provisions of the bill have been considered (except as otherwise indicated) in relation to the provisions of the State Civil Service Act (Deering Act No. 1400 of Deering's General Laws, Edition of 1931). In so doing we have indicated in many instances that the text of Act No. 1400 uses the designation "commission" in defining functions and in vesting powers and duties.

It should be noted in this connection that during the period 1921-1925, and again from 1927 to date, there has been and is a clause in section 2 of Act No. 1400 declaring that as to certain matters the word "commission" as used in that act means the executive member of the commission. As expressed in the 1929 amendment to said section 2 this clause reads as follows:

"The names, "commission" and "commissioner" as used in the Civil Service Act shall be construed to mean and apply to the Executive Member in whom in all respects the duties, powers and functions now conferred upon the Civil Service Commission, commissioner or commissioners are vested and conferred except that the enactment of the rules and regulations of the commission, the creation and adjustment of classifications, and grades, exemptions of positions from under the Civil Service Act as permitted by law and dismissals, demotions, or other punitive actions placed in the control of the commission shall be the duty of and be controlled by the members of the commission and the votes of two commissioners shall be required to make any action of the commission effective."

It should be noted also that section 686 added to the Political Code in 1929 created the position of Chief of the Division of Personnel and Organization in the Department of Finance and declared that:

"The Chief of the Division of Personnel and Organization shall perform the duties imposed upon the executive member of the commission as provided in the Civil Service Act . . . ."

This was followed in 1934 by the adoption of Article XXIV of the Constitution, subdivision (a) of section 3 of which reads as follows:

"Said board" (the State Personnel Board) shall administer and enforce, and is vested with all of the powers, duties, purposes, functions and jurisdiction which are now or hereafter may be vested in like other State clubs or agency, under Chapter 590 of the California Statutes of 1913 as amended or any and all other laws relating to the State civil service as said laws may now exist or may hereafter be enacted, amended or repealed by the Legislature."

Subdivision (c) of section 2 of said Article XXIV of the Constitution in turn creates the position of Executive Officer of the State Personnel Board and declares as follows:

"Said Executive Officer shall perform and discharge all of the powers, duties, purposes, functions and jurisdiction imposed on such Executive Officer by law may be vested in the board except that the creation of new and positions, the creation and adjustment of classifications and grades, and discipline, demotions, suspensions and other punitive action for or in the State civil service shall be and remain the duty of the board and a duty of responsibility of the members of said board shall be required to make any action with respect thereto effective."

Article 1. PURPOSES OF THE ACT.

SECTION 1 is merely a statement of the purposes of the act and conforms to substantive law.

Article 2. WORDS AND PHRASES DEFINED.

SECTIONS 2 to 25, inclusive, are definitions of words used in the act.

Article 3. GENERAL ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS OF THE STATE PERSONNEL AGENCY.

SECTION 30. Retains the present rate of $4000 per year for the compensation of board members, but limits such compensation to two thousand dollars per year per board member, and leaves the existing members to attend and necessary traveling expenses, whereas the present law (D. A. 1400, section 2, paragraph 2) contains no such limitation and makes no distinction between members and ex officio members receiving the stated $15 per each day necessary engaged in the duties of the board.

SECTION 31. Provides for the appointment of an executive officer by the board. The present law (D. A. 1400, section 2, paragraph 3) provides for the designation by the Governor of one of the commission members to act as the executive member of the commission. However, by section 686 of the Political Code, there was created a Chief of the Division of Personnel and Organization, who is comparable to the executive officer. The change made by section 31 is in direct accordance with section 2 (c) of Article XXIV.

Section 31 also provides that the board may appoint and fix the compensation of a confidential secretary and other authorized representatives and referees necessary to conduct public hearings, etc., whereas, D. A. 1400, section 3, allows the board not only to appoint a secretary, but also to appoint a Chief Examiner and allows these two positions to be confidential, and to appoint other necessary employees.

SECTION 32. Gives the executive officer the power to appoint, subject to civil service, the necessary employees to carry out the provisions of the act. These appointments are by D. A. 1400, section 3, vested in the commission.

SECTION 33. Is in substance the same as D. A. 1400, section 3, with the exception that the latter limits the compensation of examination assistants other than specialists and experts, to $5 per day.

SECTION 34. Provides for offices of the board and the executive officer. It is substantially the same as D. A. 1400, section 4, with the exception that the latter only authorizes the securing of offices in the city of Sacramento, whereas section 34 authorizes such to be secured in localities throughout the State wherever they are required, and places the headquarters in Sacramento.

SECTION 35. Provides that the board meet in Sacramento and other places as often as the needs of public service require, to hold public meetings and to hear interested parties. D. A. 1400, section 5, paragraph 9, is substantially the same.

SECTION 36. Subsections (a), (b) and (c) enumerate the powers and duties of the board. The first three (rule making, adjusting classes, and punitive actions) are specifically placed in the board by Article XXIV. The same powers and duties are vested in the commission by D. A. 1400, section 5, as follows: rule making, third paragraph; adjusting classes, first paragraph; punitive actions, fifth paragraph.

Subsections (d) and (e) give the board power to make investigations and biennial reports. D. A. 1400, section 5, paragraphs 6 and 8, provided for these powers.

Subsection (f) is new and gives the board power to hear appeals from actions taken by the executive officer.

SECTION 37. Enumerates specifically the powers and duties of the executive officer. This section in addition requires him to attend meetings of the board and to act as its technical adviser.

Subsection (c) which requires the executive officer to maintain an official roster, is a power and duty given the commission under D. A. 1400, section 16.

SECTION 38. Is new, authorizing the courts to take judicial notice of the rules of the board.

SECTION 39. Is new, authorizing the board and executive officer to join associations of public personnel agencies.

SECTION 40. Provides for the prosecution of violations of the act and authorizes the Attorney General to appoint a special prosecutor upon request of the board or executive officer. D. A. 1400, section 6, provides substantially the same, but also gives the commission power to employ special counsel—latter superseded by § 473a, Political Code.

SECTIONS 41 to 50, inclusive. Deal with investigations and hearings by the board and are substantially the same as the provisions of D. A. 1400, section 5, paragraph 6.

SECTION 51. Provides that immunity from prosecution must be claimed by a witness before testifying if he wishes to be afforded that protection. D. A. 1400, section 5, seventh, paragraph 3, makes immunity from prosecution automatic, but see In re Connolly, 87 C. H. D. 129.

SECTION 52. Provides that persons committing perjury in testimony before board hearings and investigations are not to be exempted from prosecution or punishment for such perjury. The same provision is made in D. A. 1400, section 6, seventh, paragraph 3.

SECTION 53. Provides that nothing contained in the act to be construed as giving any person immunity of any kind other than that which is expressly provided in the act. D. A. 1400, section 6, seventh, paragraph 3, makes the same provision.

SECTION 54. Is new, and provides a statute of limitations of one year for any actions brought under or because of the civil service law or the administration thereunder, and also provides that no person shall be compensated for time subsequent to the date when the cause of action, etc., arises, unless such is filed within 90 days after that date. In other words, it places a limitation of 90 days in which to recover back pay. D. A. 1400 provides no general statute of limitations, but has a similar provision in lay-off cases.

SECTION 55. Is new, and provides the officers upon whom process may be served.

SECTION 56. Provides a duty of all State officers and employees to aid and assist in all proper ways in carrying out the provisions of the act. D. A. 1400, section 6, provides substantially the same.

SECTION 57. Is new, and authorizes the executive officer, with the approval of the board, to enter into agreements to make the services and facilities of the State Personnel Agency available, upon request, to the political subdivisions of the State and State agencies not in Civil Service. D. A. 1400, section 71, authorizes such agreements only as to fire protection districts.

SECTION 58. Is new, and authorizes the executive officer to enter into agreements with personnel agencies of other districts for exchange of service and effecting transfer of employees.

SECTION 59. Is new, and brings employees and officers directly appointed by the Attorney General into the State civil service system, except special agents and investigators.

Article 4. CLASSIFICATION.

SECTION 60. Places the duty upon the board to create and adjust classes of positions. This duty is set forth in D. A. 1400, section 5, first.

SECTION 61. Provides for the allocation by the executive officer of State Civil Service positions to appropriate classes in the classification plan, apparently in the commission under D. A. 1400, section 5, first.

SECTION 62. Provides the power of the board to alter, divide, abolish, etc., existing classes. This is provided by D. A. 1400, section 5, first.

SECTION 63. Provides on allocation or reallocation employee to assume classification title of his position.

SECTION 64. Is new, and provides that any employee whose position is reclassified or reallocated shall not be affected as to salary, unless his salary is higher than the maximum salary of the class to which his position is reclassified, in which case his salary should be reduced not lower than such maximum. It also provides that a person whose position is so reclassified or reallocated is eligible for a vacant position in the class to which his former position was allocated if the class is retained, or if not, to a vacant position in a comparable class, and if there is no such vacant position, then he is to be placed on the departmental and general reassignment list. D. A. 1400, section 5, provides persons holding positions under original classification, shall not be affected by such change.

SECTION 65. Provides that the appointing powers shall generally pursue their intention to establish new positions so that they can be eliminated and classified and to also report material changes in the duties of any position to their jurisdiction. This requirement is now provided by Rule 21 of the board of rules.

SECTION 66. Is new, and provides that the approved classification title is to be used in all personnel communications and budget and financial records.

Article 5. COMPENSATION

SECTION 70. Provides the duty of the board to establish and adjust salary ranges for each class. A somewhat similar power is provided for the commission in D. A. 1400, section 5, first. Section 70 provides that in establishing such consideration is to be given to the prevailing wages for comparable services in other public employment and private business, the cost of living and the State's financial condition.

Section 70 also provides for the fixing by the board of intermediate steps in the salary ranges which are to govern the salary adjustments that an employee may receive at any one time and provides that an employee after one year of service, is to automatically receive the salary adjustment that his service rating entitles him to, and that the employee shall continue to receive such adjustments each year until he reaches the maximum salary provided for each class. It provides that a right to such adjustments shall be cumulative for a period not to exceed two years and that an employee in event of an insufficiency of appropriation, shall not lose his right to the adjustments for the intermediate steps to which he may be entitled for each such period or periods. It provides that salary adjustment shall not be made in any given instance if the Director of Finance certifies to the board that there is not sufficient money available for that purpose in the appropriation from which such salaries must be paid. Salary adjustments are provided for in D. A. 1400, section 5, first, but it provides no such system as is provided in section 70 there being merely the provision that the commission shall prepare by rule for the advancement of salary within each grade on the basis of efficiency and length of service.

SECTION 71. Provides that the salary ranges for laborers, etc., need not be uniform throughout the State, but that the minimum salary ranges for such positions is not to be fixed below the prevailing wage of the locality for which such rate is established. D. A. 1400, section 15, gives the commission power to establish separate registration lists for different localities as relates to laborers; there is no limitation placed on the commission that such rates be not lower than the minimum paid in the locality for which the list is established.

Article 6. SELECTION AND PROMOTION

SECTION 80. Provides for appointments to vacancies to be made from eligible lists and as far as possible to be made by promotion of persons holding positions in lower classes. It also provides for the establishment by the executive officer of promotional eligible lists. Substantially the same is provided in D. A. 1400, sections 9 and 13.

SECTION 81. Provides for establishment of eligible lists. Substantially the same power is given to the commission by D. A. 1400, section 5, second.

SECTION 82. Provides the board may by rule limit the competition in promotional examinations to permanent status employees who have superior classifications and hold positions in classes designated by the executive officer as appropriate for promotional purposes. D. A. 1400, section 13, limits such examinations to persons holding positions in a lower grade of the department or office in which the vacancy exists.

- SECTION 91. Is new and permits the Executive Officer to divide the State into districts and establish district eligible lists.
- SECTION 92. Provides for the establishment of reemployment lists by the Executive Officer. D. #### MEMORANDUM FOR HONORABLE THE CLERK.

IN RE SENATE BILL NO. 54.

This bill is designed to repeal 219 statutes enacted between the years 1852 and 1870, which statutes are now obsolete or have been superseded by later enactments.

These statutes relate to various courts of justice, which have been rendered obsolete by the adoption of the 1879 Constitution, under which we are now operating, such courts being the former county courts, district courts, sessions courts, and probate courts.

These statutes were recommended for repeal by the Code Commissioners of 1872, but on the last day of the 1871-2 legislative session, the repeal bill failed of passage in the Assembly because an objection was made to taking the bill up out of order.

These statutes have been carefully checked by the office of the Legislative Counsel, and it is the belief of that office that these 219 statutes and each of them is now obsolete. That office has on file a brief synopsis of each of these acts, together with a reference to the statutory or constitutional provision which supersedes each.

It should be noted that all of these statutes were enacted prior to the adoption of the 1879 Constitution and prior to the extensive code amendments made in 1880 to take care of the revised court structure set up by the 1879 Constitution.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

The Unified School District Law enacted in 1935 (Chapter 773, Statutes 1935, adding School Code sections 2.2000-2.2160) provided that in unified school districts having an average daily attendance of fifteen hundred or less in the elementary schools of the district, funds apportioned by the State to such unified school districts for the supervision of instruction in such districts should be apportioned to the county elementary school supervision fund. This provision, in effect, prevented such districts from maintaining their own elementary school supervision program by depriving the districts of funds therefor. The provisions of this act have the effect of providing that all funds apportioned to any unified school by the State for supervision of instruction in the elementary schools of unified school districts shall be apportioned directly to the district, thus enabling such districts to maintain their own elementary school supervision programs. This act is deemed desirable by all unified school districts affected. It does not in any way affect the amount of State funds apportioned.

Inasmuch as this act to be effective during the school year commencing July 1, 1937, must take effect prior to the apportionment of State funds for school support during that school year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

Communication.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 10, 1937

*Honorable George J. Hatfield, President of the Senate,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

Subject: THE ENGROSSED BILL AND THE JOINT RULES.

MR. PRESIDENT: This supersedes our opinion of April 8, 1937, in relation to the conclusive effect, in one house of the Legislature, of an engrossed bill of the other house duly certified by the appropriate officers of the latter.

We were therein discussing a matter not embraced within the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

As to a point of order made in the Senate or Assembly, based upon an asserted violation of a Joint Rule in the other house, it is our opinion that the engrossed bill would not bar inquiry into the matter.

We rest this opinion upon Joint Rule No. 35 of this 1937 session, which rule in part declares as follows:

"If either house shall violate a Joint Rule a question of order may be raised in the other house and decided in the same manner as in the case of the violation of the Rules of such house; and if it shall be decided that the Joint Rules have been violated, the bill involving such violations shall be returned to the house in which it originated, and such disputed matter be considered in like manner as in Free Conference Committee. The presiding officers of each house shall appoint committees in like manner and with like power of Free Conference Committees."

This we believe is in effect an agreement by each house that the other house may inquire into and consider what action the other house took when the issue is an asserted violation of one of the Joint Rules, and that in doing so it will not be precluded therefrom by the fact that the bill of the house of origin has been engrossed and duly certified as engrossed.

A precedent is furnished by the action taken in 1933 in relation to Assembly Bill No. 289, then pending. It had been amended in the Assembly in a manner not germane to the bill as introduced.

When the bill was before the Senate for consideration a point of order was raised, predicated upon violation, in the Assembly, of Joint Rule No. 9, the rule requiring amendments to be germane.

Upon inquiry it was determined that the Assembly amendment to the bill was not germane, that Joint Rule No. 9 had been violated, and the President of the Senate so ruled, the Journal entry reading as follows:

"The President of the Senate ruled that Assembly Bill No. 289 could not be considered further, because the bill was in conflict with Joint Rule No. 9.

The Secretary was directed to inform the Assembly that Assembly Bill No. 289 would not be considered further." (Senate Journal, 1933, page 3065.)

That action was taken pursuant to Rule No. 46 of the Joint Rules of 1933, which read as follows:

"* * * If either house shall violate a Joint Rule a question of order may be raised in the other house and decided in the same manner as in the case of the violation of the rules of such house; and if it shall be decided that the Joint Rules have been violated, the bill involving such violations shall be returned to the house in which it originated, without further action.
* * *

That, in our opinion, furnishes a precedent for interpretation and application of 1937 Joint Rule No. 35, the only difference being the change in the action to be taken, or procedure to be followed, after decision that a joint rule has been violated.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Council.
